INTRODUCTION

GUIDE TO GOING GLOBAL SERIES

Many companies today aim to scale their businesses globally and into multiple countries simultaneously. In order to help clients meet this challenge, we have created a handy set of global guides that cover the basics companies need to know.

The Guide to Going Global series reviews business-relevant corporate, employment, intellectual property and technology, and tax laws in key jurisdictions around the world.

TAX

Multinational companies continue to expand globally at an ever faster pace. Successful expansion depends, in part, on strategic and effective tax planning and compliance. This guide, brought to you by DLA Piper’s Tax group summarizes the key features of tax laws in 36 popular jurisdictions.

This guide addresses common tax questions, by jurisdiction, including:

- Taxation of resident companies and nonresident companies
- Availability of tax holidays, rulings, and favorable tax regimes
- Ability to use losses to offset income
- Anti-deferral (ie CFC) rules
- Withholding taxes
- Employment tax issues

With more than 300 tax lawyers and economists in offices throughout the Americas, Europe and Asia Pacific, DLA Piper’s global tax advisory services help multinational companies address the complex challenges of international commerce and business operations as well as manage and resolve tax audits. Our global tax group also assists clients in structuring a wide range of transactions, from private equity deals to corporate acquisitions and disposals. We provide these tax services across our global platform, while at the same time offering clients the benefits of the attorney-client and work-product privileges.

The information in this guide is an accessible, high-level summary of the tax laws in each jurisdiction. This is not a substitute for legal or tax advice. If you have specific questions or require detailed advice, we encourage you to contact one of the attorneys listed in the contributors section of this guide.

We hope that you find this guide valuable and we welcome your feedback.
This publication is provided to you as a courtesy, and it does not establish a client relationship between DLA Piper and you, or any other person or entity that receives it.

This is a general reference document and should not be relied upon as legal advice. The application and effect of any law or regulation upon a particular situation can vary depending upon the specific facts and circumstances, and so you should consult with a lawyer regarding the impact of any of these regimes in any particular instance.

DLA Piper and any contributing law firms accept no liability for errors or omissions appearing in this publication and, in addition, DLA Piper accepts no liability at all for the content provided by the other contributing law firms. Please note that tax law is dynamic, and the legal regime in the countries surveyed could change.
ARGENTINA

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A company will be treated as an Argentina resident if it is formed in an Argentina jurisdiction.

Domestic

Resident companies, defined as those companies which are incorporated under the laws of Argentina, and permanent establishments of foreign companies, are subject to income tax on their worldwide income. A credit method for taxes paid on foreign source income is provided in the Argentine Income Tax Law to avoid double taxation if certain criteria are met.

Foreign

Non-resident companies with business income and no local presence in Argentina are subject to tax on their Argentine source income. Different effective withholding rates apply depending on certain factors, including if a double tax treaty is applicable.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

The taxable income of a corporation in Argentina is equal to all gross income minus applicable deductions.

Foreign

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX RATES

The income tax rate is 30% for fiscal years beginning in 2018 and 2019 and 25% starting in 2020.

TAX COMPLIANCE
Corporations and foreign company branches are required to make 10 monthly prepayments of tax, as from the 6th month of the fiscal year. Prepayment amounts are generally based on the tax paid in the preceding fiscal year.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

In certain cases, taxpayers may request a private letter resolution that applies only to the specific problem. That action is called "binding consultation" and is mandatory for the applicant.

Tax incentives

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CONSOLIDATION

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

If the property requirements are met, a deduction will be applied for dividends received from national corporations.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain recognized by a company is taxed at the same rate as ordinary income.

DISTRIBUTIONS

The distributions paid by a corporation are treated as dividends for the shareholders. Dividends are taxable at a rate of 13% (7% for use that will pay 30%).

LOSS UTILIZATION
Generally, losses may be carried forward for relief against future profits for a maximum of 5 years from the year in which the loss is incurred. Losses in respect of certain items, however, may only be offset against the same type of income. Carry-back of losses is not permitted.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Qualifying corporate formations, combinations and divisions may be tax-free for a participating corporation and its shareholders.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Subject to limitations, foreign tax credits are available for foreign taxes paid.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TRANSFER PRICING

In general, the principles of independence are applied to transactions between related entities. The rules of Argentina are similar in many respects to the OECD guidelines.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, etc

Withholding tax applies to dividends, royalties, interest, rents and other passive-type income paid by a domestic corporation to a non-resident person, subject to reduction or elimination by an applicable income tax treaty.

Service fees

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Stamp tax is charged on the value (as defined) of a number of specific transactions, including transfers of real estate, written contracts and deeds. Rates vary depending upon the jurisdiction.
EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold federal income tax. Employers also must pay social security tax and Medicare tax in respect of compensation paid to employees. These taxes are deductible by an employer in Argentina.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Tax incentives for businesses

Tax benefits are granted to encourage expenditures on scientific research and development in targeted industries, such as the software industry. The types of benefits for qualifying businesses can cover a wide range. Examples include profits, tax relief and reductions in social security contributions.

Employment promotion

Qualifying employers may benefit from the following reductions in employer social security contributions:

- Up to 7 employees: 50%
- Up to 15 employees: 100% in the first year of employment and 75% in the second year
- 16 - 80 employees: 50% in the first 2 years of employment

Renewable energy investment

Companies investing in the generation of electricity from renewable sources may benefit from tax incentives such as accelerated depreciation, early reimbursement of VAT, 10-year carry forward of losses, exemption from minimum presumptive income tax for the first 8 years, and exemption from taxes on income or dividends on profits or dividends reinvested in new infrastructure projects.

Micro, small and medium enterprises (MSMEs)

Qualifying MSMEs carrying out a productive investment between July 1, 2016 and December 31, 2018 may benefit from tax incentives, including a 10% tax credit on the value of the investment, deferred payment of income tax and early reimbursement of VAT.

Other tax incentives

Many provinces also offer incentives to invest, build and expand within their jurisdiction, and to encourage job creation. Incentives may include exemptions from certain provincial and municipal taxes, reduced public utility charges and infrastructure support.

AUSTRALIA

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A resident company is a company that is incorporated in Australia. It also includes a company that carries on its business in Australia and either its central management control is in Australia or its voting power is controlled by shareholders resident in Australia.

Domestic

A resident company is subject to income tax on all of its income and capital gain from sources anywhere in the world.

Foreign

A non-resident company is generally taxed only on income from Australian sources and capital gains recognized on taxable Australian property. A network of Double Taxation Agreements (DTA) operates to modify these rules including reducing the rate of withholding taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of a resident company is equal to assessable income less allowable deductions.

Foreign

Taxable income equals Australian-sourced income less allowable deductions incurred in respect of that income. Residents of countries that have a DTA with Australia are only subject to income taxes on business profits in Australia if they carry on business in Australia at or through a permanent establishment. There is no branch profits tax in Australia.

TAX RATES

Both resident companies and non-resident companies (with Australian-sourced income) are subject to income tax at the company tax rate of 30%, unless they qualify for a lower rate (27.5% for the 2017-18 income year) by satisfying specific requirements (ie, with an aggregated turnover less than the threshold (AUD 25 million for the 2017-18 income year) and satisfies the "carry on a business" test. The Australian Government has introduced legislation which, if enacted, will progressively reduce the overall corporate tax rate to 25% for the 2026-27 income year if certain requirements are satisfied.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Federal income tax returns must be lodged annually. The Australian tax year, or year of income, ends on June 30. A Substituted Accounting Period may be adopted as the income tax year with the written approval of the Commissioner.

Increased administrative penalties are imposed on entities with annual global income of AUD 1 billion or more that fail to adhere to tax disclosure and related obligations. The increased administrative penalties apply from July 1, 2017 and

- increased the maximum penalty to AUD 525,000 for multinational companies which fail to meet their reporting obligations and
- doubled the penalties relating to making false and misleading statements to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) with a view to discourage multinationals from being reckless or careless in their tax affairs.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

The ATO and the different State Revenue Offices issue public rulings, determinations, interpretative decisions and practice statements that set out their views on the operation of the relevant federal or state law.

In addition, a taxpayer can seek certainty in respect of their tax affairs by applying for a private ruling. A private ruling is legally binding on the Commissioner.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for specific activities, including research and development, and deductions for certain mining and primary production industries. In addition, lower withholding tax rates (15%) are available for distributions to certain non-residents from eligible Withholding Managed Investment Trusts.
CONSOLIDATION

For income tax purposes, an Australian head company of a wholly owned group of Australian resident entities can elect to consolidate with its wholly owned Australian subsidiaries and form a consolidated group. For a consolidated group, the group is treated as a single taxpayer and intra-group transactions are ignored for income tax purposes.

Goods and services tax (GST) grouping and payroll taxes grouping are also available.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

A Capital Gain Tax (CGT) exemption is available for the sale of an active foreign business by an Australian resident company.

Dividends received by resident corporate tax entities (e.g., companies and corporate limited partnerships) that have a 10% or more equity interest in a foreign subsidiary are generally exempt from further Australian income tax.

However, these need to be addressed on a case by case basis.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital Gain Tax forms part of the income tax regime. CGT applies to net capital gain relating to assets and notional assets acquired after September 19, 1985. Where the sale proceeds are less than the unindexed cost base, the taxpayer will incur capital losses. These losses may only be offset against current or future capital gain. Capital gain is calculated on the proceeds from the disposal of the asset less its cost base and any incidental costs associated with its purchase and disposal. The taxable part of the gain is treated as assessable income. Some assets are exempt from CGT, and certain concessions are available for eligible Australian entities (e.g., 50% CGT discount for resident individuals and trusts and 33.3% discount for complying superannuation funds).

DISTRIBUTIONS

Dividend distributions by companies are taxable for shareholders. Subject to integrity measures, Australian resident shareholders may be entitled to a tax credit for corporate tax paid by the company. Dividends to foreign residents are prima facie subject to withholding tax at 30%, which may be reduced under a tax treaty. Also, certain exemptions are available in domestic tax law (e.g., for dividends paid out of taxed profits).

Capital distributions are taxable for shareholders to the extent they exceed the cost base of the shareholder’s shares in the company.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Company tax losses can be carried forward indefinitely, subject to satisfying certain loss utilization tests.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS
Tax-free reorganization provisions include CGT exemptions, exemptions for intra-group transactions in a consolidated group and a stamp duty exemption for corporate reconstructions.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Under the controlled foreign company (CFC) rules, a resident entity may be subject to income tax on a current basis on "attributable income" of the entity's controlled foreign companies.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Where foreign sourced income is included in a taxpayer's assessable income, foreign income tax offsets are available at the lesser of the foreign tax paid or the Australian tax payable.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Foreign residents are generally exempt from Australian CGT except where the relevant asset is a direct or indirect interest in Australian real property (including through an interposed entity).

From May 9, 2012, the 50% CGT discount allowed for gains made by individuals on Australian real property is reduced for any periods in which the taxpayer has been a foreign resident during the period of ownership. From July 1, 2016, a new foreign resident CGT withholding tax (CGT WHT) regime applies in Australia. From July 1, 2017, changes came into effect for the CGT WHT rules. Under the current and updated CGT WHT rules, unless an exemption applies, purchasers of direct or indirect interests in Australian real property are required to withhold 12.5% of the purchase price and remit this to the ATO if at least 1 of the vendors is a foreign resident. The CGT WHT is not a final tax as the vendor may claim a credit for the tax withheld when lodging its tax return for the relevant year.

TRANSFER PRICING

"Arm's length" principles are applied to transactions between related parties under an international agreement. Australian rules are similar in many respects to the OECD guidelines, with certain material differences such as the Commissioner's reconstruction powers.

In addition to satisfying transfer pricing documentation requirements, multinational entities with an annual global income of AUD 1 billion or more are required to provide the ATO with three statements (a master file, a local file and a country-by-country (CbC) report) within 12 months after the end of their income tax year. These statements require multinationals to report details regarding their international related party dealings, revenues, profits and taxes paid by jurisdiction. These amendments took effect from income years commencing on or after January 1, 2016.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, etc
Generally, a 30% withholding tax rate applies to dividends (unless an exemption is available under domestic law (eg, dividends paid out of taxed profits) or double tax treaties) and royalties and 10% for interest, which may be reduced under a double tax treaty.

Service fees

Generally, no withholding tax applies to service fees, unless the services fees are regarded as royalties.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

No capital duty. Stamp duties and transfer taxes may be imposed at the State and Territory level on transfers of assets and other "dutiable transactions."

From July 1, 2016, share transfer duty was abolished in all States and Territories.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold federal income tax from wages paid to employees. Employers also must pay Fringe Benefits Tax and Payroll Tax where applicable.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Anti-avoidance regime and OECD BEPS-related developments

Australia has a general tax anti-avoidance regime. The regime empowers the Commissioner to deny a tax benefit, where a taxpayer obtains tax benefit in connection with a scheme, the tax benefit would not have arisen without the scheme, and under an objective test there was a dominant purpose of entering into the scheme to obtain the tax benefit.

In an effort to tackle multinational anti-avoidance, Australia’s general tax anti-avoidance regime was amended with the introduction of the Multinational Anti-avoidance Law (MAAL) which was operative from January 1, 2016. The MAAL applies to multinational entities with an annual global income of AUD 1 billion or more and is targeted at multinational entities entering into contrived arrangements to avoid a taxable presence in Australia.

Further, the Australian Government has introduced a Diverted Profits Tax (DPT), which applies from July 1, 2017. The DPT is targeted at multinational entities with an annual global income of AUD 1 billion or more, which have entered into contrived arrangements to shift taxable profits out of Australia.

Australia is also a signatory to the OECD's multilateral instrument. The Australian Government has released draft legislation which would give the multilateral instrument the force of law in Australia.

The Australian Government has also released draft legislation on hybrid mismatches, broadly in line with the OECD’s BEPS Action 2.

Superannuation
Employers must make superannuation contributions to their employees’ nominated super fund, at the rate prescribed by the relevant legislation.

Workers’ compensation

Employers are required to take out insurance with an approved insurer covering the employer's full liability for workers' compensation as well as damages.

Goods and Services Tax (GST)

GST is a form of value added tax (VAT). It applies at a rate of 10% to taxable supplies of goods, services and other things that are connected with Australia.

From July 1, 2017, GST will apply to inbound intangible supplies made to Australian Consumers, but GST will not usually apply if the same inbound intangible supply is instead made to an Australian business. This reform is referred to as the "Netflix Tax".

Also from July 1, 2017, GST will apply to inbound supplies of goods with a value of less than AUD 1,000 which are made to Australian Consumers. This may capture online sales of goods made by non-residents to Australian Consumers where the goods are shipped directly to Australian customers.
AUSTRIA

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporate entity is treated as a domestic entity for corporate income tax purposes if its registered seat or the effective place of management is located in Austria.

Domestic

Global income of a domestic entity generally is subject to Austrian taxation.

Foreign

Only certain income of legal entities which are neither seated in Austria nor have their effective place of management in Austria is subject to corporate income tax in Austria. Such income would be treated as connected with Austria under the applicable rules.

TAXABLE INCOME

The annual financial statements prepared in accordance with commercial/accounting law are the basis for determining the taxable income. Valuation methods may be used for both assessments pursuant to commercial/accounting law as well as for tax purposes unless tax laws provide otherwise. Adjustment of profit or loss shown in the financial statements is to be made in order to level out any difference resulting from applying tax law or commercial/accounting law (Mehr-Weniger-Rechnung). Depreciation for tax purposes is generally in line with depreciation in accounting/financial statements. If depreciation stated in the financial statement exceeds the amount admissible under tax law, the provisions of tax law prevail, resulting in a difference between taxable income and the annual result. Goodwill acquired in the course of a takeover (asset deal) has to be amortized over a period of 15 years for tax purposes. Buildings are to be depreciated. The depreciation rate ranges between 2.5% (eg, a factory) and 1.5% (eg, residential buildings) on a straight-line basis.

TAX RATES

Profits of corporate entities are taxed at the company level at a flat rate of 25% corporate income tax (Körperschaftsteuer). Payments where the recipient is not disclosed (Empfängerbenennung) may attract a 25% surcharge and are not tax deductible.

TAX COMPLIANCE

The Austrian tax laws stipulate a number of tax compliance provisions, including an obligation to keep books and records (usually for 7 years), an obligation to file annual tax returns, generally, until June 30 (Corporate Tax and Value Added Tax which may be extended if the entity is represented by a tax advisor) and notification duties.

Horizontal monitoring

Beginning in 2019, corporations that fulfill certain requirements can apply for horizontal monitoring. Through the implementation of an internal control system, verified by tax advisors or auditors and extended disclosure requirements, horizontal monitoring can replace traditional tax audits.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Corporations are subject to a minimum corporate income tax of 5% of the statutory minimum capital. Special provisions apply for banks and insurance companies.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Since January 1, 2011, an Advanced Ruling is available. A complete disclosure is required. A notification is only issued subject to the condition that the applicable legal facts on which the tax authorities’ assessment is based do not change. A request for an Advanced Ruling may only be filed with the tax authority that is competent locally with regard to the subject matter for the relevant facts. With respect to content, such Advanced Ruling may be received as of January 1, 2019 to the areas of restructuring (Umgründungen), transfer prices, group taxation (Gruppenbesteuerung) and tax avoidance questions and, as of January 1, 2020, to VAT issues. An Advanced Ruling is subject to an administrative fee (Verwaltungskostenbeitrag), whereby amounts from €1,500 up to a maximum of €20,000 can be charged, depending on the requesting company’s turnover. In addition, non-binding rulings are also available and have a high practical relevance.

Tax incentives

An invention premium is granted as a tax refund, which is directly credited or paid to the corporate entity. The premium equals 14% of the expenses for specific research and development activities. The premium is granted as a tax refund and may be claimed at the end of the tax year. An opinion of the Austrian Research Promotion Agency (FFG) is required. The premium applies to research and development activities with respect to expenses paid to companies or permanent establishments located in an EU or EEA country. The premium may also be claimed for contract research projects limited to expenses of EUR 1 Mio p.a.
CONSOLIDATION

In 2005, a new system of group taxation (Gruppenbesteuerung) was introduced. The system of group taxation allows allocating profit or loss of domestic members of such tax group to the holding company, which is the only taxpayer for the whole group with respect to corporate income tax. In addition, losses from foreign directly held subsidiaries may be utilized against Austrian income, subject to certain requirements and restrictions, but have to be recaptured if utilized in subsequent periods in the foreign jurisdiction.

In general, the only requirements for becoming a group member of a tax group is a direct or indirect major shareholding in a corporation and the execution of a group consolidation contract. However, there are certain additional provisions for foreign entities. Furthermore, the group members must apply for group taxation with the competent tax authorities. A tax group must be in existence for a period of at least three years. If a group member withdraws from the group before this period has elapsed, such group member's tax will be assessed as if it never had been a group member.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Austrian dividends distributed to a resident company are exempt from corporate income tax under the national participation exemption rules (Beteiligungsertragsbefreiung). Foreign dividends distributed to a resident company are also exempt from corporate income tax. However, there are special provisions that differ between companies that are resident in an EU member state or in a state with which Austria signed an extensive tax administrative assistance agreement.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gains resulting from the sale of a shareholding in a resident company are subject to corporate income tax. Capital gains resulting from the sale of a shareholding in a foreign company are, in general, exempt from corporate income tax. However, there are detailed special provisions and restrictions that apply in such cases.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Dividends paid to a domestic or non-domestic individual are subject to 27.5% income withholding tax rate (Kapitalertragsteuer). Austria's double tax treaties may provide for a reduced withholding tax rate, which could apply at source or by way of a refund procedure. Claiming the reduced rate may require certain documentation, including a residency certificate. Austrian dividends paid to resident individuals are not subject to further income tax if the 27.5% income tax has already been withheld at source.

Dividends distributed to domestic or foreign corporations are, in general, subject to 25% withholding tax. An exemption from withholding taxation of dividends distributed to an Austrian or EU parent company is applicable, provided that the following conditions are met:

- the shareholder is a corporation resident in Austria or in another EU member state and
- the shareholder has held at least a 10% interest for one year.
Additionally, withholding tax relief may be provided for recipients resident in countries with a Double Tax Treaty with Austria. Dividends paid to foreign corporations are only exempt from Austrian withholding tax if the activities of the foreign company go beyond those of a mere holding company, that staff is being employed and business premises are used.

If dividends are paid to domestic or non-domestic individual or corporate shareholders optionally by dissolution of the share premium of a company, there is no income withholding tax due. Such dividends are paid without source taxation and are treated as capital repayment (Einlagenrückzahlung).

LOSS UTILIZATION

Tax losses (resulting from operating revenues) may be carried forward for an indefinite period of time and may be offset against both trading income and capital gain. However, for corporations only 75% of current income may be offset against tax losses brought forward; thus 25% of current income is invariably subject to tax. This limitation does not apply to individuals. Excess tax losses can still be carried forward. Loss carry backs are not permitted.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

According to the provisions of the Austrian Reorganization Tax Act (Umgründungssteuergesetz), reorganizations of partnerships and corporations may be carried out tax-neutrally under certain conditions. In the case of cross-border reorganizations, it is especially essential that a possibly existing right to tax of the Republic of Austria continues to exist. If the requirements of the Reorganization Tax Act are (intentionally) not fulfilled, the reorganization is tax effective (which could be useful in specific situations).

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Controlled Foreign Companies (CFC) and thin capitalization

Beginning in January 2019, the Austrian government introduced a Controlled Foreign Company Rule. According to this rule, passive income of foreign subsidiaries in low-taxed countries (equal or below 12.5%) will be added to the income of the Austrian shareholder, if certain conditions are fulfilled. The CFC rule applies to foreign entities which are controlled by a domestic entity that holds more than 50% of the voting rights alone or together with its affiliated companies. In addition, general tax rules as the substance-over-form-principle, beneficial ownership concept and other anti-abuse rules remain.

Austrian tax law does not provide for specific thin capitalization rules. However, the Austrian courts have developed various principles to determine under which circumstances debt financing from shareholders is to be treated as equity for tax purposes (as a rough practical rule a debt-equity-ratio of 1:9 or 1:10 triggers, in general, questions during a tax audit). As regards an interest deduction, intra-group interest payments by Austrian companies to foreign connected low or non-taxed entities are not recognized for tax purposes.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Double tax treaties
Austria has signed 100 double taxation treaties with other countries to avoid double taxation of income or gains arising in one territory and paid to residents of another territory. These treaties either grant a credit against Austrian tax for foreign taxes paid on the same income (eg, with the USA, UK, Japan and Italy) or exempt foreign-source income.

If there is no applicable tax treaty, the Austrian Ministry of Finance may grant unilateral relief in order to avoid double taxation.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

In addition to the real estate transfer tax (up to 3.5% from the purchase price) and the real estate registration duty (1.1%), in case of direct transfer of at least 95% of the shares in an Austrian or foreign company possessing Austrian real estate, a real estate transfer tax of 0.5% from the fair market value of the real estate becomes due.

TRANSFER PRICING

Transfer pricing documentation based on the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines (Master file, local file, country-by-country report) must be prepared and submitted with the Austrian tax authorities according to the Austrian Transfer Pricing Documentation Law. The size of required documentation depends on the turnover of a corporate entity.

WITHHOLDING TAX

As regards dividend distributions, see the explanations above. As regards interest, no withholding tax becomes due in Austria, as long as the beneficial payee is a corporate entity or an individual, resident in a state with whom Austria has automatic exchange of information (otherwise withholding tax of 25% or 27.5% may become due). Royalties are subject to 20% withholding tax, subject to tax treaty limitation or limitation according to the EU Interest and Royalty Directive.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Austria levies stamp duty on certain legally predefined transactions for which a written contract has been established. Stamp duty has to be paid if at least one Austrian party is involved or, even if a contract is concluded between non-Austrian parties only, if the subject of the contract relates to Austria. Stamp duties are due on certain transactions (eg, on the assignment of receivables and on rental agreement).

The transfer of real estate leads to real estate transfer tax in the amount of 0.5 to 3.50%. Specific taxes exist also for some specific industries (eg, banks, insurances, airlines).

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Austrian wage tax is a withholding tax which has to be paid by the employer but is also partly borne by the employee. Along with this wage tax, the employer also has to pay social insurance contributions and other taxes. As a general, but very rough rule approximately 50% of the salary costs for an employee are taxes and social security contributions.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Domestic

According to Belgian tax law, a corporation is resident of Belgium if it has its registered office, main establishment or place of effective management in Belgium.

Foreign

Non-resident entities can be subject to Belgian non-resident income tax if they realize income that is sourced in Belgium or income that is connected with a Belgian establishment (or a permanent establishment in case a double tax treaty is in place).

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

The taxable income of a corporation includes its worldwide income, less allowable deductions. For Belgian corporate tax purposes taxable income is determined on the basis of the approved Belgian GAAP annual accounts, subject to certain adjustments in accordance with the Belgian Income Tax Code.

Foreign

Non-resident entities can be liable to pay Belgian non-resident income tax on specific types of income. Computation of the taxable base is generally subject to the same rules that apply to the corporate income tax for resident companies.

TAX RATES

Resident companies are subject to a standard corporate income tax rate of 29.58%. This rate will be reduced to 25% as from 2020. The first income band of €100,000 of small companies is subject to a lower rate of 20.40% (20% as from 2020).
TAX COMPLIANCE

In principle, domestic corporate income tax returns must be submitted to the tax authorities by the date mentioned on the official tax return form. The deadline for filing may however not be shorter than one month as from the date on which financial statements were approved by the shareholder’s annual general meeting and may not be longer than 6 months from the end of a financial year.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Belgian legislation does not provide for alternative minimum tax.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Certainty over the application of Belgian tax laws to a specific transaction or situation can be obtained by means of a formal ruling involving the agreement of the Advance Ruling Commission (Service des Décisions Anticipées en matières fiscales / Dienst Voorafgaande Beslissingen in fiscale zaken).

Tax incentives

Subject to certain conditions, a company may benefit from IP and R&D related tax incentives.

CONSOLIDATION

A pursuant to the latest corporate tax reform, a corporate income tax consolidation regime has been introduced as of January 1, 2019 (assessment year 2020). This regime will allow the deduction of tax losses of a Belgian group entity from another Belgian group entity’s taxable profits, subject to certain conditions.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividend income received by a Belgian company is subject to corporate tax at the standard rate. The Belgian participation exemption regime, however, allows for a deduction of 100% of the received dividend amount if certain conditions are met.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gains realized on the disposal of business assets are treated as business income. Standard corporate tax rates apply in such case. Subject to reinvestment of the sales proceeds and certain other conditions, the taxation of the capital gain realized on business assets may be deferred.
Subject to certain conditions, capital gains realized on the disposal of shares may be tax exempt.

Capital losses may be deductible depending on the underlying asset.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporation to its shareholders are treated as dividends. Distributions that stem from paid-in capital, as defined under Belgian tax law, are, subject to certain conditions, not subject to income tax.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Losses may be carried forward indefinitely, but their use in a given tax year is limited to €1,000,000 plus 70% of the taxable basis in excess of €1,000,000. Any carried forward tax losses that cannot be used due to this limitation may be further carried forward indefinitely. The remaining 30% of the taxable basis in excess of €1 million will be subject to normal corporate income tax rates.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Qualifying reorganizations (merger, demerger, partial demerger, contribution of a universality of goods or a business line) involve the direct transfer of all assets and liabilities from the transferor to the receiving company.

Subject to certain conditions, national and EU cross-border reorganizations can be performed under a tax neutral regime under which capital gains would not be taxed. The regime provides for restrictions on the transferability of certain deductions (e.g., tax losses) from the transferor to the receiving company.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

CFC

A CFC-regime has been introduced as of January 1, 2019 (assessment year 2020) in compliance with the EU Anti-Tax Avoidance Directive 2016/1164 of July 12, 2016.

Subject to certain conditions, non-distributed profits stemming from foreign controlled artificial constructions will be attributed to the taxable base of the controlling Belgian entity.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign tax credits are available for foreign taxes paid, subject to limitations.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Certain real property fund structures benefit from a favorable tax regime in Belgium.
TRANSFER PRICING

Belgium generally adheres to the OECD transfer pricing guidelines. The arm’s length principle therefore constitutes a basic transfer pricing principle in Belgium. Advance pricing agreements (whether unilateral, bilateral or multilateral) may be obtained.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, etc.

A 30% withholding tax applies to the payment of dividends, royalties and interest. Domestic law provides for reduced rates and exemptions in certain circumstances. The applicable rate may further also be reduced under an applicable double taxation treaty.

Service fees

Withholding tax may under specific conditions apply to service fees paid to non-residents, subject to certain conditions.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

There is no capital duty. Share transfers are not subject to stamp duty or transfer tax. Stamp duties and transfer taxes may however be imposed on other transactions (eg, transfer of real estate).

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold federal income tax on the salaries paid to their employees. Employers must also pay social security contributions on such salaries. Such social security contributions are tax deductible in the hands of the employers.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Domestic

A legal entity incorporated under Brazilian legislation will be treated as a domestic legal entity.

A Brazilian national is automatically a resident while legally domiciled in Brazil or, if not domiciled in Brazil, upon his or her election to be treated as a resident for tax purposes.

Foreign

In principal, foreign legal entities are not subject to Brazilian taxes except when carrying out activities in Brazil through a permanent establishment.

Foreign individuals are considered residents for tax purposes from the moment they enter the country to work under an employment contract. Foreign individuals appointed to management positions in Brazilian companies (officers) are required to obtain a permanent work permit and a visa.

Non-resident individuals and legal entities who render services to a Brazilian party are subject to Brazilian withholding income tax received from Brazilian sources. Other taxes may apply depending on the transaction at hand.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Corporate income tax (IRPJ)

As a general rule, Brazilian legal entities are required to pay corporate income tax (IRPJ) in Brazil. The IRPJ may be calculated under two different methods, the actual profits method or under the presumed profits method.

Brazilian legal entities are taxed by the IRPJ on their worldwide income and capital gains, regardless of their origin.

Under the actual profits method, the IRPJ may be accrued and paid on a quarterly or annual basis. If quarterly, a 15% rate will levy over the net income of the period, plus a 10% surtax over the net income exceeding BRL$60,000, per quarter.

On the other hand, if the IRPJ is calculated annually, taxpayers are required to anticipate monthly installments, which are calculated on an estimated income basis. The estimated income shall correspond to 8% up to 32% of the total monthly gross revenue, depending on the taxpayer’s activity, in addition to any capital gains perceived in the period, as well as other revenues and positive results incurred by the company. Over this estimated basis, the IRPJ shall levy at a 15% rate, plus an additional 10% surtax over the estimated income that exceeds BRL$20,000 per month.

At the end of the year, the taxpayer may request the reimbursement of overpaid amounts, or be required to pay the difference between the amount paid monthly and the one calculated based on the annual income.

Note that certain taxpayers are allowed to accrue the IRPJ under the presumed profits method, as long as certain thresholds set in the legislation are met.

Under this method, the IRPJ is calculated on a quarterly basis. Similar to the monthly anticipations made under the actual profits method, the taxable basis of the IRPJ will vary from 8% up to 32% of the legal entity’s revenues, depending on the taxpayer activity. Over such basis, the IRPJ shall levy at a 15% rate, in addition to a 10% surtax on the excess of presumed income of BRL$60,000, per quarter.

Please note that if the presumed method of taxation is adopted, the taxpayer will not be able to make any adjustments to the IRPJ’s taxable basis.

Social contribution on net income (CSLL)

The CSLL is a social contribution that funds the social security system. The CSLL is assessed on net profits before income tax (ie, IRPJ) and after the adjustments for non-deductible items and presumed profits.

The rules for calculating the CSLL are substantially the same as those for IRPJ. In effect, CSLL is a true corporate income tax surcharge, that levies at 9% rate over taxpayer’s net income specifically adjusted for CSLL purposes.

Together with the IRPJ, the combined corporate income taxes rate (ie, IRPSJ and CSLL) for most companies is currently 34%.

Interest on net equity (INE)

INE is a hybrid instrument used to transfer funds from a company to its shareholders and, simultaneously, generate a deductible expense at the company level. Accordingly, INE may be paid or credited to the relevant shareholder, provided that the company:

- Duly deliberates the INE's payment or credit
- Has retained or current year earnings and
- Follows specific thresholds limits set in the legislation

The amount of INE to be paid or credited to the shareholder shall be calculated by applying the government long-term interest rate (Taxa de Juros de Longo Prazo - TJLP), calculated on a pro rata die basis, over the following net equity accounts:

- Corporate capital
- Capital reserve
- Profit reserve
- Treasury shares and
- Accumulated losses.

The withholding income tax shall be levied over amounts paid or credited at a 15% tax rate.

For purposes of corporate income tax (IRPJ and CSLL) deduction, the following limits must be adopted, whichever is higher:

- 50% of the taxpayer’s net profit accrued at the end of the year before the INE deduction or
- 50% of the sum of the accumulated and reserve profits

TAX RATES

See Taxable income.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Legal entities must file tax returns at federal, state and local levels depending on their activities. Some of these returns are monthly obligations.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Brazilian legislation does not provide for alternative minimum tax.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax rulings

On certain issues, taxpayers can request a private letter ruling that applies only to the specific issue.

Tax incentives

Brazil provides for different types of tax incentives at the federal, state and local levels, which target the development of specific regions of the country or specific activities.
CONSOLIDATION

Brazilian tax legislation does not provide for consolidation.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Brazilian legislation does not provide for participation exemption. As a general rule, dividends received from other domestic legal entities are exempt.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain recognized by a legal entity is taxed at the same rate as ordinary income for IRPJ and CSLL purposes. Non-operating losses are deductible. However, non-operating losses accrued in previous years can only be offset in future years with profits of the same nature.

For individuals and non-residents, as from January 1, 2017, capital gains earned as a result of the disposal of assets and rights of any nature are taxed at progressive rates varying from 15% up to 22.5%.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a Brazilian legal entity to shareholders are treated as tax-free dividends, regardless of where the shareholder is domiciled.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Under the actual profits method, net operating losses generated in a given period/year can be used to offset up to 30% of the taxable income accrued on the subsequent period/year.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

The recognition of gains or losses in reorganizations can be deferred.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

As a general rule, profits of controlled foreign companies are taxable in Brazil every December 31, regardless of when profits are made available. Optional specific consolidation rules for direct and indirect controlled foreign companies may apply, including relief for foreign losses subject to certain conditions and limitations.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Subject to conditions and limitations, foreign tax credits are available for foreign income taxes paid.
SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Brazil provides for a special and optional tax regime for real estate developments.

TRANSFER PRICING

Brazilian transfer pricing rules apply to transactions between a Brazilian party and a foreign related entity or any entity domiciled in a tax haven jurisdiction or subject to privileged tax regime. In general, Brazilian transfer pricing rules follow arm’s-length principles but deviate from the OECD guidelines as it provides for only certain methods and fixed statutory margins. The legislation allows taxpayer to freely choose the method (ie, there is no best method rule and no functional analysis required).

WITHHOLDING TAX

In general, payments made to non-residents are subject to WHT in Brazil. As a general rule, payments to non-residents for services rendered to Brazilian residents and payments to non-resident individuals as work compensation are subject to the general WHT at a 25% rate.

Please note that the 25% rate is not applicable to interest paid in connection with loans, or over royalties and other fees that are not paid in connection to the provision of services in Brazil. These transactions are taxed at a 15% rate.

The WHT shall also levy at a 15% rate over the provision of technical services, administrative assistance and other similar services, that do not involve transfer of technology.

Finally, payments made to entities located at low tax jurisdictions are subject to the WHT at a 25% rate.

Tax treaties may reduce or eliminate withholding tax, but not city tax when applicable.

Other taxes may be imposed on the local source of payment depending on the nature of the transaction.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Brazil does not impose capital duty or stamp duty. Transfer taxes may be imposed at the state (ITCMD) or local level (ITBI) as discussed above.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold income tax and social security tax. Employers also must pay their share of social security tax, unemployment tax and other payroll charges in respect of compensation paid to employees. These taxes are deductible by an employer for Brazilian corporate income tax purposes.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS
Contribution for intervention in the economic domain (CIDE)

The contribution is due for payments made in connection with:

- License Agreements
- Acquisition of technological know-how or
- Agreements involving cross-border transfer of technology

CIDE also applies to the cross-border provision of technical services, administrative assistance and other similar services that do not involve the transfer of technology.

CIDE is generally imposed at a 10% rate over the total amount paid, credited, delivered or remitted abroad to non-resident beneficiaries.

Welfare contributions for PIS and COFINS (PIS/COFINS)

The Contribution to the Social Integration Program (PIS) and the Contribution to Finance Social Security (COFINS) are welfare contributions that are levied over a taxpayer's gross revenue. Currently, there are two methods of calculating PIS/COFINS, the cumulative and non-cumulative methods.

The cumulative method is applicable to cooperative organizations, immune or exempt entities companies, financial institutions, insurance companies and taxpayers that accrue the corporate income tax in accordance with the presumed profits method. Under such method, the PIS shall apply at a 0.65% rate, whereas the COFINS will apply at a 3% rate.

The non-cumulative method is applicable to most legal entities. The main purpose of this legislation is to avoid the cascading effect of the welfare contributions by granting tax credits that can be offset with PIS/COFINS payable amounts. Currently, PIS and COFINS apply at a combined rate of 9.25%, with PIS at 1.65% and COFINS at 7.6%.

The taxpayer is entitled to calculate tax credits over the following expenses:

- Acquisition of goods for resale
- Inputs (ie, goods and/or services) that are deemed as necessary and essential for the maintenance of the taxpayer's activities;
- Acquisition of electric energy
- Payment of leases related to buildings, machinery and equipment
- Lease expenses derived from leasing transactions (arrendamento mercantil)
- Acquisition or manufacture of machinery and equipment to be leased to third parties, or used in the manufacture of products intended for sale, and/or for incorporation as a fixed asset
- Buildings and betterments in third-party real estate property to be used in the company's operations
- Storage and freight costs, incurred in sale transactions, supported by the seller
- Meal coupons, transportation and uniforms provided to employees by a company that engages in cleaning, conservation and maintenance services and
- Intangible assets, acquired for the utilization in the manufacture of goods destined for sale or in the rendering of services.

Furthermore, PIS and COFINS shall not apply to:

- Revenues resulting from export transactions, whose payment represents an inflow of foreign capital into Brazil and
- Revenues derived from domestic sales by trading companies (empresas comerciais exportadoras) with specific export purposes

Originally, under the non-cumulative system, a taxpayer’s financial revenues were taxed by PIS/COFINS at a 0% tax rate (except those derived from interest on equity perceived by holding companies and hedge transactions). However, the tax rate applicable to these specific revenues is now 4.65%, with PIS at 0.65% and COFINS at 4%.

The concept of "gross revenues" for the calculation of the PIS and COFINS under the cumulative system has been changed under legislation. Accordingly, "gross revenues" for such purposes is defined as:

- The results of the sale of goods and provision of services
- The result of operations on behalf of third parties and
- Revenues derived from taxpayer’s main activity that are not comprised as retail of goods and provision of services

PIS and COFINS over import transactions (PIS/COFINS-import)

PIS and COFINS are also charged on import transactions of goods and services. As a general rule, in respect of the importation of goods, PIS shall apply at a 2.1% rate and COIFINS at a 9.65% rate. Whereas, in respect of the importation of services, PIS shall apply at a 1.65% rate, and COFINS at a 7.6% rate.

Please note that the importation of certain goods, such as pharmaceuticals, are taxed at specific tax rates. In addition, with respect to certain import transactions, a COFINS 1% surcharge may apply.

The tax basis shall be the customs value of the imported goods or the amount charged for the service by the foreign contractor.

Taxpayers that are subject to the PIS/COFINS under the non-cumulative system are allowed to accrue tax credits from the PIS and COFINS paid on their imports and offset them against the PIS and COFINS accrued over their respective gross revenue.

Federal excise tax (IPI)
IPI is a Federal value-added tax, which applies to manufactured products, either to their importation or manufacture in Brazil. IPI rates may vary depending on the type of product and whether it is regarded as essential.

Import duty (II)

II is due upon customs clearance of imported products on an ad valorem basis. The rate varies, depending on the tariff classification of the product imported.

As mentioned above, import transactions are also subject to the PIS/COFINS-import and to the IPI. Import transactions are also taxed by the State VAT (ICMS). These taxes, along with II, are calculated as follows:

- The II and the PIS/COFINS-import are imposed over the good's customs value (ie, CIF value)
- The IPI is levied on the CIF value plus II and
- The ICMS is levied on the CIF value plus II, IPI and ICMS itself

Export tax (IE)

IE applies to the export of certain listed goods and the tax is calculated on an ad valorem basis. The tax rate varies depending on the type of product exported.

Financial transaction tax (IOF)

The IOF applies to several types of transactions such as credit, exchange and insurance, loans, as well as on transactions involving gold, financial asset or exchange instruments. IOF rates and basis vary depending on the nature of the transaction.

State VAT on sales and services (ICMS)

Similar to the IPI, the ICMS is another value-added tax on sales, communication and transportation services, payable upon the importation of a product into Brazil, the sale of a good in the Brazilian market, or upon the provision of certain communication and intrastate and interstate transportation services.

ICMS rates and tax benefits vary from State to State and depend on the type of transaction (eg, import, intrastate or interstate sale of goods, communication or transportation services, etc.).

The ICMS non-cumulative system permits a taxpayer to offset the ICMS paid in acquired goods and services against the ICMS due on subsequent taxable transactions (eg, sale of goods and services subject to ICMS tax). The difference is the amount due to the state government.

Note that State ICMS legislation may attribute the responsibility to pay the ICMS to a legal entity that, although it did not perform the relevant taxable transaction per se, had an indirect relation to it. An example is the responsibility for paying the ICMS attributed to electricity generator or distributors on one or more operations, from production or importation until the end consumer.

Specific rules apply to operations with hydrocarbons, such as oil, lubricants and natural gas.

Estate and gift tax (ITCMD)
ITCMD is a state tax that is levied on the transmission of movable or immovable assets as a result of donation or in the event of the death of the owner. As a general rule, ITCMD is subject to rates varying from 4% to 8%, depending on the state, over the fair value of the movable asset, real estate or transmitted rights.

Tax on services (ISS)

ISS is a municipal tax that applies to the price charged for the provision of certain listed services. Rates vary from 2% to 5%, depending on the type of service and the particular municipality in which the party rendering the services is located.

The ISS shall also apply to the importation of services. In such circumstances, each municipality may set forth in the relevant municipal legislation that the contracting parties located in Brazil are liable for collecting the relevant tax.

The ISS shall not apply to the exportation of services, except over those developed in Brazil and whose results also occur in Brazil, even if the contracting party is a foreign resident.

Real estate property tax (IPTU)

IPTU is a municipal tax levied annually, at progressive rates according to the appraised value and use of the real estate, and over the ownership, possession and use of urban realty.

Real estate transfer tax (ITBI)

ITBI is a municipal tax on the transfer of real estate. The rates may vary according to the actual value of the transaction or the appraised value of the property, whichever is higher.

Individual income taxation (IRPF)

Brazilian tax legislation distinguishes individual residents from non-residents. As mentioned above, a Brazilian national is automatically a resident while legally domiciled in Brazil or, if not domiciled in Brazil, upon his or her election to be treated as a resident for tax purposes.

In general, resident individuals are subject to tax on their worldwide income, regardless of nationality (universal taxation), while non-residents are generally subject to tax in Brazil only on Brazilian source income (limited taxation).

A foreign individual will be considered to be a tax resident in Brazil when:

- Admitted to the country under a permanent visa or
- Admitted to the country under a temporary visa, and
  - Under an employment relationship for purposes of Brazilian law, on the day such relationship is established or
  - Upon completing 184 days, consecutive or not, of physical presence in Brazil within a 12-month period
The duration of the time period for this visa begins on the day the foreigner enters Brazil, independent of the calendar year. The days counted are only those days spent within the country, interrupted upon the moment they leave Brazil and recommenced if they return.

Tax residents are subject to income tax on worldwide income on a cash basis for each year, even if the income is generated abroad. An individual income tax return should be filed by the last business day of April to report income received in the previous year, with no extensions.

Brazil has a different set of rules for ordinary income, capital gains, income received from abroad and from individuals and income from financial products.

Ordinary income is subject to progressive rates ranging from 7.5% up to 27.5%.

Compensation received from a Brazilian company for services provided under an employment relationship or as an individual contractor is subject to WHT at monthly progressive rates also ranging from 7.5% up to 27.5%, depending on the amount of income perceived.

In the annual income tax return, the taxpayer must report all ordinary income received from all Brazilian payment sources on a consolidated basis. Consolidated ordinary income will be subject to income tax at the progressive rates mentioned above. Because each payment source calculates WHT separately, without taking into account the taxpayer’s overall income and bracket, the taxpayer might be required to make an additional tax payment upon filing of the annual income tax return.

Capital gains resulting from the disposition of assets and other rights, including investments in the capital markets (ie, disposition of stocks, commodities and other rights) are subject to income tax at capital gains, at rates varying from 15% up to 22.5%.

Income received from paying sources located abroad and from individuals in Brazil are subject to a mandatory monthly tax payment (Carnê Leão), which is due at the same progressive tax rates applicable to ordinary income mentioned above. The tax must be collected until the last business day of the following month.

Financial income from Brazilian sources is subject to a final withholding tax system performed by the financial institution. Tax rates shall vary according to the type of investment and also on the term under which it was made.

Brazil provides double taxation relief through a foreign tax credit system applicable to income tax paid to countries with which Brazil has entered into a tax treaty or on a reciprocity basis when the source country also grants a foreign tax credit for taxes paid in Brazil on Brazilian source income. The Brazilian tax authorities have agreed on a reciprocity basis with the United States, Germany, United Arab Emirates and United Kingdom.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation formed in a Canadian jurisdiction is treated as a Canadian resident corporation for Canadian tax purposes. Also, a corporation formed outside of Canada can be treated as a resident of Canada if its central "mind and management" is in Canada, subject to any relief provided under an applicable tax treaty.

Domestic

A resident corporation is subject to Canadian tax on its worldwide income. A Canadian-resident corporation generally is not subject to Canadian tax on the income of its foreign subsidiaries unless an anti-deferral provision applies (e.g., the foreign accrual property income rules).

Foreign

Non-resident corporations are not generally subject to Canadian income tax except on:

- Income earned from carrying on business in Canada
- Income arising on the disposition of taxable Canadian property, and
- Certain types of cross-border payments subject to non-resident withholding taxes

Income tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of a resident corporation is generally equal to all gross income less applicable deductions.

Foreign

Income earned in Canada (including capital gain arising as a result of the disposition of taxable Canadian property) is generally subject to Canadian income tax at general tax rates. Branch profits tax may also apply to income. earned in Canada that is repatriated by a non-resident corporation. Income tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAX RATES

The federal corporate tax rate for 2019 is 15% on general active business income, and the combined federal and provincial corporate tax rates for 2019 range from 26.5% to 31% depending on the provinces in which the permanent establishments of a corporate taxpayer are located.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Corporate income tax returns are generally due no later than six months after the end of each tax year. A corporate income tax return must generally be filed no later than three years after the end of the relevant tax year to receive a tax refund.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Corporations (non-resident or resident) are not subject to federal alternative minimum tax in Canada.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

- Tax holidays

  Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

- Tax rulings

  Under certain circumstances, taxpayers can request a private letter ruling that applies to the specific issues addressed therein.

- Tax incentives

  There are tax incentives for specific activities, including in respect of scientific research and experimental development and certain Canadian production, resource exploration and development and renewable energy activities.

CONSOLIDATION

Canada does not allow income tax returns to be filed on a consolidated basis for affiliated or related corporations.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

There is no general participation exemption for dividends or capital gains recognized on the stock of foreign subsidies. If certain ownership and source requirements are satisfied, a deduction may apply with respect to dividends received from certain domestic and foreign corporations.

CAPITAL GAIN

One-half of a capital gain earned by a corporation is required to be included in computing the taxable income of the corporation. Capital losses may be applied to reduce capital gains, but not regular income, of a corporation for tax purposes.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporation are generally treated as dividends of the payor corporation. Certain distributions on shares of a corporation, such as returns of capital (to the extent of the "paid-up capital" in respect of the relevant shares), may generally be returned to shareholders on a tax-free basis.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Non-capital losses may generally be carried forward 20 taxation years and back three taxation years, subject to certain loss limitation rules. Net capital losses can generally be carried forward indefinitely and back three taxation years, subject to certain loss limitation rules.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Certain qualifying corporate reorganizations, combinations and divisions may be eligible to be executed on a tax-deferred basis for federal tax purposes, subject to the detailed statutory restrictions in the Income Tax Act (Canada). Certain special rules apply to cross-border reorganizations.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

FAPI

Under the foreign accrual property income (FAPI) rules, a Canadian-resident corporation may be subject to tax on a current basis in respect of "passive income" of a controlled foreign affiliate.

OIFP

Under the offshore investment fund property (OIFP) rules, a Canadian-resident corporation may be subject to tax on a prescribed basis in respect of interests in certain non-resident entities.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Subject to certain limitations and restrictions, foreign tax credits or deductions may be available to be claimed in respect of certain foreign taxes paid.
SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Generally, any gain realized by a non-resident person on the disposition of Canadian real property may be taxable in Canada.

TRANSFER PRICING

Arm’s-length principles generally are applied under Canadian tax law to transactions between related entities. The applicable Canadian rules are similar in many respects to the OECD guidelines, with certain material differences.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

A 25% withholding tax applies to dividends, certain royalties, interest payments to non-arm’s length persons, rent and certain other payments made by a resident corporation to a non-resident person, subject to reduction under an applicable income tax treaty.

Service fees

Withholding tax may apply to certain payments in respect of services rendered by a non-resident, particularly where the services are rendered in Canada, subject to reduction under an applicable income tax treaty.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

No general capital tax or stamp duty. Transfer taxes may be imposed at the provincial level.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold federal income tax, Canada Pension Plan (CPP) (or Quebec Pension Plan (QPP)) premiums and Employment Insurance (EI) premiums. Employers must also pay the employer’s portion of the CPP (or QPP) premium and the employer’s portion of the EI premium in respect of compensation paid to employees. These taxes are generally deductible by an employer for Canadian income tax purposes. Other withholding obligations and taxes may apply at the provincial level.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CHINA

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A resident enterprise is an enterprise established in China under the laws of China or an enterprise that is established under the laws of a foreign country (region) but that maintains its place of effective management in China.

Domestic

A resident enterprise is subject to enterprise income tax in China on its worldwide income.

Foreign

A non-resident enterprise is subject to enterprise income tax in China only if:

- It has derived China-sourced income by an establishment or place in China, or it has income incurred outside China but effectively connected with its establishment or place in China or
- It has derived China-sourced income even if it does not have an establishment or place in China, or the income is not effectively connected with its establishment or place in China

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

The taxable income of a resident enterprise is the balance of its annual gross revenue less all applicable deductions and losses.

Foreign

The taxable income of a non-resident enterprise is either the balance of its China-sourced gross revenue less all applicable deductions when the income is derived by or effectively connected with its establishment or place in China, or the gross revenue derived from China when the income is not effectively connected with its establishment or place in China.
TAX RATES

The standard enterprise income tax rate is 25%, with a few preferential tax rates applicable to qualified enterprises.

The standard withholding income tax rate for non-resident enterprises is 10%, which may be reduced by applicable tax treaties.

TAX COMPLIANCE

A resident enterprise must report and pay enterprise income tax on an annual basis, with quarterly provisional tax filing. The annual enterprise income tax return is due by May 31 of the following year. A non-resident enterprise may have to file an income tax return on its own if it has an establishment or place in China or may be subject to tax withholding by a withholding agent as applicable.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Tax holidays are available to certain encouraged industries, such as basic infrastructure projects, environmental protection and energy and water conservation projects and software enterprises.

Tax rulings

There is no established procedure for advance tax rulings.

Tax incentives

Preferential tax rates are available to certain encouraged enterprises, such as High and New Technology Enterprises and encouraged investment in West China.

Tax exemption or deduction is applicable when an enterprise has generated certain encouraged types of revenue, such as revenue from agriculture, forestry and technology transfer.

CONSOLIDATION

Consolidated tax filing of multiple enterprises is not allowed unless otherwise prescribed by the State Council. However, if a foreign company has more than two establishments in China, it may elect to have the main establishment in China make a consolidated tax filing for other establishments if it satisfies the conditions imposed by the PRC tax authority.
PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends received by a resident enterprise from another resident enterprise are exempt from enterprise income tax, except for dividends paid by a publicly listed enterprise to a shareholder that has continuously held the shares for less than 12 months.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain is included in taxable income and is not otherwise differentiated from other types of income.

DISTRIBUTIONS

The part of the distribution equivalent to retained earnings is treated as a dividend; the remaining part is treated as return of capital, with any exceeding amount being treated as capital gain.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Loss can be carried forward for 5 years in general, and may be extended in limited scenarios.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Reorganizations (e.g., equity purchases, asset purchases, mergers or splits) may be subject to "Special Tax Treatment" (tax deferral) upon meeting certain substantive and procedural conditions. Additional restrictions are applicable to cross-border reorganizations.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

The general anti-avoidance rule of the enterprise income tax law may be cited by the Chinese tax authorities to make adjustments on transactions that do not have reasonable business purposes.

CFC

If an offshore company is established in a low tax jurisdiction (with an effective income tax rate below 12.50%) and is "owned or controlled" by Chinese residents (enterprises and/or individuals), the Chinese resident shareholders must include in their taxable income the profits of the offshore company even if the offshore company has not actually distributed any profits without reasonable business needs.

Thin-Capitalization Rule

If the ratio of debt-to-equity received by an enterprise from related parties exceeds the prescribed limit (currently two to one for non-financial enterprises and five to one for financial enterprises), the excess interest expense cannot be deducted for income tax purposes.
FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign income tax paid by directly or indirectly owned foreign subsidiaries of a resident enterprise may be credited against the resident enterprise’s income tax payable in China, subject to certain limitations.

Any unused foreign tax credit may be carried forward for 5 years.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Income from direct or indirect transfers of real property located in China is considered income sourced in China.

TRANSFER PRICING

Related party transactions must be conducted on an arm’s-length basis. Otherwise, the Chinese tax authorities may make an adjustment within ten years.

Enterprises reaching certain thresholds must prepare contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation, including a country-by-country report as applicable.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Chinese payors have the legal obligation to withhold tax when remitting dividends, royalties, interest, rents and other payments to foreign recipients.

Service fees

Service fees are subject to income tax in China if the foreign recipient has created an establishment or place (or a Permanent Establishment in a tax treaty context) in China. Where applicable, a Chinese payor of service fees may also be designated as the withholding agent by the PRC tax authority.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

There is no capital duty, though the PRC company registration authority charges a nominal registration fee based on the amount of registered capital of an enterprise. Stamp duty and transfer taxes (Value-Added Tax) may be imposed on asset and equity transfers as applicable.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold Individual Income Tax when paying salaries and wages to employees. Contributions of mandatory social insurance and housing fund are deductible for Individual Income Tax purposes.
OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

R&D expenses may have a bonus deduction, including R&D service fees paid to a foreign R&D service provider.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Domestic

Companies incorporated in accordance with Finnish legislation are subject to tax in Finland (unlimited tax liability).

Foreign

Foreign companies are subject to tax in Finland only to the extent specified in Finnish tax legislation (limited tax liability).

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Unlimited tax liability refers to tax on worldwide income. The taxable profit is roughly speaking calculated as the total income reduced by the costs generated by the business.

Foreign

Limited tax liability triggers taxation in Finland for a foreign company on income attributable to a Finnish permanent establishment, income accrued from Finland and income related to Finnish real estates.

TAX RATES

The corporate income tax rate is 20%.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Both unlimited and limited tax liable companies are liable to submit an income tax return. No tax return is required for income subject to withholding tax only. The income tax return shall be submitted to Finnish tax authorities within four months after the end of the company’s financial year.
ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable.

Tax rulings

Companies may apply for a binding advance ruling concerning a specific tax question with the Finnish tax authorities or alternatively with Finnish National Board of Taxes.

Tax incentives

Key foreign expert employees working in Finland may apply to be taxed at flat rate of 35% on their employment related income. Such a tax treatment is applicable for a maximum of 48 months.

CONSOLIDATION

Companies cannot file corporate income tax returns on a consolidated basis in Finland. However, Finnish companies belonging to the same group (which applies to share ownership of more than 90% of the shares) may exchange group contributions to facilitate tax consolidation on a company level. A group contribution is deductible for the paying company and is taxable for the recipient company.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Participation exemption regarding dividends covers dividends from unlisted companies in Finland, from foreign companies covered by EU parent subsidiary directive and from foreign companies pursuant to applicable tax treaty. Dividends received from a listed company are tax exempt only in case holding is at least 10%.

Participation exemption covers also capital gains of sale of shares in a company, but under strict criteria as follows. Shareholding at least 10% in target company, holding period at least one year, the sold shares are part of fixed assets, the target company is located in EU or tax treaty country and the main purpose of the target company is not to hold real estates. The participation exemption is not applicable to capital gain received by private equity companies.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain is the difference between the sales price and acquisition price and taxed with 20% corporate tax rate.
DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a company to a shareholder are primarily regarded as dividends for tax purposes, but treatment under capital gain rules is possible under specified criteria. A transfer of funds from a shareholder to a company is generally tax exempt.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Tax losses can be carried forward up to 10 years. Changes in the ownership of a company with tax losses carried forward results in forfeiture of tax losses, but the Finnish tax authorities may upon application grant an exception to utilize the losses.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Finnish implementation of EU merger directive covers tax-exempt mergers, full and partial divisions, transfers of business and share exchanges. A wide-ranging case law exists.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Under general anti-avoidance rules arrangements can be taxed based on their substance over the chosen form under strict criteria. The applicability of the rules is defined in case law.

Finnish CFC rules stipulate that a Finnish company can be taxed for its share in profit of a foreign legal entity as follows. Direct or indirect interest equal to at least 50% of the equity or voting rights in a foreign legal entity; taxation in foreign country below 3/5 of Finnish level; and no specified manufacturing activity is carried out by the foreign company. CFC legislation is not under specified criteria applied to entities in European Economic Area and in tax treaty countries on the condition that the latter countries are not included in the black list issued by Ministry of Finance.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign taxes paid on income subject to Finnish taxation can be credited under the Finnish tax credit system.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Transfer tax on acquisition of Finnish real estates is 4% on purchase price payable by the buyer. In case real estate transaction is carried out by acquiring shares in a real estate company, transfer tax is 2% on equity value added with value of debt transferred to the buyer.

TRANSFER PRICING

The Finnish transfer pricing rules are based on the “arm’s-length” principle and the OECD guidelines. Documentation requirements apply to cross-border transactions with affiliated companies.
WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Under the general rule, dividend and royalty payments to a foreign company is subject to 20% withholding tax.

Withholding tax is not levied on a dividend payment to a company within EU if such company holds more than 10% of the shares in the paying company and fulfills the requirements in EU parent subsidiary directive.

Withholding tax is also not levied on royalty payments paid to a company within EU in accordance with EU directive on condition 25% direct of indirect holding threshold is met.

Finland does not levy withholding tax on interest except on a few rare occasions.

Special withholding rates apply to foreign persons working in Finland, sportsmen, artists etc.

Finland has a treaty network with over 70 countries. The tax treaties typically lower the applicable statutory rates depending upon the type of income. Withholding tax for foreign companies on Finnish dividends is typically 0 or 5% when the recipient holds 15 or 25% of the target company.

Service fees

Typically exempted from Finnish withholding tax.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Sale of Finnish shares (non-real estate company) is subject to 1.6% transfer tax on equity value of the transaction payable by the buyer. Transfer tax is not applicable on transfers of Finnish shares between non-Finnish parties.

For transfer tax on the sale of real estate, please see above Special rules applicable to real property.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Finnish employers are liable to PAYE withholding obligations on salary paid to the Finnish employees. The tax base covers cash salary, benefits as valued by tax administration and share based employee benefits. The tax rate on salaries is progressive up to 57%.

In addition, Finnish employers are required to withhold the employee’s share of the social security contributions (some 7%) from the salaries. In addition, the Finnish employers are liable to pay their share of the social security payments (some 30%) based on their paid total salaries.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A company is a resident of France if it has its legal seat or place of effective management in France. As a general rule, the corporate income tax base is territorial.

Domestic

Profits of a resident corporation generally are subject to French corporate tax only if derived from a business operated in France (including any capital gains, dividends and interest derived from French or non-French investments), real estate assets located in France or activities taxable in France pursuant to a double tax treaty. Resident corporations can be subject to tax in France on foreign source income under anti-avoidance rules (e.g., CFC rules).

Foreign

Foreign corporations are not subject to French corporate tax unless they have in France:

- an autonomous establishment
- a dependent agent empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or
- a complete cycle of activity.

For residents of tax treaty countries, these concepts generally are superseded by the permanent establishment rules set out in the applicable double tax treaty.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income is the net income as determined by the company’s profit and loss statement, reduced by certain non-taxable items and increased by certain non-deductible expenses, such as the interest deduction limitation rules.
The Finance Act for 2019 has introduced from January 1, 2019 new rules regarding interest deductibility. In particular, net financial charges may be deductible up to the higher of the following two amounts:

- €3 million and
- 30% of the adjusted taxable income, before offsetting of tax losses

Specific rules apply to members of a tax consolidated group as well as to thin-capitalized companies. Moreover, other limitations on interest deductibility may be triggered, under certain conditions.

Foreign

Foreign corporations are subject to French corporate tax on French-source income from profits derived from a business operated in France, real estate assets located in France, a share of profits in a French partnership (except for partnerships that are regulated investment funds – SLP or société de libre partenariat), dividends from a French source or services rendered in France. Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes. Specific tax rules apply to:

- investors or payments related to a "non-cooperative jurisdiction" and
- capital gains on "substantial participations" (more than 25% of financial rights)

TAX RATES

Graduated income tax rates start at 15% with a top rate of 32.02% in 2019 (including additional contribution at the rate of 3.3%). For 2019, the standard corporate income tax rate is 28% to the extent of €500,000 and 31% for the portion exceeding the threshold, on top of which miscellaneous contributions may be added. The Finance Act for 2018 provided for a progressive reduction of corporation tax rates to 28% on January 1, 2020, applicable from the first euro, 26.5% on January 1, 2021 and 25% on January 1, 2022.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Corporate income tax returns must be filed no later than the second working day after May 1 for calendar year taxpayers, or within 3 months after the end of the relevant financial year otherwise, with no extensions.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.
Tax rulings

No broad-based rulings are available. On certain issues, taxpayers can request a private letter ruling that applies only to the specific issue.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for specific activities, including R&D credits. The payroll tax credit for competitiveness and employment has been replaced as from January 1, 2019 by social charges exemption.

CONSOLIDATION

The French tax consolidation regime allows a French parent company and its 95% owned domestic subsidiaries to combine their profits and losses and to pay corporate income tax on the consolidated result. A French parent company indirectly owning at least 95% of French affiliates through one or more foreign companies based in the EU, Iceland, Norway or Liechtenstein (intermediary companies) can also form a tax group. Similarly, it is possible to set up a tax group between sister companies with the parent company established in the EU, Iceland, Norway or Liechtenstein.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

A participation exemption regime is applicable to long-term capital gain (88% exempt) and dividends (as a rule 95% exempt), subject to a minimum shareholding of 5% of the share capital and a minimum holding period of 2 years. A specific participation-exemption regime applies to dividends distributed within a tax consolidated group (99% exempt) as well as, under conditions, to distributions made by foreign companies based in the EU, Iceland, Norway or Liechtenstein. Capital gain on the disposal of shares of real estate companies are excluded from the participation exemption regime.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gains realized by corporations that are subject to corporate income tax are treated as regular income, subject to exceptions. One exception is the one that applies to long-term capital gains on shares benefiting from the participation exemption regime, as described above.

DISTRIBUTIONS

A participation exemption regime is available for eligible dividends. Non-eligible distributions are subject to corporate income tax at ordinary rates.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Operating losses can be carried forward without time limitation but with a utilization cap per financial year of €1 million plus 50% of the taxable profit of the current financial year. Losses can be carried back only for the previous financial year, with a €1 million cap.
TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

For all types of restructurings (eg, mergers, spin-offs or partial spin-offs), a favorable tax regime may apply if the assets are transferred under special valuation rules.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

CFC rules

If a French company subject to corporate income tax in France has a foreign branch or if it holds, directly or indirectly, an interest (eg, shareholding, voting rights or a share in the profits) of at least 50% in any type of structure benefiting from a privileged tax regime in its home country (ie, effective tax paid that is 50% lower than the tax that would be paid in France in similar situations), the profits of such a foreign branch, entity or enterprise are subject to corporate income tax in France. Under certain conditions, the shareholding threshold is reduced to 5% if more than 50% of the foreign entity is held by French companies acting in concert or by entities controlled by the French company.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

No credit is given for the underlying corporate income taxes levied abroad, and, unless a relevant double tax treaty provides, foreign withholding taxes levied on the income received in France are not creditable against French tax on that income. Foreign tax paid in a tax treaty country may not be deducted from taxable income.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

A 3% tax applies in principle to all entities having immovable properties in France, irrespective of their form and whether they have the legal capacity to act as a legal entity. The 3% tax applies to corporations, funds, trusts and other institutions. In practice, this 3% tax is not due if the chain of ownership of the real property is duly disclosed to the French tax authorities.

The transfer of ownership of a real estate asset is usually subject to registration duty of 5% to 6% which may be reduced under certain conditions to 0.815% (including the real estate security contribution of 0.1%) (eg, asset dealer transactions) or to €125 (eg, acquisition of a plot of land with commitment to build on the land).

Specific rules apply to

- office sales in the Paris region and
- the sale of building plots or new buildings subject to VAT

TRANSFER PRICING

The French legislation does not make any specific references to what are acceptable transfer pricing methodologies. In practice, however, the methodologies stated in the OECD guidelines are employed in most cases.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Withholding tax may be reduced or eliminated by applicable tax treaties or EU directives. An increased withholding tax rate of 75% is levied on dividends, interest or royalties paid to a beneficiary or on an account located in a non-cooperative State or territory.

Dividends, interest, etc.

As a general rule, dividends paid to non-residents are subject to a 12.8% withholding tax for individuals or 30% withholding tax for companies. The Finance Act for 2018 provides that the withholding tax applicable to companies on dividend payments will be aligned to the French corporate tax rate as of January 1, 2020 (see Tax Rates). Until January 1, 2020, the applicable tax rate remains 30%.

Generally, no withholding tax is levied on French-source interest, provided it is arm's length.

Royalties and service fees

As a general rule, a withholding tax may be levied, at the same rate as the standard corporate income tax rate, on royalties and service fees paid to non-residents. See Tax Rates above.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

No stamp duties. The Finance Act for 2019 repealed registration duties levied on share capital increases of French companies and most reorganizations. However, registration duties at a proportional rate may be levied, in particular in the cases of acquisition of shares in a capital company, transfers of real estate assets, real estate companies or going concerns.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employees and employers must pay contributions for health insurance, unemployment insurance and the national pension scheme. These contributions are deducted at source from salary payments. Starting from 2019, income tax will have to be withheld at source by employing companies.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

GERMANY

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation that has either its registered seat or its effective place of management in Germany will be treated as a resident corporation.

Domestic

A resident corporation is subject to German tax on its worldwide income. A resident corporation generally is not subject to German tax on the income of its foreign subsidiaries unless an anti-deferral provision applies (i.e., the CFC rules).

Foreign

A non-resident corporation is taxed only on its German source income, as defined in German tax law and applicable double taxation treaties.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of corporations is based on the annual financial statements prepared under German accounting principles pursuant to the German Commercial Code, subject to adjustments for tax purposes.

Foreign

A non-resident corporation is subject to corporate income tax only on income derived from German sources. Income from German sources includes, among other items, business income from operations in the country through a branch, office or other permanent establishment, including a permanent representative, and income derived from the leasing and disposal of real estate located in Germany.

TAX RATES

The corporate income tax rate is 15% plus 5.50% solidarity surcharge levied on the corporate income tax (i.e.,...
15.825% including the solidarity surcharge).

The trade tax rate, which is levied by municipalities, varies, but in practice averages 14% to 17% of taxable income. Trade tax is based on taxable income as calculated for corporate income tax purposes. However, several income adjustments apply.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Corporate income tax returns and trade tax returns have to be filed five months after the end of the fiscal year. Tax returns prepared by a consultant have to be filed fourteen months after the end of the fiscal year.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Taxpayers can request a binding ruling from the tax authorities before executing a transaction. If the relevant tax authority issues a ruling, it is bound by it if the taxpayer has executed the transaction as described in its request.

Tax incentives

Various incentive programs exist for the promotion of modern energy generation and efficiency (e.g., solar and wind energy), as well as programs for the promotion of domestic buildings, environment protection, R&D, health care, infrastructure, and agriculture. Promotion can either be granted as a tax benefit, allowance, guarantee, loan, or participation.

CONSOLIDATION

Profits and losses of a controlled company are attributed to the controlling company if certain requirements are fulfilled and a profit and loss pooling agreement is entered into for a minimum period of 5 years. However, tax consolidation is only possible for subsidiaries with effective place of management in Germany.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends and capital gain from the sale of shares in a domestic or foreign corporation received by a corporate shareholder are generally tax-free.
An amount equal to 5% of the dividends or capital gain is treated as a non-deductible business expense and added to taxable income. In turn, the actual business expenses are fully deductible. In the case of a direct shareholding of less than 10% at the beginning of the calendar year, dividends are subject to taxation.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain of corporations, except those derived from sales of shares (i.e., participation exemption) are treated as ordinary income.

In general, a capital loss is deductible. However, a capital loss is not deductible if a gain resulting from the underlying transaction would have been exempt from tax. Consequently, a capital loss from sales of shares or write-downs on shares are not deductible.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Qualifying dividends may be eligible for preferential treatment for the recipient.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Carry-forward: Losses may be carried forward indefinitely.

Carry-back: Losses up to an amount of €1 million can be offset against the profits of the preceding year. Losses for trade tax purposes cannot be carried back.

Minimum taxation: 40% of the income exceeding €1 million cannot be sheltered by tax loss carry-forwards, but instead is subject to taxation at regular rates.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Qualifying corporate formations, combinations and divisions may be tax-free to a participating corporation and its shareholders.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Low-taxed passive income (i.e., tax rate of less than 25%) earned by a foreign corporation in which at least one German shareholder holds qualifying ownership interests (i.e., an intermediary company) is imputed pro-rata to the German shareholders and is fully subject to German taxation unless the foreign corporation is based in the EU or EEA and carries out an economic activity therein, in which case a limitation may apply.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Under German domestic tax law, income from foreign sources is usually taxable, with a credit for the paid foreign income taxes, up to the amount of German tax payable on the foreign-source income, subject to per-country limitations. Excess foreign tax credits cannot be carried back or carried forward. In general, German tax treaties provide for an exemption from German taxation of income from foreign sources except for dividends from direct shareholdings of less than 10% and interest. In some cases, the exemption under German tax treaties are subject to substance or activity requirements.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Real property tax is levied by the municipality of real estate where it is located. The rate is 3.5% of the property’s tax value, multiplied by a municipal coefficient. Real property tax will have to be substantially reformed until the end of 2019 as its calculation base (ie, property values as of 1935 respectively 1964) has been viewed as non-compliant with constitutional equality requirements by the German Federal Constitutional Court. Several different proposals are in political discussions.

TRANSFER PRICING

Transactions between affiliated parties will give rise to income adjustments to the extent that such transactions are not conducted at "arm's-length." Additionally, transactions with a foreign affiliated party are subject to extensive documentation requirements.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Dividends paid to non-resident companies: Generally, a rate of 26.375% applies (ie, 25% withholding tax (WHT) plus 5.50% solidarity surcharge on WHT, although exemptions may be available under the EU Parent-Subsidiary Directive, if applicable). There is a reduction of WHT under most German tax treaties for qualified dividends. In addition, on the basis of domestic law, foreign corporations may claim a refund of 40% of the WHT, subject to certain substance requirements.

Interest paid to non-resident companies: Generally there is no WHT, although certain exceptions apply.

Patent royalties and certain copyright royalties paid to non-resident companies: Generally 15.825% WHT applies. Exemptions may be available under the EU Interest-Royalties Directive, if applicable. There is reduction of WHT under most German tax treaties.

Service fees

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Real estate transfer tax (RETT) is levied on the transfer of German real estate, the (direct or indirect) transfer of 95% or more of the interest in a partnership owning German real estate to new partners within five years and the (direct or indirect) aggregation at the level of one shareholder or interest holder of 95% or more of the shares in a corporation or interest in a partnership owning German real estate. Furthermore, a transaction which has the effect that a taxpayer (directly or indirectly, or partly directly and partly indirectly) holds an economic participation of at least 95% in a company or partnership owning real property also triggers RETT. The tax rate ranges between 3.50% and 6.50% among the German federal states.

There are no other transfer taxes, capital duties or stamp duties.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold wage taxes (ie, withholding tax on income from employment) and 50% of the wage-related social security contributions for pension, health, nursing care and unemployment insurance.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

HONG KONG

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Residence is generally not relevant for Hong Kong tax purposes. Rather, the basis for taxation is whether or not a person carries on a trade or business in Hong Kong. Nevertheless, the concept of residence can be relevant for the purposes of Hong Kong tax treaties as well as certain exemptions (such as the offshore fund profits tax exemption). In such case, Hong Kong would follow the common law tests of residential ties for individuals and management and control for other entities.

Domestic

Hong Kong has a territorial system of taxation without a general definition of income. Generally, only:

- Profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong from a business carried on in Hong Kong
- Employment remuneration for services rendered in Hong Kong, and
- Income from real properties situated in Hong Kong can be subject to tax

Any other item of income is exempt from tax.

Foreign

There is no special regime for non-residents. A Hong Kong branch of a foreign corporation is treated the same way as a locally incorporated company and is subject to similar corporate and tax obligations as a resident company.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

For profits tax purposes, a person is taxed on its assessable profits calculated as its income minus applicable deductions. Usually the starting point of the calculation will be the financial statements of the taxpayer adjusted in accordance with the tax legislation. Adjustments can be both as to items of income (say, excluding offshore profits) or items of deductions (say, adjusting amortization claims).

Income

Generally, assessable profits include only profits arising in or derived from Hong Kong (profits sourced in Hong Kong) from a trade, profession or business carried on in Hong Kong. Source is a practical, hard matter of facts.

Specific rules may apply to certain types of receipts. For instance, a person in receipt of an amount for the use or right to use certain intellectual properties or movable property is deemed to carry on business in Hong Kong and in receipt of income arising in or derived from Hong Kong. There are also specific rules for income from an intra-group financing business.

Deductions

Expenses are generally deductible to the extent that they are incurred for the production of assessable profits and are not capital in nature, unless specifically prohibited. There are also specific rules for deductions of an intra-group financing business.

Foreign

There is no special regime for non-residents. A Hong Kong branch of a foreign corporation is treated the same way as a locally incorporated company and is subject to similar corporate and tax obligations as a resident company.

TAX RATES

Under the new two-tiered profits tax rate regime (effective from April 1, 2018), the profits tax rate for the first HK$2 million of profits of corporations will be lowered to 8.25%; profits above that amount will continue to be subject to the normal tax rate of 16.5%. The said rates apply on all assessable income with only few exceptions. The most significant one is the offshore fund profits tax exemption which exempts most profit of offshore funds carrying on business in Hong Kong. Partial rate exemption (ie, 8.25%) applies to items of income such as income from qualifying debt instruments issued in Hong Kong or the offshore business income of professional reinsurance companies or profits from contract manufacturing on the mainland. In addition, qualifying corporate treasury centers may enjoy a 50% concession (ie, 8.25%) on the prevailing rate of normal Hong Kong profits tax (ie, 16.5%) on the qualifying profits.

TAX COMPLIANCE

The year of assessment runs from April 1 to March 31. For profits tax purposes, the basis period is the accounting year of the taxpayer ended in the year of assessment.

Hong Kong taxpayers are prompted to file tax returns. The Inland Revenue Department (IRD) usually issues profits tax returns to taxpayers from April 1. In general, a corporate taxpayer is required to complete and file its profits tax return with IRD within 1 month from the date of issuance but a taxpayer with tax representative usually has an automatic extension, if the taxpayer’s financial year ends on a date between December 1 to March 31. If a taxpayer has assessable profits for a tax year, it is required to inform the IRD accordingly if it has not received a tax return.

A newly incorporated business in Hong Kong usually receives its first profits tax return around 12 to 18 months from the date of commencement of business or the date of incorporation.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Advance rulings are available to taxpayers as a paid service and are subject to certain formalities.

A taxpayer can voluntarily request for a ruling in specified areas, such as the application of the locality of profits rules or the general anti-avoidance provision, royalty payments, stock borrowing or lending and interest income exemption.

The normal processing time is 6 weeks but a complex application can take significantly more time. A ruling is final but it does not affect the taxpayer’s right of objection against a subsequent tax assessment issued in accordance with an unfavorable ruling.

Tax incentives

See Tax rates. Tax incentives are also available to certain specified areas subject to qualifying conditions, such as interest on and any profit made in respect of Renminbi sovereign bonds, capital expenditure on specified environmental protection facilities, capital expenditure on plant and machinery specifically related to manufacturing, and on computer hardware and software.

CONSOLIDATION

Although group companies in Hong Kong are permitted to prepare consolidated financials for accounting purposes, Hong Kong does not allow groups of companies to file consolidated profits tax returns. No group loss relief (eg, loss consolidation, loss transfer) for taxpayers in group companies.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION
Dividends received by a Hong Kong company are not subject to tax nor are dividends paid by a Hong Kong company to its shareholders, whether or not in Hong Kong.

CAPITAL GAIN

Hong Kong does not tax capital gains. However, the net gains on transactions deemed speculative may be taxable as a taxpayer’s trading income.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Dividends distributed by a Hong Kong company to its shareholders are tax exempt. No withholding tax is levied on the distributing Hong Kong company.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Losses attributable to the operation of the trade, profession or business carried on in Hong Kong can be carried forward indefinitely to offset against future assessable profits until fully utilized. Where a taxpayer carries on more than one trade, profession or business in Hong Kong, the losses in one can be utilized against the profits of the other.

However, losses cannot be carried back to offset against assessable profits in prior basis periods.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Ad valorem stamp duty is payable for the transfers or sales of shares or immovable property in a reorganization (see Stamp duty). Stamp duty relief for intra-group reorganization is available subject to certain conditions.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

There is no controlled foreign corporation (CFC) regime in Hong Kong.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

A deduction is available for foreign tax paid, on turnover basis, in respect of profits that are also taxable in Hong Kong. Where Hong Kong has a tax treaty with the other jurisdiction a full credit for tax paid may be available in Hong Kong.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Income derived from renting out real properties by owners in Hong Kong is subject to property tax, which is charged at a standard rate of 15% of the property’s net assessable value. It may be more beneficial for individuals to elect personal assessment, depending on actual income position. A corporation may also seek exception if the relevant rental income has already been included for profit tax assessment. Save for specific exemptions, ad valorem stamp duty is levied on sale or transfer of real properties in Hong Kong.

In addition, residential property transactions in Hong Kong can attract Stamp Duty, Buyer's Stamp Duty and Special Stamp Duty.

TRANSFER PRICING

Hong Kong has adopted the "arm's length" standard and follows the OECD guidelines generally. Hong Kong's tax treaties follow the OECD Model Tax Convention on Income and on Capital.

Recently, the Hong Kong government has gazetted the Inland Revenue (Amendment No.6) Bill to meet the international standards promulgated by OECD in BEPS Action Plan. The Bill also proposes significant legislative amendments to the transfer pricing rules in Hong Kong.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Hong Kong does not impose withholding tax on dividends, interests or rents. The only exception is on any payment made to a non-resident for the use of, or the right to use, certain intellectual property in Hong Kong, or outside Hong Kong where the payments are deductible for the taxpayer. The general tax rate is 16.5% on the assessable profits. When the payment is derived from an associate and the relevant intellectual property has once been owned by any Hong Kong taxpayer, the assessable profits are deemed to be 100% of the payment; in other circumstances, the assessable profits are generally deemed to be 30% of the payment. A tax treaty may provide for a lower rate.

Service fees

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

For shares transfer or sales of shares, ad valorem stamp duty is payable in respect of contract notes at the rate of 0.2% of the consideration or the fair market value of the shares, whichever is higher, and a fixed duty of HK$5 each is payable in respect of the instrument of transfer.

For sale or transfer of immovable property in Hong Kong, Stamp Duty applies. In addition, residential property transactions in Hong Kong may also attract Buyer's Stamp Duty and Special Stamp Duty.

In case of an intra-group transfer, a stamp exemption may apply.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employment taxes
Regardless of whether the employees are residents in Hong Kong, employers are not required to withhold tax for employees. The only exception applies if the employee intends to leave Hong Kong for over 1 month following the cessation of employment; the employer is required to give IRD a notification of such impending departure and must temporarily withhold all payment due to the employee until IRD issues a "letter of release."

Pension contributions

Employers are required to:

- Withhold 5% of their employees’ relevant income (capped) as the employees’ contributions, and
- Pay an additional 5% as their own contributions (capped), to the Mandatory Provident Fund (MPF) scheme

Currently, the maximum mandatory contributions for such MPF scheme is HK$ 1,500 (approximately US$200) for employees with a monthly relevant income exceeding HK$30,000 (approximately US$3,870). If the employee’s monthly relevant income falls under HK$7,100 (approximately US$915), their monthly contributions to MPF are not required but the employer’s contributions remain the same.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Imports into Hong Kong are generally tax-free with few exceptions. No customs or excise duty is levied on exports from Hong Kong.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation formed in an Indian jurisdiction is treated as a domestic corporation.

Domestic

A domestic corporation is subject to Indian tax on its worldwide income. A domestic corporation generally is not subject to Indian tax on the income of its foreign subsidiaries unless it is deemed to have a permanent establishment in such a country.

Foreign

Foreign corporations are not subject to Indian tax except on:

- Income arising from an Indian trade or business
- A permanent establishment or
- Corporations wholly managed and controlled from India

Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Residents are taxed on their global income less any deductions. Income derived from a foreign source by a resident company is subject to the applicable domestic tax rates.

Foreign

Foreign companies that have branches or similar establishments in India are taxed as foreign corporations. A permanent establishment of a foreign company in India may be taxed on the income attributable to such permanent establishment in India.
A foreign company will be liable to pay tax on international transactions that may indirectly affect ownership and control of Indian subsidiary subject to tax treaty.

TAX RATES

Income tax rates applicable to an individual taxpayer range from a rate of 0% to 30%. Surcharge of 10% is payable if the income of the individual taxpayer is between INR5,000,000 (Rs. 5 million) to INR10,000,000 (Rs. 10 million) and surcharge of 15% is payable if the income of the individual taxpayer exceeds INR10,000,000 (Rs. 10 million). The income tax rate for domestic companies is 25% if turnover or gross receipt of the company does not exceed INR2,500,000,000 (Rs. 2.5 billion) in the Financial Year 2016-17. A surcharge of 7% is payable if the income of the domestic company exceeds INR10,000,000 (Rs. 10 million) but does not exceed INR100,000,000 (Rs. 100 million). A surcharge of 12% is payable if the income of the domestic company exceeds INR100,000,000 (Rs. 100 million). Over and above the income tax and surcharge, health and education cess is payable at the rate of 4% of the income tax and surcharge by all taxpayers.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Due date for filing income tax return for Financial Year 2017-18 (Assessment Year 2018-19) for individuals is July 31, 2018, and for businesses the income tax returns are due on September 30, 2018. In certain instances a taxpayer may be required to make advance payments of tax on a quarterly basis on June 15, September 15, December 15 and March 15.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Every domestic corporation is subject to Minimum Alternate Tax (MAT) of 18.50%. A corporation pays the greater of its regular tax liability and its MAT tax liability. Foreign corporations may also be subject to MAT. Every Non-corporate taxpayer also is required to pay similarly Alternate Minimum Tax (AMT) of 18.5%.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Tax holidays are available to certain corporations either engaged in specific sectors such as exports or infrastructure, or to corporations that are newly formed or that are of a smaller size.

Tax rulings

An advanced ruling can be obtained by an applicant (either a non-resident or a resident transacting with a non-resident) in respect of any question of law or fact in relation to the income tax liability of the non-resident, arising out of a transaction undertaken or proposed to be undertaken.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for certain industries either based on their location in special economic zones or in backward areas or by the nature of the industry itself.

CONSOLIDATION

Consolidated tax returns are not permitted to be filed in India.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

There is no participation exemption for dividends received from, or capital gain recognized on the stock of, foreign subsidiaries.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain is taxed in India according to its classification as long term capital gain (capital assets held for over 3 years) or short term capital gain. Short term capital gain is taxed at the normal tax rates, whereas adjustments for inflation are permissible in relation to long term capital gain. Capital gains on disposal of shares of companies qualify for shorter holding period as well as different rates depending on whether they are publically listed on recognized stock exchange in India or not.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions of dividends by a corporation are subject to dividend distribution tax in the hands of the corporation. Recipient non-resident is exempt from tax on dividend on which dividend distribution tax has been paid by the corporation.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Business or Profession losses may be carried forward eight years. However, unabsorbed depreciation may be carried forward indefinitely. Short-term loss may be set off against both short term and long term capital gain. However, long-term loss may be set off only against long term gain.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Qualifying corporate formations, combinations and divisions may be tax-free to a participating corporation and its shareholders, except to the extent of any non-qualifying property received.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

India presently has in place certain General Anti-Avoidance Rules (GAAR) or Specific Anti-Avoidance Rules (SAAR) pertaining to anti-deferral of taxes. GAAR will not apply in an arrangement where the tax benefit in the relevant assessment year does not exceed a sum of INR 30,000,000 (Rs. 30 million).
FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Subject to limitations, foreign tax credits are available for foreign taxes paid. The foreign tax credit is governed by the clauses of the relevant Tax Treaty (relief from double taxation). Further, the Central Board of Direct Taxes has also promulgated Foreign Tax Credit Rules.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Foreign investment in real estate in India is highly regulated. A foreign company may acquire immovable property for business purposes, but amounts received for sale of such immovable property may only be repatriated to the extent paid for such immovable property.

TRANSFER PRICING

Transfer Pricing must be conducted on an “arm’s-length” basis and computed using any of the following methods:

- Comparable uncontrolled price method
- Resale price method
- Cost plus method
- Profit split method
- Transactional net margin method, or
- Any other method that takes into account the price which has been charged or paid, or would have been charged or paid, for the same or similar uncontrolled transaction, with or between non-associated enterprises, under similar circumstances, considering all the relevant facts

It is possible to enter into Unilateral/Bilateral Advance Pricing Agreements with the Tax Authorities.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Withholding tax at differing rates applies to royalties, interest, fees for technical services and other income paid by a domestic corporation to a foreign person, subject to reduction by an applicable income tax treaty.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

ROC charges are payable when the authorized share capital of a company is increased, at progressive rates depending on the value of capital. Stamp duties and transfer taxes may be imposed at the state or local level.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES
Employers must withhold income tax at the applicable rates. Employers must also withhold and pay social security tax in respect of compensation paid to employees. These taxes are deductible by an employer for Indian income tax purposes. Professional taxes may be payable in some states of India.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Service fees

Withholding tax on fees for technical or consultancy services applies to payments made to non-residents. Corresponding provisions of the relevant tax treaty may be examined to ascertain any relief or exemption.

Goods and Services Tax

Goods and Services Tax (GST) is an indirect tax that came into effect on July 1, 2017. GST is levied at every stage of production-distribution chain with applicable set off credits in respect of tax paid at previous stages. Goods and services are divided into 5 tax slabs for collection of tax - 0%, 5%, 12%, 18% and 28% with lower rates for essential items and the highest for luxury and de-merits goods. Petroleum products and alcoholic drinks are taxed separately by the individual state governments.

Any services offered by Indian resident to a person resident outside India are usually treated as "export of service" and are thus exempt from levy of GST which is otherwise payable at 18% rate. This is subject to certain exceptions.

Following are the different types of levies in GST:

- Central GST (CGST)
- State GST (SGST)/Union Territory GST (UTGST)
- Integrated GST (IGST)

SGST is levied along with CGST on the supply made by a registered person within a State and UTGST is levied along with CGST on the supply made by a registered person within a Union Territory. However, in no case, both SGST and UTGST are levied on an invoice of supply of goods or services or both. It is either be SGST or UTGST along with CGST which can be levied on the invoice. IGST can be levied on Import or Inter-State supply of goods or services or both. IGST is equivalent to sum total of CGST and SGST/UTGST.

IRELAND

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A company incorporated in Ireland on or after 1 January 2015 is regarded as tax resident in Ireland, unless a tax treaty provides otherwise.

Domestic

An Irish resident company is subject to Irish tax on its worldwide income and gains.

Foreign

A non-Irish resident company is not subject to Irish tax on income unless it carries on a trade in Ireland through a branch or agency or it receives income from Irish sources (e.g., income from the rent of Irish properties). A non-Irish resident company is not subject to Irish tax on capital gains unless it makes a disposal of:

- Irish land
- Irish minerals or mining rights
- Unquoted shares deriving their value from (1) or (2) above, or
- Irish situate assets which at or before the time when the gains accrued were used in or for the purposes of a trade carried on by the company in Ireland through a branch or agency

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of an Irish tax resident company is calculated by deducting allowable deductions (expenses, allowances and reliefs) from the profits and other income.

TAX RATES
Corporate tax is applied at two rates, 12.50% for trading income and 25% for non-trading (passive) income.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Corporate tax returns are generally due by the 21st day of the ninth month following the end of the relevant company’s accounting period. This may be extended to the 23rd day of such month for companies that file their corporate tax returns online and pay any associated tax due via Revenue’s Online Service. Companies are also obliged to pay preliminary tax.

In the case of “large companies” (ie companies which in their preceding accounting period had a tax liability exceeding €200,000.00), there is an obligation to pay preliminary tax in two installments. The first installment will be payable by the 21st/23rd day of the sixth month of the accounting period in the amount of 50% of the corporate tax liability for the preceding accounting period or 45% of the corporate tax liability for the current period. The second installment is payable by the 21st/23rd day of the 11th month of the accounting period and the amount payable must bring the total preliminary tax paid to 90% of the company’s corporate tax liability for the current accounting period. The balance of tax due is payable when the corporate tax return is due to be filed (ie 21st/23rd day of the ninth month after the end of the accounting period).

In the case of “small companies” (ie companies which in their preceding account period had a tax liability of less than €200,000.00), there is an obligation to pay preliminary tax in one installment only. This installment is payable by the 21st/23rd day of the 11th month of the accounting period in the amount of 100% of the corporate tax liability for the preceding accounting period or 90% of the corporate tax liability for the current period.

New or start-up companies with a corporation tax liability of €200,000 or less in their first accounting period are not required to pay preliminary tax for that period. Rather, the final tax liability for that period for such companies is due and payable when the corporation tax return is filed.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable.

Tax rulings

Rulings are not generally available from the tax authority.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives available for specific activities, including, for example, a knowledge development box regime for IP, R&D tax credits and tax depreciation on the purchase of intellectual property.
CONSOLIDATION

Certain loss reliefs can be grouped (see below). However, there is no concept of fiscal unity.

Companies with close organizational, financial and economic links may form a VAT group. All companies in the group are jointly and separately liable for the VAT of the group.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

An exemption from corporate tax on chargeable gains applies to Irish resident companies on disposals of shareholdings in subsidiary companies, subject to the following conditions:

- The subsidiary must be resident in the EU or in a country which has signed a double-taxation treaty with Ireland
- The disposing company must hold 5% of the ordinary share capital of the subsidiary for a minimum of 12 continuous months. The disposing company must also be entitled to 5% of the subsidiary’s distributable profits and 5% of the subsidiary’s assets on a winding-up for this 12 month period; and
- The subsidiary must be a trading company or the disposing company, the subsidiary and all of the disposing company’s 5% subsidiaries must form a trading group

Ireland does not have a participation exemption for dividends. The tax treatment of dividends is discussed below.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gains of a company are taxed at 33%. Capital losses may be set off against chargeable gains arising in the same tax year. Unused capital losses can be carried forward and set off against chargeable gains in future years. Excess capital losses can generally only be carried forward.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Dividends received by an Irish resident company from another Irish resident company are usually exempt from Irish tax, including dividend withholding tax. The 12.5% corporation tax rate applies (on election) in respect of foreign dividends paid out of EU/treaty country trading profits where either the divided paying company:

- Is resident in the EU/treaty country, or
- Is a publicly quoted company or a 75% subsidiary of a publicly quoted company

Corporation tax at the rate of 25% applies to foreign dividends sourced from other companies or from non-trading profits.

Ireland provides for unilateral credit relief for foreign withholding tax and underlying taxes on dividends paid to an Irish resident company. A minimum shareholding of 5% applies. The foreign tax is available as a credit against Irish tax and where the foreign tax exceeds the Irish tax on the dividend, the excess can be pooled and offset against Irish tax on other foreign dividends received in the same accounting period. Any balance unused can be carried forward and used in subsequent accounting periods. This credit system often operates to eliminate any additional Irish taxes on the receipt of foreign dividends.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Relief for trading losses is available by way of set-off against all other relevant trading income of the company in the same period and of the immediately preceding accounting period of equal length. Relevant trading losses can also be used to shelter foreign dividends which the company elects to tax at 12.50%. Any remaining trading losses can be set-off against all other income and profits of the company in the accounting period and in the immediately preceding accounting period of equal length on a value basis. Unused trading losses may be carried forward indefinitely for offset against future income of the same trade.

A member of a group of companies may surrender current year trading losses to another group member. A number of conditions must be met for group relief to be available (corresponding accounting period, 75% subsidiaries, tax resident in a Member State of the EU, etc).

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Relief from stamp duty and CGT is available on certain intra-group reorganization transactions.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Not applicable.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Ireland operates a credit system in respect of tax (including withholding tax and underlying tax) paid on dividends, interest and royalties. Onshore dividend pooling of foreign dividends is also available.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Stamp duty applies to documents which effect certain transactions, including transfers and lease transactions involving real property. The rate of stamp duty varies depending on the transaction (ie whether the creation of a lease or the transfer of a property interest) and whether the land is residential or non-residential. Stamp duty arises on the transfer of non-residential land at a rate of 2%.

Irish CGT is chargeable on the disposal of Irish land or buildings irrespective of whether the disposer is an Irish tax resident company or a non-Irish tax resident company.

If the consideration for the sale of Irish land or buildings exceeds €500,000.00\(^1\), the purchaser is required to withhold tax of 15% of the consideration and remit it to Revenue within 30 working days of closing. This requirement may be avoided where a form CG50A is produced. A form CG50A can be obtained where:
• The vendor is resident in Ireland
• No CGT is payable pursuant to the transfer, or
• CGT has already been paid

An annual self-assessed Local Property Tax is charged on the market value of all residential properties.

VAT can arise on the supply of real property.

1 €1,000,000 in the case of residential property.

TRANSFER PRICING

Transfer pricing rules are applied on an “arm's-length” basis to transactions involving Irish trading companies. Irish transfer pricing rules follow OECD principles. Arrangements concluded before July 1, 2010 are excluded from the transfer pricing rules under grandfathering provisions.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Withholding tax applies in Ireland at a rate of 20%. However, a number of domestic exemptions exist to remove the withholding obligation.

In the case of dividends, available exemptions include where dividends are paid to:

• A company or person resident in an EU/treaty country and not under the control of Irish residents

• A company that is not resident in an EU/treaty country but is controlled by a person(s) who is/are resident in an EU/treaty country and which person(s) is/are not under the control of a person(s) not resident outside an EU/treaty country, or

• A listed company or a 75% subsidiary of a listed company

Withholding taxes apply to the payment of patent royalties. An exemption from withholding tax exists for certain patent royalties paid to persons resident in the EU or a double tax treaty company. It is also possible to pay patent royalties to non-Irish, non-treaty persons free from withholding tax in certain circumstances. A number of exemptions apply in relation to the payment of interest such as:

• Interest paid by a company (in the ordinary course of a trade or business) to a company resident in an EU/treaty country (other than Ireland) where that jurisdiction imposes a tax which generally applies to interest receivable from foreign territories (except where such interest is paid to that company in collection with a trade or business which is carried on in Ireland by that company through a branch or agency)

- Cross-border interest payments between associated companies in the EU (25% ownership is required or at least 25% of each company is owned by a third company)

- Interest paid to another Irish resident company where both Irish resident companies are members of the same group (51% relationship required)

- Interest paid by a company to an approved pension scheme, and

- Interest paid on a quoted Eurobond

Withholding tax must be deducted from rental payments made to non-residents.

Service fees

Not applicable.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

No capital duty applies in Ireland. Stamp duty generally applies to certain documents which are executed in Ireland or, wherever executed, relate to any property situated in Ireland or any matter or thing to be done in Ireland. The rate of stamp duty varies depending on the nature of the transaction and the assets. The transfer of Irish shares is subject to 1% stamp duty and the transfer of non-residential land is subject to stamp duty at 2%. Intellectual property transfers should be exempt pursuant to the terms of a specific relief.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Under the pay as you earn or PAYE system, employers must deduct any income tax, PRSI (pay related social insurance) and USC (universal social charge) due each time a payment of wages, salary and other benefits in kind etc. is made to an employee. Employers also make a contribution to PRSI.

Income tax is levied at 20% and a higher threshold of 40% applies to income over a certain threshold (which depends on the marital status of the employee). The Universal Social Charge applies to employees taxed under the PAYE system at a rate of 0.5%, 2.5%, 5% or 8% of gross income depending on the level of income earned.
Self-employed persons earning over €100,000 may be subject to Universal Social Charge at a rate of up to 11%.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable.

ISRAEL

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation is considered an Israeli resident, for tax purposes, if it is incorporated in Israel, or if its business is managed and controlled in Israel.

Domestic

An Israeli resident corporation is subject to Israeli tax on its worldwide income, including capital gains. A foreign tax credit may be granted for tax paid in other jurisdictions.

Foreign

A nonresident corporation is subject to tax in Israel on its Israeli source income, including capital gains from dispositions of Israeli assets. Israeli source income also includes income attributed to business activity carried out in Israel. If a nonresident corporation is entitled to the benefits of a treaty for the avoidance of double taxation, the threshold regarding the level of business activity in Israel is raised and requires the existence of a permanent establishment in Israel.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

The taxable income of an Israeli resident corporation is the income from the sources stipulated under law, including capital gains, as reduced by applicable:

- Deductions
- Offsets and credits and
- Exemptions

Foreign

The taxable income of a nonresident corporation having business activity in Israel (or a permanent establishment in Israel in the case of a corporation entitled to treaty benefits) is generally similar to that of an Israeli resident corporation.

TAX RATES

Both ordinary income and real capital gains of a corporation are subject to a flat tax rate of 23%.

These rates might be significantly reduced if the corporation is entitled to one of the incentive regimes discussed under Tax incentives.

TAX COMPLIANCE

The tax year begins on January 1, and ends on December 31 of each calendar year. In special circumstances and subject to a pre-approval, a substituted period of 12 consecutive months may be adopted as the tax year.

Corporations' annual tax returns are due by the end of the fifth month after the end of the fiscal year. An extension to file is routinely obtained.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

No broad-based rulings are available. Under certain circumstances, taxpayers can request a private letter ruling that would apply only to a specific issue. Rulings are published on a no-names basis.

Tax incentives

Subject to certain conditions, Israeli corporations may qualify for and benefit from certain tax incentives regimes, some of which are discussed under Participation exemption.

A corporation that qualifies as a Preferred Enterprise would be entitled to a reduced tax rate on its Preferred Income of 16%, or 7.5% if the enterprise is located in a peripheral zone. Dividend distributed from Preferred Income is subject to tax at the rate of 20% (which may be further reduced according to the applicable treaty).

A Special Preferred Enterprise is generally a Preferred Enterprise that:

- Has been pre-approved by the Israel Tax Authority and
- Has Preferred Income of at least NIS1 billion and revenues, on a consolidated basis, of at least NIS10 billion

A Special Preferred Enterprise may be entitled to a further reduced tax rate of 8%, or 5% if located in a peripheral zone.

New legislation, which became effective January 1, 2017, provides a new incentive regime for a Preferred Technological Enterprise. An enterprise that meets the requirements would be entitled to a reduced corporate tax on income related to its intellectual property of 12%, or 7.5% if located in a preferential zone. Dividend distributed from the preferred income would be subject to 20% tax, or 4% if distributed to a foreign corporation that owns at least 90% of the shares of the Israeli corporation. The Israeli tax on dividends may be further reduced according to an applicable treaty.

The new legislation also provides that a Special Technological Preferred Enterprise is a Technological Preferred Enterprise that is part of an affiliated group with revenues, on a consolidated basis, of at least NIS10 billion and that such corporation would be entitled to a reduced tax rate on the IP related income of 6%.

CONSOLIDATION

Filing consolidated tax returns is generally not permitted with a narrow exception in the case of "industrial companies."

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Israeli corporations, which are entitled to the participation exemption regime, are entitled to a tax exemption on:

- Dividends received from a "qualified foreign subsidiary"
- Capital gains derived from the sale of shares of such subsidiary and
- Financial income derived from investments on TASE

Dividends paid from a holding company to nonresidents will be entitled to a reduced withholding tax rate of 5%. In practice, this regime is rarely in use.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gains derived by corporations are generally taxed at the same rate as ordinary income. The inflationary component of the capital gain accrued from 1994 and onwards is exempt from tax. With few exceptions, capital gains are not eligible for the reduced tax rates under the tax incentive regimes mentioned above.

Israeli resident corporations are subject to tax on capital gains regardless of the of the asset location.

Nonresident corporations are subject to tax in Israel on capital gains from disposition of:

- Assets located in Israel
• Assets located outside of Israel if the assets are essentially a direct or indirect right to assets or inventory located in Israel, real estate in Israel, or an Israeli real estate company (with respect to the part attributable to Israeli assets)

• Shares in an Israeli company or

• Shares of a foreign company that is essentially a holder of Israeli assets (with respect to the part attributable to Israeli assets)

Capital gains of a foreign resident from the disposition of securities purchased on the TASE, except for interests in REITs (including a company that ceased from being a REIT) and short term governmental bonds, are exempt from tax.

Capital gains of a foreign resident from the disposition of private company shares, which were bought during or after 2009, are generally exempt from tax, unless the Israeli company value is mainly derived, directly or indirectly, from Israeli real estate, the right to use Israeli real estate or the right to exploit natural resources in Israel.

These exemptions will not apply if the capital gains are attributed to a permanent establishment in Israel.

Capital gains may also be exempt under an applicable tax treaty.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Dividends paid by an Israeli corporation to another Israeli corporation are not subject to tax if paid out of income that was subject to corporate tax at the regular rate.

Dividends paid by an Israeli corporation to an individual or to a foreign corporation are subject to tax at the rate of 25%, or 30% if the shareholder is (or was during the 12 months prior to the distribution) a "significant shareholder." A shareholder is generally considered a significant shareholder if he or she holds 10% or more of the economic or voting rights in the company.

LOSS UTILIZATION

There are different utilization rules for current and carried forward net operating losses and capital losses. Both capital losses and net operating losses which were not utilized in the current tax year may be carried forward indefinitely. Carry back of losses is not available.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Tax-free mergers and spin-offs are achievable provided that certain conditions are satisfied. Some of the tax-free reorganizations are subject to a pre-ruling from the Israel Tax Authority.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Under the Israeli controlled foreign company (CFC) rules, the undistributed passive income of certain nonresident corporations which was taxed at a rate less than 15%, will be subject to Israeli tax as if such passive income were distributed.

Israel also applies the anti-deferral regime of "professional foreign company" and to certain local, closely-held "service companies."

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Israel grants a tax credit for taxes paid to a foreign jurisdiction on foreign source income. The credit is subject to certain restrictions including the application of the "baskets method."

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Disposition of real estate assets (or shares in real estate companies) is subject to land betterment tax which is similar to capital gain tax.

Purchase of real estate assets (or shares in real estate companies) is generally subject to a purchase tax at a rate of 6%. A purchase of a residential apartment is subject to a purchase tax in a progressive rate of up to 10%.

TRANSFER PRICING

Israel applies arm’s-length principles to transactions between related entities. The Israeli rules correspond to the OECD guidelines.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents etc

Israel imposes extensive tax withholding requirements according to which almost any payment is subject to tax withholding unless a valid certificate is obtained from the tax authorities. For example, dividends are subject to tax withholding at the rate of 25%-30% and interest paid to a foreign corporation is subject to tax withholding at the corporate tax rate (currently 23%). These rates may be reduced under an applicable treaty.

Service fees

Withholding tax may apply to certain payments for services rendered by a non-resident, particularly where the services are rendered in Israel.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

There is no Israeli capital duty or stamp duty.

VAT at a flat rate of 17% is imposed on most goods sold and services rendered. Export of goods and intangible assets are generally subject to zero rate VAT. Provision of services to non-residents may also enjoy the zero rate
VAT under certain conditions.

Purchase tax is imposed on the purchase of real property or interest in real estate company, as described under Special rules applicable to real property.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold income tax from employees’ salary according to their individual tax rate, of up to 50%.

Employers must also withhold national insurance and health care tax at the aggregate rate of up to 19.5%. The burden of such taxes is divided between the employer and the employee and is subject to a cap.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation is considered to be resident in Italy if it has its legal seat, its place of management or its main business activity therein for the major part of the fiscal year. A foreign corporation can be deemed to be resident in Italy when it owns a controlling participation in an Italian company and:

- is controlled, even indirectly, by resident entities or
- the board of directors (or similar body of management) is mainly formed by Italian resident directors

Domestic

Resident corporations are taxable in Italy on their worldwide income. Italian permanent establishments of foreign entities are subject to taxation in the same manner as domestic corporations.

Foreign

Foreign corporations may be subject to Italian taxation on corporate income that is considered Italian source. Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes. Specific anti-deferral provisions apply to foreign-controlled companies.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of domestic corporations for corporate income tax purposes (IRES) is equal to their business income less applicable deductions.

Foreign

Foreign corporations are taxed on the amount of income generated in Italy, generally without any deduction.

TAX RATES
The IRES standard rate equals 24%. Specific surcharges are applied to specific sectors.

TAX COMPLIANCE

The IRES tax return is due within ten months after the fiscal period end.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Non-operating companies are subject to a minimum level tax, depending on the assets they own.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

No broad-based rulings are available. On certain issues, taxpayers can file a ruling request to ask for interpretation of a specific issue by the tax authorities. Companies that wish to invest no less than 20 million Euros in Italy may benefit from a special ruling procedure, designed to ascertain the tax consequences of presented investment plan and/or tax consequences of the extraordinary transactions that will be carried out to structure the proposed investment plan. Furthermore, major companies (with revenues exceeding 10 billion Euros) may enter into a cooperative compliance regime with the Italian Tax Authorities.

Tax incentives

Tax incentives are available for specific activities, including R&D credits, patent box regime and deductions for certain activities. The notional deduction for capital injection (ACE) previously available has been repealed starting from 2019.

CONSOLIDATION

Eligible corporations that are affiliated (generally based on at least 50% stock ownership) may elect to compute corporate income tax on a consolidated basis.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends received from domestic and foreign corporations are 95% excluded from taxable basis, unless they are distributed by affiliates with a privileged tax treatment. The participation exemption on capital gain from the sale of participations applies when certain requirements are met, allowing an exemption of 95% of the capital gain.

CAPITAL GAIN
Capital gain is generally included in taxable income. If the asset has been held for at least three years, the capital gain can be included over up to five years. 95% of the capital gain on sales of participation can be exempted if certain requirements are satisfied, as described above.

DISTRIBUTIONS

As noted above, dividends from qualifying domestic and foreign shareholdings may be eligible for an exclusion from taxable income.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Tax loss can be carried forward without any time limitation, but can be used to offset only up to 80% of taxable income. Tax losses incurred in the first three years of activities can be used to entirely offset subsequent years' taxable income. Tax losses cannot be carried back.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Group reorganizations are ordinarily tax neutral for the corporations involved. Special rules apply to cross-border reorganizations.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

CFC

Income derived from controlled foreign companies (CFC) resident in a country with a privileged tax system is subject to taxation at the level of the Italian corporation under a tax transparency principle, unless the controlling company can demonstrate that

- the CFC carries out an effective business activity or
- the participation in the CFC does not result in the allocation of income in a privileged tax jurisdiction (for this purposes a specific ruling request might be filed with the Italian Tax Authorities).

As a general rule, a country is considered with a privileged tax system if it has a nominal level of taxation lower than 50% of the taxation level in Italy. Income derived from CFCs are specifically reported in the tax return of the controlling entities.

Specific CFC provisions also apply to passive "white-listed" CFCs (ie, CFCs resident in a "white-listed" country with an effective tax rate lower than 50% of the Italian tax rate and that derive more than 50% of their income from holding or investment in securities, participations, exploitation of intangible assets, etc).

General Anti-Avoidance Rule

Italian tax authorities may disregard any act put in place without a valid economic reason and for the sole purpose
FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Subject to limitations, foreign tax credits are available for foreign taxes paid.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TRANSFER PRICING

"Arm's-length" principles generally apply to international transactions between related entities. Italian tax rules make reference to the OECD guidelines.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Dividends paid to foreign entities are subject to ordinary withholding tax at the rate of 26%. Dividends paid to EU countries and EEA "white-listed" countries subject to corporate tax in their country of residence are subject to 1.20% withholding tax. A tax treaty can reduce the above mentioned rate.

Exemption from withholding tax is provided under the EU Parent-Subsidiary Directive on dividends paid to qualifying shareholders. Among the other requirements, the participation must be at least equal to 10% and must be held for at least 12 months.

Interest paid to non-resident entities is subject to 26% withholding tax. A tax treaty can reduce the above-mentioned rate. The Interest and Royalties directive provides for an exemption on interest and royalties paid to qualifying EU shareholders or affiliate entities.

Royalties are subject to 30% withholding tax, generally applied on 75% of the amount of the royalties. Tax treaties and the EU interest and Royalties directive can reduce or eliminate the withholding tax.

Service fees

In principle, no withholding tax is applied on service fees.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

No capital duty. Stamp duties and transfer taxes may be imposed on specific corporate transactions.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES
Employers must withhold an advance payment of individual income tax on salaries paid to employees. Employers also must pay social security contributions in respect of compensation paid to employees. These taxes are deductible by an employer for IRES and for IRAP but only if related to open ended working relationship.

IRAP

In addition to corporate income tax (IRES), local income tax is levied at the level of Italian corporations (ie, IRAP). IRAP is levied on the net value of the production generated in each Italian region, computed as the difference between revenues and production costs. Employment expenses (if not related to open ended relationships), write-down of assets and other specific costs are not deductible. The IRAP tax rate is equal to 3.90%, but any region can decide to increase the tax rate up to 4.82%. IRAP is deductible from corporate income tax up to an amount of 10% of IRAP paid.

Specific IRAP provisions apply to banks and financial institutions.

JAPAN

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation having its head office or main office in Japan will be treated as a domestic corporation.

Domestic

A domestic corporation is subject to Japanese corporate tax on its worldwide income.

Foreign

A foreign corporation is subject to Japanese corporate tax only on income derived from sources in Japan; however, tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes. If a foreign corporation has a permanent establishment in Japan, such foreign corporation is subject to Japanese corporate tax on income attributable to its permanent establishment in Japan.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of a domestic corporation is equal to all gross income less applicable deductions.

Foreign

The scope of taxable income for a foreign corporation depends on the existence of its permanent establishment in Japan. If a foreign corporation does not have a permanent establishment in Japan, the tax liability of the foreign corporation is usually settled solely through a withholding tax. Under Japanese tax laws, if a foreign corporation has a permanent establishment in Japan, corporate tax is imposed on its income derived from sources in Japan, such as the taxable income of a domestic corporation. However, tax treaties may exempt a foreign corporation from taxation on industrial or commercial profits earned in Japan to the extent that the income is not attributable to its permanent establishment in Japan.

TAX RATES
For corporate tax, the basic national corporate tax rate is 23.2% for taxable years commencing from April 1, 2018 or later. Corporations are also subject to local taxes, which increase the standard effective tax rate to 30.62% (if the office is located in Tokyo). Since April 2016, the amended Corporation Tax Act has come into force, and corporate tax on a foreign corporation with a permanent establishment in Japan is imposed on its income attributable to the permanent establishment in Japan. According to the 2019 Japan tax reform outline, the applicable period for the reduction of corporate income tax rate (which is 15% of income equal to or less than 8 million yen per annum) for small and medium enterprises will be extended by two years.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Corporate tax is paid through a self-assessment system, by which taxpayers determine and pay their own tax obligations. If a taxpayer makes an incorrect or intentionally false tax return, the tax authority may order resubmission of a corrected tax return and payment of a penalty.

Tax return documentation must be submitted within two months from the day after the ending date of each fiscal year. However, the due date of a tax return filing can be extended for up to three months. For certain corporations, an interim tax return filing is also required.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Under Japanese tax law, there are no taxes that are equivalent to the Alternative Minimum Tax.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

The National Tax Agency provides a procedure for obtaining an advance ruling on the tax treatment of a completed or future transaction if the law at issue has not previously been clarified, but this process must occur before the tax return filing deadline for the tax period in which such transaction is carried out.

Tax incentives

There are various tax incentives for specific activities, including R&D credits and special depreciation rules.

CONSOLIDATION

The consolidated taxation system is applicable to a group of Japanese corporations in which a Japanese corporation directly or indirectly owns 100% ownership of other Japanese corporations, and it is optional for applicable corporations.
PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Under Japanese tax law, there is no participation exemption for dividends received from, or capital gain recognized on the stock of, foreign subsidiaries. However, there is an exemption for dividends received from foreign subsidiaries (the so-called 95% foreign dividend exemption rule). Under this rule, if a Japanese shareholder has held 25% or more of the interest of a foreign company (the percentage could be lowered if a relevant tax treaty is applicable) for at least six months prior to the dividend determination date, 95% of dividends received from such foreign company, excluding the portion deductible in the foreign company’s residing country, may be exempt from taxable income.

CAPITAL GAIN

Generally, capital gain recognized by a corporation is taxed at the same rate as ordinary income. Capital loss may reduce capital gain but not ordinary income. However, with respect to share transfers in certain types of reorganizations, no capital gain is recognized.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporation are treated as dividends to shareholders, which are not deductible, unless a corporation fulfills requirements set forth under the Asset Liquidation Law or similar special laws.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Net operating losses may be carried back to the preceding year or carried forward nine years. Only a "medium- and small-sized company" with capital of JPY 100 million or less and whose parent's capital is less than JPY 500 million can carry back its losses. On the other hand, every company with losses may carry forward their losses, but a medium- and small-sized company can offset 100% of its taxable income through its losses, while others can offset a maximum of 55% (this will be reduced to 50% for those with business years commencing in April 2018 or later) of taxable income.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

If a corporation transfers its assets to another corporation pursuant to a corporate division, a merger, an investment in kind, a dividend in kind or a share transfer (reorganization), and the reorganization is a “qualified reorganization” for corporate tax purposes, the recognition of the gains and losses on the transfer of the assets will be deferred.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

The CFC Rules are subdivided according to the income tax rates levied on a foreign subsidiary as follows:

- when the tax burden on a foreign subsidiary is 30% or higher, the CFC Rules are not applicable. When the tax burden on a foreign subsidiary is between 20% and 30%, the CFC Rules are applicable to the domestic corporation if the foreign subsidiary falls into any of certain designated categories, such as a shell company, a cash-box company or a company located in blacklisted country or territory

- when the tax burden on a foreign subsidiary is under 20%, the CFC Rules are applicable to the domestic corporation if the foreign subsidiary does not satisfy certain requirements or if it earns passive income, such as income derived from interest, dividends, securities lending, leases of tangible property or excessive profits compared to capital

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

The foreign taxes levied on a Japanese domestic corporation in the ordinary course of its business may be credited against Japanese corporate tax.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Capital gain on sales of real estate in Japan accruing to a foreign corporation is subject to Japanese corporate tax at regular corporate tax rates. In addition, if a foreign corporation sells shares of a Japanese corporation of which 50% or more of its assets are real estate assets, the capital gain on the sale of shares will be included in taxable income subject to regular corporate tax, unless otherwise stated under the applicable tax treaty.

TRANSFER PRICING

When a corporation sells to, purchases from, provides services for or carries on other transactions with a foreign related person with which it has a special relationship, and its taxable income is less than the amount calculated under “arm’s-length” principles, these transactions will be deemed to have been conducted at “arm’s-length” prices, and the differential amount either will be included in, or will not be deductible from, the taxable income of the corporation.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, service fees, etc

Items of income (including dividends, royalties, interest, rent and service fees) paid to a foreign corporation are generally subject to Japanese withholding income tax at a rate of 20.42% (15.315% for bond interest). However, double tax treaties may grant a special concession to a resident individual or a resident corporation in a foreign jurisdiction. Some double tax treaties provide that a person with dual residence may be determined to be a person with single residence by mutual agreement between competent authorities. In order to enjoy benefits under double tax treaties, an application form must be filed with the relevant tax office before the first payment between parties is made.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Upon incorporation of a company or an increase in registered capital, a certain amount of the registration tax is required that is based on the capital amount. Stamp duty may be imposed depending on the types of the documents or agreements. With respect to transfer taxes, an acquirer (a new owner) of real estate must pay the real estate acquisition tax, and the fixed asset tax must be paid by the publicly registered owner of fixed assets by January 1 of each year. Also, the registration tax is required for a real estate registration in order to perfect the transfer.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

An employer must withhold certain amounts on salary payments to employees. Under the withholding tax system, an employee does not pay the income tax directly to the tax authority. Instead, the employer is required to withhold a certain amount of money and pay that amount to the tax authority on behalf of the employee. Most Japanese employees do not file a tax return because their income tax has already been paid by withholding from their salary income. It is possible to get a tax refund by filing a tax return if the amount of income withheld exceeds the income tax that should have been imposed. The tax return made by employees is relatively rare because employers frequently adjust withholding tax in the later months of the year to account for their employees’ deductible expenses.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

It is expected that Consumption tax rate will increase from 8% to 10% on 1 October 2019.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A company is considered as a resident if its legal seat or central administration is in Luxembourg.

Domestic

A resident company is taxed on its worldwide income, unless a double tax treaty provides for an exemption.

Foreign

A non-resident company is only taxed on Luxembourg-source income.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income is calculated based on the profit as stated in the commercial balance sheet, plus certain adjustments provided under the tax law (e.g., non-deductibility of taxes, exemption for dividends, etc).

Foreign

A corporate non-resident entity is subject to corporate income tax only on income generated in Luxembourg. Income from Luxembourg sources include commercial income realized by a permanent establishment/representative in Luxembourg, income from the lease of property, securities income, etc.

TAX RATES

As of January 1, 2018, the tax reform brought some changes:

- the corporate income tax (CIT) rate has been reduced from 19% (2017) to 18%, leading to an overall tax rate for companies of 26.01% in Luxembourg City (taking into account the solidarity surtax of 7% and including 6.75% municipal business tax rate applicable and which may vary depending on the seat of the company). This measure was planned in order to strengthen the competitiveness of companies.
TAX COMPLIANCE

The tax year for a company is either the calendar year or the company’s accounting year ending in a particular calendar year.

Corporate income tax, net worth tax and municipal business tax returns must be submitted before 31 May of the following tax year (this date may be extended upon request).

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Luxembourg operates a system known as Advance Tax Agreement, enabling taxpayers to request an advance tax decision from the Luxembourg tax authorities. An administrative fee will apply.

Tax incentives

Various incentive programs exist in Luxembourg in the areas of risk capital, audiovisual activities, environmental protection, R&D (experimental development, experimental development and cooperation, industrial research, industrial research and cooperation or fundamental research), intellectual property, professional training and recruitment of unemployed persons. Most of the promotions are granted as tax credit.

Furthermore, several incentive programs exist for certain entities: investment funds (which are subject to several exemptions), private wealth management company (Société de gestion du Patrimoine Familial or SPF) (which is exempt from Luxembourg taxation on income and NWT in Luxembourg), securitization companies (SCs) (which are exempt of NWT), venture capital vehicle (Société d’Investissement en Capital à Risques or SICAR) (incorporated under a corporate form, the SICAR is subject to income tax at the normal rate with the benefit of an exemption on income and gains (eg, dividends, capital gains, liquidation proceeds, interest) under certain condition) and shipping companies (which are not subject to municipal business tax and can benefit from investment tax credits and accelerated depreciation).

CONSOLIDATION

A group of companies, under certain conditions, may apply the tax consolidation regime in Luxembourg. In practice, the tax consolidation regime enables the group to pool or offset the respective taxable profit of each company in the group and to be taxed on the aggregate amount (i.e., a group of companies is treated as a single taxpayer). Losses incurred by one of a group companies are accordingly offset by the profits realized by another group company.

The main requirements are the following:

- A minimum shareholding (95%) must be held without interruption from the beginning of the financial year to which the tax consolidation regime is applied
- Group companies must begin and end their financial years on the same date
- The companies concerned must be linked for at least 5 financial years
- Tax consolidation is requested jointly to the tax authorities

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends and gains derived by a Luxembourg entity from a qualifying participation (broadly any entity subject to a corporate income tax rate of at least 9.5%) may be tax exempt if certain conditions in terms of shareholdings are met.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gains generally are taxed as ordinary income and the standard corporate tax rate is levied. Nonetheless, capital gains derived from the sale of shares may be exempt from corporate income tax if the conditions for the participation exemption are met.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Not applicable.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Carry-forward: Losses generated from January 1, 2017 can be carried forward for a maximum period of 17 years.

Point of interest: Losses generated before this date are not subject to these limitations and may be carried forward indefinitely.

Carry-back: Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Luxembourg tax law provides with the tax neutrality for a company reorganization in the following cases:
• Modification of the corporate form of an entity into another corporate form

• Merger or demerger of resident companies or EU resident companies

• Exchange of shares when the acquiring company gets the majority of voting rights in the acquired company or increases the majority of voting rights already held

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

A Luxembourg tax resident company is taxed on its worldwide income. Foreign-source income is taxable in Luxembourg, unless a double tax treaty (DTT) provides for an exemption. Dividends from foreign subsidiaries are also taxed, unless if a DDT provides for an exemption.

Profits of a foreign branch that are not exempt under a DTT may benefit from a foreign tax credit. Taxes paid in excess of the tax credit are deductible as expenses.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Municipalities impose a land tax of 0.7% to 1% on the unitary value of real property.

A transfer tax is applied to a transfer of immovable property. A 6% basic rate and a 1% transcription tax are applicable. For real estate located in Luxembourg City, an additional charge amounting to 5% of the transfer tax is imposed (exemptions are available).

TRANSFER PRICING

According to the Luxembourg transfer pricing legislation, transactions between related parties (both located in Luxembourg as well as where one party is taxed in a foreign jurisdiction) have to be governed by the "arm's length principle" (article 56 of the LITL as from January 2015). This article obliges the taxpayer to report in its tax return either an upward or downward adjustment of profits whenever transfer prices do not reflect the arm’s length principle. The Luxembourg tax authorities may request from the taxpayer all facts relevant for verifying a tax liability. Therefore, the taxpayer should provide all necessary supporting documentation to facilitate the task of tax authorities.

Moreover, a company may request an advance pricing agreement (APAs) from the Luxembourg tax authorities. Fees apply, varying from EUR 3,000 to EUR 10,000 (depending on the complexity of the matter).

WITHHOLDING TAX
Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Dividends paid to a nonresident company generally are subject to withholding tax at 15%, unless the rate is reduced under a tax treaty.

No tax is withheld on dividends paid to a qualifying company under EU parent-subsidiary directive (2003/123/CE), except if the transaction qualifies as an abuse of law under the general anti-abuse rule. The benefits of the directive have been extended to parent companies resident in non-EU tax treaty countries (under certain conditions).

Luxembourg does not levy withholding tax on royalties.

Luxembourg does not levy withholding tax on interest. Nonetheless, profit-sharing bonds and debt instruments with remuneration linked to the issuer’s profits are taxed as dividends (15%).

Service fees

Luxembourg does not levy withholding tax on service fees.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

No capital duty is levied in Luxembourg (except in particular cases). A registration fee of EUR 75 is imposed on incorporation or amendments to bylaws.

There is no stamp duty in Luxembourg.

A transfer tax is applied to a transfer of immovable property. A 6% basic rate and a 1% transcription tax are applicable. For real estate located in Luxembourg City, an additional charge amounting to 5% of the transfer tax is imposed (exemptions are available).

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Social security contributions apply to wages and salaries and are due from both the employer (rates approximately: 12/15%) and the employee (circa 11%). Contributions for both employers and employees are computed on a capped basis and must be withheld by the employer. Self-employed individuals must register for social security purposes and pay approximately the same rates as the combined rates for an employer and an employee.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Net Wealth Tax (NWT)

Both Luxembourg resident companies and Luxembourg branches of non-resident companies are subject to NWT. As of January 1, 2016, a new scale of rates has been introduced as follows:

- 0.5% up to EUR 500 million
Luxembourg companies are subject to a minimum NWT. Luxembourg companies having a total balance sheet exceeding EUR 350,000 and which consists of more than 90% of financial assets, transferable securities and cash at bank should be subject to a minimum flat tax amounting to EUR 4,815. If the 90% threshold is not met or the total of the assets does not exceed EUR 350,000, a minimum NWT ranging between EUR 535 and EUR 32,100 is due.
RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Legal entities that are residents of Mexico are subject to Mexican taxation. For this purpose, legal entities that have their effective seat of management in Mexico are considered to be residents of Mexico. Resident taxpayers are subject to Mexican income tax with respect to income from whatever source derived.

Domestic

An entity resident in Mexico for tax purposes is subject to Mexican taxation on its worldwide income, regardless of the source of income.

Foreign

Foreign entities are subject to Mexican taxation when:

- They have a permanent establishment (PE) in Mexico
- Do not have a PE in Mexico, but income is generated from a Mexican source, or
- Have a PE in Mexico, but income is not attributable to the PE

Whether Mexican source income exists or not depends on the nature of the income received, and Income Tax Treaties entered into by Mexico may be able to reduce or eliminate Mexican taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

In general terms, taxable income is determined on an accrual basis, and taxpayers are allowed to deduct most business expenses. There are certain exceptions on expenses that can be deductible, among them:

- Penalties and unauthorized donations
- Increases to reserves for bad debts, obsolescence, contingencies, indemnities and so forth
• Monetary gain on debts, and monetary loss on credits to recognize the effect of inflation

• 53% of exempt salaries (percentage may be decreased to 47% if the exempt salaries are not reduced from previous year), and

• Certain payments to tax havens or hybrid entities

Foreign

A foreign company with a PE in Mexico is taxable in Mexico on all income attributable to the PE. Basically, income is considered attributable to a PE if it derives from the activities of the PE. Foreign-source income is subject to Mexican taxation if it is derived by a Mexican PE, because domestic rules do not limit the “attributable” concept to income from Mexican sources. A foreign tax credit is also allowed for PEs with foreign-source income.

TAX RATES

The corporate income tax rate is 30%, and for individuals it is progressive up to a 35% rate.

There is also a Value Added Tax (VAT) of 16% on transfers of goods, rendering of independent services, leasing of goods, and importation of goods or services into Mexico.

Further, there is an excise that intends to reduce consumption of harmful products (ie tobacco, alcohol, pesticides, etc) and limit the use of resources (ie gasoline, energy, etc).

TAX COMPLIANCE

Mexican entities shall file annual income tax returns on a calendar year basis. Taxes must be calculated and paid in pesos. The return for a given tax year must be filed no later than March 31 of the following year, and the balance of any income tax liability (less estimated tax payments made during the tax year) must also be paid at that time. There is no ability to request an extension on the filing date for annual tax returns.

In addition to filing annual income tax returns, legal entities also are required to file estimated monthly tax returns, and to make the applicable estimated tax payments for income and VAT purposes. Legal entities must make estimated income tax payments on a monthly basis on the 17th day of each subsequent month.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

In the past, there have been tax amnesty programs, generally when a new administration takes office, and the last one available was during 2013.

Tax rulings

It is possible to obtain a private letter ruling from the Mexican Tax Authorities (Hacienda), on specific technical tax issues. Generally, private rulings are effective only during the tax year for which they are granted, and only apply to the specific taxpayers that requested them.

Tax incentives

As of 2017 there is a tax incentive on R&D activities, which consists of a credit of 30% for qualifying R&D expenses, aimed at encouraging investment in this area. There are also incentives for real estate investment trusts (ie FIBRAS), movies, theater productions, and high performance sports.

CONSOLIDATION

A Mexican holding company may obtain an authorization to effectively compute income tax on a consolidated basis (called integration regime as of 2014), but each company of the group is responsible for filing and paying the tax individually. This option is subject to several rules and limitations, including a recapture of benefits.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

There is no participation exemption for dividends received from, or capital gain recognized on, the stock of foreign subsidiaries.

Mexican companies that own shares of another Mexican entity may receive dividend distributions that should not be subject to further taxes, to the extent the dividends come from the net tax profit account (CUFIN).

CAPITAL GAIN

Under domestic rules, capital gains obtained by Mexican companies are treated as ordinary income and taxed at the regular 30% tax rate. Nonresidents are subject to a 25% tax rate on the gross proceeds, or a 35% rate on net gain realized to the extent that certain requirements are met. Capital gains derived from sales of publicly traded shares by individuals or non-Mexican residents are taxed at a rate of 10%. To determine the deductible basis for sales of real estate, fixed assets and shares, the law allows for indexation of the original cost for inflation.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Dividends that come from the CUFIN account should not be subject to additional tax at the level of the Mexican entity distributing the dividend. Otherwise, they should be subject to a grossed up tax rate of 42.8%.

The Mexican Income Tax Law (MITL) does not provide ordering rules with respect to how CUFIN balances are considered with respect to dividend distributions. However, it is assumed that older balances should be distributed first.
Under the MITL in force until 2013, dividends received by an individual or a foreign shareholder from a Mexican entity were not subject to withholding tax. The 2014 Tax Reform introduced a new withholding tax of 10% on dividends, when distributed to a foreign shareholder or an individual. The new rules also broaden the definition of what should be considered a dividend, covering other transactions between the distributing company and its shareholders and/or related parties.

As part of the 2014 tax reform, CUFIN balances must be segregated between pre-2014 and post-2014 Mexican balances, in order to determine the potential impact from the 10% withholding tax introduced that year.

With respect to post-2014 CUFIN which could be distributed in the future, the domestic 10% dividend withholding tax may be reduced to under available Income Tax Treaties entered into by Mexico, to the extent that the requirements provided in the Treaty and the MITL are met.

For Mexican tax purposes, capital reductions are generally treated as a distribution in exchange for shares. The general purpose of these rules is to treat distributions made in a capital redemption as either a tax free return of capital or a deemed dividend or distribution of earnings.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Net operating losses can be carried forward ten years, but no carryback is allowed.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

As mentioned before, the transfer of shares in a Mexican company generally constitutes a taxable event. However, in the case of a domestic corporate reorganization, it may be possible to obtain a ruling from Hacienda, authorizing the transfer of the shares at tax basis, and thus avoiding a gain on the transfer. This type of ruling is allowed only where the seller is a Mexican resident and the transaction can be carried out with prior approval if the transfer is made in exchange for shares of another Mexican entity. A two-year holding period requirement and various reporting requirements must be met.

In the case of a group restructuring where the transferor is a foreign resident, it is possible to transfer the shares of a Mexican subsidiary and defer the income tax due until those shares leave the group. However, a ruling (ie GRA) must be issued by Hacienda before the transfer is made, and a notice has to be filed each year informing that the shares remain within the group.

Certain Income Tax Treaties entered into by Mexico provide an exemption for capital gains tax derived from corporate reorganizations. However, there are requirements that should be met in order to qualify for a tax free reorganization, and procedural fillings must be made with Hacienda before the transaction is carried out.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Mexican residents (and Mexican PEs of foreign residents) are required to pay income tax on income generated from investments in a jurisdiction with a preferential tax regime. For this purpose, an investment in a preferential tax regime is deemed to exist if the foreign entity is subject to an effective tax rate of less than 75% of the Mexican corporate tax rate or if the entity or vehicle is deemed to be fiscally transparent.
As a general rule, a Mexican taxpayer is not subject to income tax on earnings of a foreign subsidiary until the income is distributed. However, when the subsidiary or other investment vehicle is located in a preferential tax jurisdiction, such income must be reported as earned on a current basis, subject to certain exceptions.

Taxpayers are subject to tax on earnings from foreign investments that are generated, directly or indirectly, by foreign entities or legal organizations from foreign sources subject to preferential tax regimes in proportion to their participation in the capital of the entities or legal organizations.

For this purpose, income subject to a preferential tax regime is considered to be income not subject to tax outside Mexico or subject to income tax of less than 75% of the applicable income tax that would have been calculated and paid in Mexico. The income subject to this anti-deferral regime includes income in the form of cash, goods and services, or credit, as well as any presumed income determined by the tax authorities, even in those instances where the income has not been distributed to the Mexican taxpayer.

In addition, these anti-deferral rules are applicable to income generated directly or indirectly through fiscally transparent entities. For this purpose, foreign entities or organizations are deemed to be fiscally transparent when they are not considered income taxpayers in their country of incorporation or they are treated as residents for tax purposes but the income they generate is taxed not in their hands, but at the level of their members.

There are exceptions to these anti-deferral rules, when income from business activities is generated and no more than 20% of the income is passive income. The following are deemed to constitute passive income for these purposes: interest income, dividends, royalties, and gains from the sale of shares, securities or immovable property; income from the leasing of assets; and gratuitous income when such income is not generated through the carrying on of business activities.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

A tax credit is allowed for foreign income tax paid or deemed paid by Mexican corporations, but the credit is generally limited to the amount of Mexican tax incurred on the foreign-source portion of the company’s worldwide taxable income.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

There is a state level property transfer tax (ie Impuesto sobre Adquisicion de Inmuebles) that could range from 2% to 4.5% depending where the property is located, and is generally based on the market value of the property. This tax should be paid by the purchaser, and cannot be creditable or offset against other taxes.

TRANSFER PRICING

Mexico has transfer pricing rules. Acceptable transfer pricing methods include the comparable uncontrolled price method, the resale price method, the cost-plus method, the profit-split method, the residual profit-split method and the transactional net-margin method. In certain cases, specific appraisals are used. Transactions between related parties are subject to greater scrutiny, and there are several informative tax returns on related parties transaction that must be filed. It may be possible to reach transfer pricing agreements in advance with Hacienda. These agreements may apply for a period of up to five years.
Beginning in 2016, certain Mexican taxpayers must file additional transfer pricing documentation, including a Master File and Country-by-Country Reports, as recommended by Action 13 of the Base Erosion and Profit Shifting report.

Debt-to-equity rules

Interest deductions may be disallowed if the debt to equity ratio exceeds 3 to 1 on loans with foreign related parties. There are some exceptions to these rules, based on the type of activities that would be funded in Mexico.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

(a) This is a final tax applicable to nonresidents. Payments to tax havens are generally subject to a 40% withholding tax. (b) This rate can be reduced to 4.9% if certain requirements are met. (c) A reduced rate of 4.9% is granted each year to banks resident in treaty countries. (d) This tax applies to dividends paid out of profits generated after 2013.

Income Tax Treaties

These withholding rates may be reduced to under available Income Tax Treaties entered into by Mexico, and to the extent that the requirements provided in the relevant Income Tax Treaty and the MITL are met.

Service fees
Income received by a foreign resident from rendering services in Mexico may be subject to a 25% withholding tax rate under domestic rules. However, Income Tax Treaties may reduce or eliminate this rate, under specific circumstances. It is important to consider potential VAT implications.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

There is no capital duty and stamp duty in Mexico. As noted above, there are real estate transfer taxes.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employees must be registered with the Mexican Institute of Social Security (ie Instituto Mexicano de Seguro Social, IMSS), as well as the National Housing Fund (ie Fondo Nacional para la Vivienda de los Trabajadores, INFONAVIT).

This is relevant because Mexican employers are required to make contributions to the IMSS and INFONAVIT, based on the salaries of their employees. These contributions are subject to daily salary caps that are determined based on a multiple of the minimum daily salary in the area in which the work is performed.

In this regard, an employee must pay approximately 2.755% of his or her salary to the IMSS (payment to the IMSS includes all social security dues), while an employer must pay a total of 36.69% of the employee's salary. Contributions to INFONAVIT are approximately 5%, and contributions to a Mandatory Pension Plan are approximately 2% of employees compensation.

These contributions are subject to daily salary caps that are determined based on a multiple of the minimum daily salary in the area in which the work is performed.

The contribution percentages are generally applied to an employee’s total integrated salary. However, in some cases, the percentage is broken down and applied to only a portion of the salary. There are maximum contributions that are capped for high salaries.

In addition, most states impose a payroll tax of approximately 2% of a company's total payroll. There are no caps for the state payroll tax.

Profit sharing

Mexican companies are required, under the Federal Constitution and labor laws, to make mandatory profit sharing payments to employees equal to 10% of the adjusted taxable income of the company. In general terms, the same overall rules are applied in determining the adjusted taxable income for profit sharing as for income tax purposes. Most significantly, profit sharing rules do not provide for inflationary adjustments or net operating loss carryforwards. Furthermore, exchange gains and losses are recognized as realized rather than an accrual basis. Mexican companies are not required to make profit sharing payments for the first year of existence.

The profit sharing is allowed as a deduction for income tax purposes. The deduction is allowed as a reduction of taxable income once certain calculations are made, not as one of the deductible expenses. However, since profit sharing is not a tax per se, it is not creditable for foreign tax credit purposes, representing a cost to most foreign investors.

NETHERLANDS

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation that is effectively managed in the Netherlands will be treated as a resident corporation. Companies incorporated under Dutch law are deemed to be residents of the Netherlands.

Domestic

A resident company is subject to income tax on all its income and capital gain from sources anywhere in the world. Under the Worldwide tax system, however exemptions may apply for certain income from shareholdings and permanent establishments.

Foreign

A non-resident company is generally taxed only on its Dutch source income. A network of Double Taxation Treaties operates to modify these rules including reducing the rate of withholding taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of a domestic corporation is equal to all net income less applicable deductions.

Foreign

A non-resident corporation is subject to corporate income tax only on income derived from Dutch sources. Income from Dutch sources include, among other items, business income from operations in the country through a branch, office or other permanent establishment, including a permanent representative, and income derived from the leasing and disposal of real estate located in the Netherlands.

TAX RATES

The standard corporate income tax rate is 25%. A lower rate of 20% applies for taxable income up to €200,000.
The Netherlands only levy withholding tax up to 15% on outgoing dividends, often reduced under the application of tax treaties or a domestic withholding exemption. There are no withholding taxes on payment of interest and royalties.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Corporate income tax returns have to be filed within 5 months after the end of the fiscal year but extensions can be available.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

No broad-based general rulings are available as that is considered incompatible with international and EU standards. However, on an individual basis taxpayers can request an Advance Tax Ruling or Advance Pricing Agreement from the Dutch tax authorities. The Advance Ruling practice of the Dutch Tax Authorities has been an integral part of the tax system for many years and contributes to the attractive business climate in the Netherlands.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for specific activities, including an IP Box regime (Innovation Box) with a reduced effective corporate income tax rate on qualifying IP income of 7%, and a payroll tax credit for innovation, competitiveness and employment.

A special tonnage tax regime applies to shipping companies.

A 0% tax liability or full exemption is provided for qualifying investment funds.

CONSOLIDATION

The Dutch tax consolidation regime allows a Dutch parent company and its 95% owned domestic subsidiaries to apply for the consolidations regime. Profits and losses of the subsidiaries are attributed to the controlling company. A Dutch parent company indirectly owning at least 95% of Dutch affiliates through one or more foreign companies based in the EU, Iceland, Norway or Liechtenstein (intermediary companies) can also form a tax group. Similarly, it is possible to set-up a tax group between sister companies with their parent company established in the EU, Iceland, Norway or Liechtenstein.
PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends from qualifying subsidiaries and capital gains from the sale of shares in a domestic or foreign subsidiary received by a Dutch corporate shareholder are exempted from tax.

The participation exemption applies when at least 5% of the shares in the subsidiary are being held by the Dutch parent company and the subsidiary is not considered a low taxed passive portfolio investment company.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gains are taxed as ordinary income, unless exempted by the participation exemption. Capital losses are deductible, unless attributable to the disposal of a shareholding qualifying for the participation exemption (certain liquidation losses are deductible).

DISTRIBUTIONS

Dividend distributions paid by a Dutch company or holding cooperative to its shareholders or members are in principle subject to Dutch dividend withholding tax. Dividend withholding tax can be reduced under the domestic dividend withholding exemption or under the application of a tax treaty. A return of paid up capital is, in principle, not subject to Dutch dividend withholding tax.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Tax losses can be carried nine years forward and one year back. Significant changes of ownership of a company may result in the tax losses being restricted. Tax losses made by group holding and/or finance companies are ring fenced and can only offset profits realized with group holding or finance activities.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Tax-exempt mergers, demergers and tax-exempt contribution of assets are available, in each case provided the specific requirements are met. In addition, the consolidation regime can be used to transfer assets or liabilities between group companies without giving rise to tax consequences. Special rules apply to cross-border reorganizations.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

CFC

Dutch tax law does not provide for specific legislation regarding to CFCs. However a shareholding of 25% or more in a low taxed portfolio investment with more or equal to 90% "bad assets" should be revalued annually at the fair market value.

General ANTI-avoidance rule
Wholly artificial constructions which are not in line with the purpose and scope of the law, resulting in a lower taxation, may be restricted under the general anti-avoidance rule.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Subject to limitations, foreign tax credits are available for foreign taxes paid.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TRANSFER PRICING

"Arm’s-length" principles are applied under Dutch law to transactions between related entities. Dutch rules are in accordance with OECD guidelines.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

A 15% withholding tax applies to dividends paid by a domestic corporation to a person or entity. A domestic dividend withholding tax exemption applies on dividends paid to EU/EEA parent companies and parent companies in a third country that has concluded a tax treaty with the Netherlands that contains a dividends clause, unless anti-abuse provisions apply.

Double Taxation Treaties operate to modify these rules including reducing the rate of withholding taxes. Withholding tax is generally reduced to 0% for 5% or greater corporate shareholders (domestic and EU/EEA), in line with the Parent-Subsidiary Directive.

The Netherlands does not levy withholding tax on outbound payments of interest and royalties.

Service fees

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Real estate transfer tax is levied on the transfer of shares of Dutch real estate companies. Transfer of the shares is subjected to 6% transfer tax whenever the assets mainly (50% or more) consist of real estate.

Direct transfer of Dutch real estate is also subjected to 6% transfer tax or 2% in case of owner-occupied dwellings. Exemptions may apply.
The Netherlands does not levy any other stamp duty, capital duty or registration tax of any kind.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold wage taxes and contributions for pension, health and unemployment insurance.

Under certain conditions, employers may provide incoming employees 30% of their wage tax-free. Incoming employees must be recruited or seconded from another country to work in the Netherlands, and have specific expertise with no or little availability in the Dutch employment market.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

NORWAY

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Domestic

Companies are considered tax resident in Norway if they are:

- Established and registered in Norway
- Have its place of effective management in Norway

Foreign

Foreign companies not tax resident in Norway, may have limited tax liability in Norway if they:

- Conduct or participate in business activities in Norway
- Operate or manage business activities from Norway
- Make employees available to others in Norway
- Own real estate or other property in Norway

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Companies tax resident in Norway is taxed on its worldwide income (unlimited tax liability). The taxable income is generally calculated as the total income reduced by the costs generated by the business.

Foreign

Foreign companies with limited tax liability in Norway are generally taxable on their relevant net Norwegian source income, in the same manner as domestic companies.
Interest deduction limitation rules

Norway has legislation to limit the deduction of interest on loans, on both internal and external debt. In principle, tax deductions for interest are limited to 25% of the company's deemed Tax EBITDA. The threshold is NOK 5 million for interest on internal debt, and NOK 10 million for interest on external debt. Certain exemptions apply, based on the asset to equity ratio of the company compared to the group.

TAX RATES

The corporate tax rate is 22% (2019).

TAX COMPLIANCE

Norwegian tax resident companies and foreign companies that have assets or receive income in Norway are generally required to submit a yearly tax return (with attachments). The tax return must be submitted electronically by May 31 the year after the income year.

Advance payments of corporate taxes are due twice a year (February 15 and April 15 the year following the tax year). Any shortfall is payable during the fall, normally in November.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable in this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Companies may apply for a binding advance ruling concerning tax consequences on a future transaction. A binding advance ruling will last for 5 years.

Tax incentives

Limited research and development credits are available.

A Tonnage Tax Regime is available, which implies favorable taxation of qualifying shipping companies.

CONSOLIDATION

Norway does not have a tax consolidation system and hence separate entity taxation applies for income tax purposes.
However, companies belonging to the same group (which applies to share ownership of more than 90% of the shares), may exchange group contributions. A group contribution is deductible for the paying company and is taxable for the recipient company.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends

Dividends received by a company tax resident in Norway, from another Norwegian company resident in Norway (or similar company resident in the European Economic Area (EEA)) are 97% exempt of tax. The remaining 3% are taxed with the ordinary corporate income tax rate of 22%. For dividends received from a company resident in in a low-tax jurisdiction with the FFA, the 97% exemption applies only if real business activities are conducted in that jurisdiction.

Dividends from group companies within the EEA are 100% exempt if more than 90% ownership.

Dividends received from a foreign company outside the EEA are 97% exempt if both of the criteria below are met:

- The Norwegian company has held at least 10% of the shares and votes for at least two years
- The foreign country is not a low-tax country

Capital gains

Capital gains derived by a Norwegian company on the realization of shares in another Norwegian (or EEA-resident) company are exempt from taxation. For capital gains derived by a Norwegian company on the realization of shares in an EEA-company resident in a low-tax jurisdiction, the exemption applies only if real business activities are conducted in that jurisdiction.

Capital gains derived by a Norwegian company on the realization of shares in a company resident outside of EEA are exempt from taxation if both of the criteria below are met:

- The Norwegian company has held at least 10% of the shares and votes for at least two years
- The foreign company is not resident in a low-tax jurisdiction

CAPITAL GAIN

Please see Participation exemption. If the participation exemption regime does not apply, the capital gain will be taxed at the ordinary corporate tax rate of 22%.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Please see Participation exemption. If the participation exemption regime does not apply, the dividends will be taxed at the ordinary corporate tax rate of 22%.
LOSS UTILIZATION

Unused losses may be carried forward without limit. Disallowed interest deductions (see Taxable income) can be carried forward for 10 years.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Merger and demergers may be carried out without triggering any adverse tax consequences.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

The CFC rules states if Norwegian resident taxpayers hold or control at least 50% of the shares or equity in certain "low taxed" foreign entities, the Norwegian resident taxpayers will be subject to taxation on a current basis for its proportionate share of the foreign entity's profits. A foreign legal entity is considered "low taxed," if the entity is subject to less than 2/3 of the Norwegian tax on the same income (ie, 14.67% in 2019).

The CFC rules does not apply if Norway has entered into a tax treaty with the relevant country and the income is not of a mainly passive nature. The same applies to entities resident in EEA-countries, provided that real business activities are carried out in the relevant jurisdiction.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign taxes paid on income subject to Norwegian taxation may be credited under the Norwegian tax credit system.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Municipal authorities levy real estate tax on the ownership of real estate. Real estate tax applies to the assessed real market value of the real estate, at rates ranging between 0.2% and 0.7%. Some municipalities do not levy real estate tax.

TRANSFER PRICING

The Norwegian transfer pricing rules are based on the arm's length principle and the OECD guidelines. Documentation requirements apply to cross-border transactions with affiliated companies.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Dividends
Under the general rule, a dividend payment to a foreign shareholder will be subject to 25% withholding tax.

Dividend payments to corporate shareholders resident in the EEA, are exempt from withholding tax, provided that the shareholder conducts a real business activity in the relevant jurisdiction. Otherwise, the rate may be reduced under an applicable tax treaty.

Dividend payments to shareholders resident outside the EEA are subject to 25% withholding tax, unless the rate is reduced under an applicable tax treaty.

Documentation requirements apply in order to benefit from exemption from or reduced dividend withholding tax.

Service fees

Royalties, interests, rents, etc

Norway does not levy withholding tax on interest or royalty payments.

Norway does not levy withholding tax on service fees.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

The sale or other transfer of real estate is generally subject to 2.5% stamp duty, based on the market value of the real estate. Transfer tax is generally not levied.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers are obliged to pay employer’s contributions of the total salary. The rate is differentiated regionally, and ranges between 0% and 14.1%.

Employers are further obliged to make tax deductions from the salary payments made to the employees.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Foreign employees

Foreign employees who work temporarily in Norway may opt to pay 25% salary tax on the gross remuneration received, up to a certain maximum (NOK 617,500 in 2019). The 25% salary tax is final, and no deductions are allowed. Certain exemptions apply.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Subject to the application of a relevant tax treaty, companies having their legal seat or place of management in Poland will be treated as a domestic corporations (tax resident in Poland).

Domestic

A domestic corporation is subject to Polish tax on its worldwide income. A domestic corporation generally is not subject to Polish tax on the income of its foreign subsidiaries unless controlled foreign corporation (CFC) rules apply.

Foreign

Foreign corporations are taxable on their Polish-source income only. Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Taxable income of a domestic corporation is equal to sum of gross income from the 2 separate sources of income: capital gains and other sources. Income from a given source is equal to the excess of the sum of revenues from that source over costs incurred to generate income during the fiscal year.

TAX RATES

The corporate income tax (CIT) rate is 19% or 15% for so called small taxpayers (ie, entities with sales revenue, including output VAT, for the previous year not exceeding EUR 1.2 million and first year taxpayers who just started business activity).

TAX COMPLIANCE

CIT is paid in monthly instalments by the 20th day of each month for the preceding month. An annual CIT return is submitted within 3 months of the tax year end.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Tax rulings are of a general or individual nature and are issued within 3 months of a request. Individual tax rulings may be requested by anyone who wants to confirm interpretation of tax provisions; not only by taxpayers, but also by potential shareholders, foreign investors or foreign entities considering starting business activity in Poland.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for specific activities, including R&D relief and investment incentive related to business activity carried out in Special Economic Zones.

CONSOLIDATION

It is possible to consolidate for tax purposes within a tax capital group. Several requirements have to be fulfilled, e.g., average capital of each group company of PLN 500,000, minimum share in subsidiaries by the parent company is 75% and minimum income to revenues ratio of 2%.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

There is a participation exemption for dividends based on EU Parent-Subsidiary Directive. The exemption applies to dividends paid by the Polish company to EU company provided that this company holds at least 10% shares of the Polish company for a continuous period of at least 2 years. The exemption is not available if the dividend distribution aims tax avoidance.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain constitutes separate source of income starting from 2018 and is taxed at the same rate as ordinary income (19%). Exemption is available only in specific circumstances — share-for-share swaps, in-kind contribution of an enterprise or its part, profit distributions exempt based on EU Parent Subsidiary Directive.

DISTRIBUTIONS
A participation exemption applies to qualifying dividends.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Losses may be carried forward for 5 years; the deduction may not exceed 50% of loss incurred in a given year. Losses cannot be carried back. Losses incurred from a given source (capital gain or other sources) may be settled only with income from that source.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Based on the EU Mergers & Acquisitions Directive, mergers, divisions and share-for-share swaps may be tax-neutral provided that certain conditions are met and they are conducted for economic reasons. Otherwise, they result in taxation.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Under the CFC rules, a domestic corporation may be subject to tax at the rate of 19% on the income of a foreign subsidiary if certain criteria apply. This includes where the ownership of the foreign company is at least 50% and the so-called passive income threshold of 33%.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign tax credits are available under domestic law and under relevant tax treaties.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

In 2018, an income tax that is payable on certain commercial properties (fixed assets) was introduced. The tax applies to office buildings, shopping centers, department stores, and other retail and service buildings with an initial value of more than PLN 10 million. The tax is payable on a monthly basis; the rate is 0.035% of property value if it exceeds the sum of PLN 10 million, determined at the first day of each month. The tax so calculated will reduce the "standard" corporate income tax.

No specific real estate transfer tax.

TRANSFER PRICING

Arm's-length principles are generally applied to transactions between related entities. The Polish rules generally follow the OECD guidelines.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends
The general withholding tax (WHT) for dividends is 19%. The WHT rate may be reduced by specific provisions of applicable income tax treaty or an exemption based on the EU Parent Subsidiary Directive may be available. WHT is payable monthly by the 7th day of each month for preceding month.

Royalties and interest

A 20% withholding tax applies to royalties, interest and other passive income paid by a domestic corporation to a foreign person, subject to reduction or elimination by an applicable income tax treaty or regulations based on the EU Interest Royalties Directive. WHT is payable monthly by the 7th day of each month for preceding month.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

There is no capital duty. Stamp duties and transfer taxes are imposed for certain types of sales and transactions. In particular, 1% transfer tax is payable on direct sales of shares in Polish companies.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold personal income tax from the employees’ gross remuneration. Employers also must pay social security contributions in respect of compensation paid to employees. These taxes are deductible by an employer for corporate income tax purposes.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Standard Audit File for Tax (SAF-T) was introduced in Poland in 2016 as a regular evidence for tax control purposes (Jednolity Plik Kontrolny).

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

An entity is treated as a domestic entity for corporate income tax purposes if its registered seat or the effective place of management is located in Portugal.

Domestic

A domestic entity is subject to Portuguese corporate tax on its worldwide income.

Foreign

A foreign entity is subject to Portuguese corporate tax on:

- Income from business carried on through a Portuguese permanent establishment, and
- Portuguese-source profits income

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of a domestic entity is equal to all gross income less applicable deductions.

Foreign

Taxable income of a foreign entity is equal to the gross income of the business carried on through the Portuguese permanent establishment less any deductions applicable to that Portuguese business, or, when there is no permanent establishment, the amount of income sourced from Portugal.

TAX RATES

The general corporate income tax rate is 21%. A reduced tax rate of 17% applies to the first EUR 15,000 of taxable profits of small and medium-sized enterprises.
A state surcharge is levied on taxable profits at the following rates: 3% for profits over EUR 1.5 million up EUR 7.5 million; 5% on profits over EUR 7.5 million up to EUR 35 million and 9% on profits exceeding EUR 35 million.

A municipal surcharge is levied on taxable profits on rates up to 1.5%, depending on the municipality.

TAX COMPLIANCE

The tax return must be filled within five months after the end of the tax year.

The supporting accounting and tax report must be filled by the 15th day of the seventh month after the end of the tax year.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

No broad-based rulings are available. Taxpayers can request a private letter ruling that applies only to a specific issue.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for specific activities, including R&D expenses and deductions (eg Research and development (R&D) (Sistema de Incentivos Fiscais em Investigação e Desenvolvimento Empresarial or SIFIDE II), tax regime for investment support (Regime Fiscal de Apoio ao Investimento or RFAI), Pension funds, Real Estate Investment Funds (REIFs), Incentives to urban rehabilitation, Madeira International Business Centre (MIBC), Non-habitual tax residents, Golden Visa, etc).

CONSOLIDATION

Eligible corporations that are affiliated (generally based on at least 75% or more ownership of the statutory capital of the other affiliates and ownership of more than 50% of the voting rights) may elect to file corporate income tax returns on a consolidated basis.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends and capital gains arising from the disposal of participations in other companies are exempt from Corporate tax provided the following requirements are cumulatively met:

- The Portuguese Company, directly or indirectly, holds a minimum 10% of the capital or voting rights of its subsidiary
- Such participation is held (or maintained) for a minimum period of 1 year
- The Portuguese Company is not taxed under the tax transparency rules
- The participated company is subject and not exempted from CIT or, if EU resident, from a tax mentioned under article 2 of Directive 2011/96/UE or, if resident outside the EU, from a tax similar to the CIT and the rate applicable under such CIT is not below 60% of the Portuguese CIT, but note this condition may be waived under certain circumstances (article 66(6) CIT Code)
- The participated company is not resident in a black-listed jurisdiction

The capital gains exemption does not apply if the participated company has real estate in Portugal valuing more than 50% of its assets, unless such real estate is used in connection with an agricultural, industrial or commercial activity.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain is taxed at the same rate as ordinary income. Capital gain arising from the disposal of shares may be exempt from tax under the participation exemption regime (see Participation exemption).

50% of the gains derived from the disposal of tangible fixed assets and intangible assets held for at least one year may be excluded from taxation if the total disposal proceeds are reinvested within the prescribed period.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporation to its shareholders are treated as dividends.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Net operating losses can be carried forward 5 years, but can be used to offset only 70% of the taxable income.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Group reorganizations are ordinarily tax neutral.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Profits or income derived by an entity resident in a black-listed jurisdiction or in a jurisdiction where it is subject to an effective tax rate equal to or lower than 60% of the Portuguese standard CIT rate, are imputed to the Portuguese taxpayer, provided it holds, directly or indirectly, at least 25% of the share capital (10% if more than 50% of the capital is held by Portuguese taxpayers), voting rights, or rights to income or assets of that entity.

CFC rules also apply if the controlled entity is held by a Portuguese entity through a legal representative, fiduciary, or intermediary.

CFC rules do not apply if the CFC is resident in another EU country or in an EEA member state (bound to administrative cooperation on tax matters), provided that there are valid economic reasons underlying the incorporation and running of such company and it carries out agricultural, commercial, industrial, or services activities.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign taxes paid on income subject to Portuguese taxation can be credited under the Portuguese tax credit system.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TRANSFER PRICING

"Arm's length" principles are applied to transactions between related entities. The Portuguese rules generally follow OECD principles.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Dividends paid to a foreign entity are subject to withholding tax at a rate of 25% (35% if paid to a resident of a black-listed country). The withholding tax rate may be reduced under a tax treaty. Dividends are not subject to withholding tax if the requirements of the participation exemption are met.

Interest paid to a foreign entity is subject to withholding tax at a tax rate of 25% (35% if paid to a resident of a black-listed country). The withholding tax rate may be reduced under a tax treaty. Interest is not subject to withholding tax if the EU Interest & Royalty Directive applies.

Royalties paid to a foreign entity is subject to withholding tax at a tax rate of 25% (35% if paid to a resident of a black-listed country). The withholding tax rate may be reduced under a tax treaty. Royalties are not subject to withholding tax if the EU Interest & Royalty Directive applies.

Other payments made to foreign entities may be subject to withholding tax. The general tax rate is 25%.

Service fees
Withholding tax may be applied to service fees if the services are performed or used in Portugal.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Stamp duty and transfer tax are applicable in Portugal.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold income tax and social security contributions.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Any Romanian legal entity, a legal entity set-up under the European law having its legal seat in Romania or a foreign legal entity having its place of effective management in Romania will be treated as residents in Romania for tax purposes.

Resident

An entity which is a resident for tax purposes in Romania is subject to Romanian corporate income tax on its worldwide income.

Foreign

Foreign legal entities are generally subject to Romanian tax if:

- They have a permanent establishment in Romania
- They derive income from the transfer of a real estate property located in Romania or from the disposition of any rights related to such real estate property or from the exploitation of natural resources located in Romania or
- They derive income from the transfer of the participation titles in a Romanian legal entity

Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Resident

The taxable income of a resident legal entity is represented by the difference between all gross income, less any non-taxable income and all expenses, less any non-deductible expenses, to which supplementary taxable or deductible items may be added or subtracted, as the case may be.

Foreign
Taxable profits attributed to a Romanian branch or any other Romanian permanent establishment are subject to corporate income tax under similar rules applicable to a Romanian tax resident entity.

The taxable profit derived from the transfer of a real estate property located in Romania or from the disposition of any rights related to such real estate property are also subject to the standard corporate income tax rate.

Foreign entities may also be taxed in Romania for the taxable profits derived from the transfer of participation titles in a Romanian legal entity if the minimum holding conditions are not met.

Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAX RATES

Romanian legal entities which are not liable to pay the tax on the micro-companies income will be subject to the standard corporate income tax rate of 16%.

The standard 16% tax rate is applicable also to other entities treated as Romanian tax residents and to foreign legal entities subject to corporate income tax in Romania.

TAX COMPLIANCE

The annual domestic corporate income tax returns are due on the March 25 of the following year, with few exceptions applicable to some industries. Quarterly corporate income tax returns should also be submitted by the 25th of the first month following each quarter (except for the last quarter). Romanian companies qualifying as micro-companies for tax purposes have only quarterly tax reporting obligations.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Micro-companies tax

Romanian legal entities having obtained a turnover lower than the RON equivalent of EUR 1 million in the previous year are subject to a specific micro-companies taxation system. Micro-companies are liable to pay a tax on their turnover of 1% for companies having at least one employee on their payroll and 3% otherwise.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Taxpayers can request an individual tax ruling that applies only to a future fiscal situation. Taxpayers engaged in transactions with related parties may also request the tax authorities to issue an Advance Pricing Agreement (APA).
Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for R&D activities and for profits reinvested in technological equipment, computers and software.

CONSOLIDATION

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Participation exemptions apply where a minimum holding criteria of 10% for at least 1 year is met, for:

- dividends received from an EU company or a company situated in a third country having concluded a tax treaty with Romania
- capital gains derived from the sale of the participation titles in a Romanian company or a company resident of a tax treaty jurisdiction and
- the liquidation of a Romanian company or a company resident of a tax treaty jurisdiction

Dividends received from a Romanian legal entity are non-taxable with no minimum holding requirements.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain recognized by a resident entity is included in its taxable profits and taxed at the same rate as ordinary income. Capital gain derived by a foreign entity from Romania is also taxed at the standard corporate income tax rate. Capital gain tax may be eliminated under the participation exemption regime or under the provisions of tax treaties.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporation are treated as dividends to shareholders to the extent of current profits and retained earnings of a paying corporation. A distribution in excess of current profits and retained earnings is treated as a return of capital (and should be carried out as a share capital reduction), non-taxable up to the contributions of each shareholder to the share capital of the distributing company. A distribution of new participation titles or an increase of their nominal value, as a result of an incorporation of reserves, benefits or share premiums are non-taxable for corporate income tax purposes.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Fiscal losses can be carried forward for 7 consecutive years.
TAX FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Qualifying mergers, divisions, as well as the transfer of business lines made in exchange for shares and acquisitions of shares may be tax-free to a participating corporation and its shareholders, provided that such operations do not result in tax fraud or tax evasion. Similar tax neutrality rules apply to cross-border reorganizations involving EU companies.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

CFC

Under the controlled foreign corporation (CFC) rules, a Romanian tax resident shall include in its taxable basis the non-distributed revenues of an entity or a permanent establishment qualifying as a CFC, proportionally to the taxpayers' participation in said CFC.

Exit taxation rules

Under the exit taxation rules, corporate tax resident involved in transfers of assets to or from the head office or a permanent establishment for which Romania loses the taxation right is liable to pay standard corporate income tax on the difference between the market value and the fiscal value of those assets.

General Anti - Abuse Rules (GAARs)

Under the GAAR, non-genuine arrangements or series of arrangements, meaning those that do not have valid commercial reasons which reflect economic reality, carried out for the main purpose or a main purpose of obtaining a tax advantage, will be ignored by the tax authorities when computing the tax liability of a taxpayer.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Subject to limitations, foreign tax credits are available for foreign taxes paid.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Gains derived by a foreign entity from transfer of a real estate located in Romania or from the disposition of any rights related to such real estate are subject to the standard corporate income tax rate. Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TRANSFER PRICING

Arm's-length principles generally are applied under Romanian law to transactions between related entities. The Romanian rules are similar in many respects to the OECD guidelines, with certain differences. Specific transfer pricing documentation should be prepared by Romanian corporate tax residents for transactions with related parties with annual values exceeding certain thresholds.
WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

A 5% withholding tax applies to dividends and a 16% withholding tax applies to royalties, interest, commission and other taxable income paid by a Romanian tax resident to a foreign person, subject to reduction or elimination by an applicable income tax treaty.

An increased 50% tax rate applies for payments made under certain conditions and when income is paid in respect of transactions qualifying as artificial.

Dividends, interest and royalties could be exempt from withholding tax where paid to a resident of another EU member state provided the minimum holding criteria and specific conditions referring to the legal and fiscal status of the payer and the beneficiary of the income are equally met.

Service fees

Withholding tax may apply to fees for management and consultancy services and for other services if performed in Romania.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

There is no capital duty. Transfer taxes and notary fees may be imposed upon sale of a real estate property.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold income tax, the social security contribution (pension contribution) and health fund contribution from the gross salary received by each employee. Salary tax incentives are applicable for the IT and R&D sectors. Employers also must pay a labor insurance contribution on top of the gross salary costs, which is deductible for Romanian corporate income tax purposes at the level of the employer.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

An annual property tax is levied by the local tax authorities for constructions, land and vehicles held in patrimony. Other local taxes are applicable in some cases.

Rules for deductibility of borrowing costs

Excess borrowing costs, which are higher than the RON equivalent of EUR 200,000 (this threshold is expected to be increased by law), are deductible within a limit of 10% of the computation basis. The excess borrowing costs which fail the 2 deductibility tests are not deductible in the tax period when they are incurred but will be carried forward to the following tax periods, without a time limit.

VAT

Value added tax shall be charged by Romanian companies for goods supplied or services provided. Foreign entities are also liable to register for VAT purposes in Romania and charge Romanian VAT on supplies of goods and provision of services having the place of supply in Romania. The standard VAT rate is 19%, while reduced VAT rates of 9% or 5% are applicable for supply of certain goods.

Companies registered for VAT purposes are allowed to deduct the input VAT incurred upon acquisition of goods and services used in respect of taxable transaction. The difference between the output VAT charged on goods supplied or services provided and the input VAT incurred upon acquisitions of goods or services should be paid to the state budget, if positive, or could be requested for refund from the state budget, where negative.
RUSSIA

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

An entity is treated as a tax resident for corporate profits tax purposes if it is registered as a Russian legal entity in accordance with Russian law. Likewise a foreign entity whose place of effective management is located in Russia is treated as a tax resident for corporate profits tax purposes (unless otherwise established by an applicable double tax treaty).

Domestic

A resident company (both Russian and foreign entities are recognized as Russian tax residents) is subject to the corporate profits tax in Russia on its worldwide income.

Foreign

A non-resident company is subject to corporate profits tax in Russia only on income derived through a Russian permanent establishment or on passive income derived from a Russian source.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Corporate profits tax is charged on income less the duly documented and economically justified business expenses.

Foreign

Taxable income equals income less applicable deductions attributed to a permanent establishment in Russia or certain types of income from a Russian source less applicable deductions (where applicable). Double tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAX RATES

The general corporate profits tax rate is a flat rate of 20%.
TAX COMPLIANCE

A resident must file corporate profits tax returns either monthly or quarterly. The annual corporate profits tax return is due by March 28 of the following year. A non-resident with a permanent establishment in Russia should file corporate profits tax returns quarterly.

A resident pays a monthly advance payment on corporate profits tax. A non-resident with a permanent establishment in Russia pays quarterly advance payments. Final payments are due on March 28 of the following year. Corporate profits tax with respect to passive income of non-residents is generally levied through a tax withholding mechanism.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Tax holidays are available for particular projects (e.g., Skolkovo, FIFA 2018, etc).

Tax rulings

An individual ruling may be obtained by a taxpayer from the Russian Ministry of Finance with respect to a specific situation. Such tax rulings, where issued on the basis of full and complete facts and information disclosed, are technically binding for the tax authorities. However, in practice, the binding character of the tax rulings is often ignored by the authorities or courts. That said, if the taxpayer follows the recommendation expressed in such a ruling and the tax authorities disagree with this position and charge additional taxes, then the taxpayer will be exempt from tax fines and interest for the late payment of the tax.

Tax incentives

Regional authorities may establish tax incentives reducing the regional portion of the corporate profits tax rate – 18% (17% for the financial years 2017-2020), but generally to no lower than 13.5% (12.5% for the financial years 2017-2020) for certain groups of taxpayers. Such profits tax reductions were introduced in various regions of the Russian Federation for investors carrying out qualifying investment projects.

Tax incentives are also available in relation to certain activities (R&D, IT, etc), for companies resident in the special economic zones, territories of advanced social and economic development, and investment projects in several Far Eastern and Siberian regions.

Russian tax law provides for special tax regimes for small and medium-size businesses.

Special investment contracts (SpICs)

SpIC constitutes a new measure of governmental support aimed at stimulating investment in the establishment and modernization of industrial production in Russia at the federal and regional levels.

The scope of an SpIC is limited to certain industrial sectors stipulated by the decree of the Russian Government at the federal level. The list of such sectors includes automotive, metallurgy, pharmaceutical, medical, electronic, and consumer goods production and other industries.

Basic requirements for the conclusion of an SpIC:

- The amount of capital investments – not less than RUB 750 million
- Provision of a certain list of documents (including the business plan of the investment project) and
- Business activity in certain industrial sectors

The key advantages of concluding an SpIC include: favorable conditions for product manufacturing, the "made in Russia" status for the products, customs and tax preferences such as a reduction of the corporate federal tax rate to 0% (the regional tax rate can be reduced to 0%), and the possibility to apply a reduced property tax rate and the like.

Implementation of an SpIC requires changes to be made to regional legislation to introduce this instrument in the region on a legislative basis. As for now such territories include Moscow, the Moscow region, St. Petersburg, the Leningrad region and certain other regions of Russia have adopted this legislation.

CONSOLIDATION

For corporate profits tax purposes, a consolidation is allowed for a group of companies where the parent company directly or indirectly owns at least a 90% share in each subsidiary in the group. In addition, the following conditions must be satisfied by companies within the qualifying group:

- The total amount of VAT, excise taxes, profits tax and mineral extraction tax equals or exceeds RUB 10 billion annually
- The total sales revenue of the group equals or exceeds RUB 100 billion annually
- The total amount of assets equals or exceeds RUB 300 billion

Operating on the basis of a tax consolidation regime requires an agreement on creating a consolidated group which must be registered with the tax authorities. Various conditions established by Russian tax law apply to such agreements.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends received by Russian organisations are taxed with corporate profits tax at a rate of 0%, under the following criteria:

- The Russian legal entity receiving the dividend owns at least 50% of the capital of the paying entity (or owns depository receipts entitling it to receive at least 50% of the total amount of dividends paid) and has a right for at least 50% of the dividends declared

- The participatory interest (shareholding) or depository receipts have been owned for at least 365 consecutive calendar days on the day the dividends are declared

Dividends received from foreign entities located in the offshore zones (the list of territories treated as the "offshore zones" for this purpose is established by the Ministry of Finance of the Russia) are not eligible to this exemption.

CAPITAL GAIN

Income or capital gain received from the sale of shares or participation interest in other companies less applicable deductions is taxed at a regular 20% corporate profits tax rate.

Income from the sale of unquoted shares and participation in Russian companies and of quoted shares in high-technology Russian companies acquired after January 1, 2011 and held for at least five years (one year for high-technology companies) is taxed at a 0% corporate profits tax rate. This exemption in relation to high-technology companies applies until December 31, 2022.

Income or capital gain from the sale of shares in Russian subsidiaries whose immovable property located in Russia represents directly or indirectly more than 50% of assets (as well as finance instruments backed by these shares or participation interests, except for shares traded on the stock exchange) is also taxed at a regular corporate profits tax rate.

Reduced tax rates or full protection from withholding tax can be available under an applicable double tax treaty.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Dividends received by a Russian organisation are taxed at a 13% corporate profits tax rate. If dividends are paid to a foreign organisation, they are subject to a corporate profits tax withholding at a rate of 15%, unless the relevant treaty relief is applied.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Russian tax rules allow tax losses to be carried forward for an unlimited period but, for the financial years 2017 - 2020, the taxpayer can reduce the tax base by such losses to the amount of not more than 50%.

Losses from the sale of securities can be credited only against future income from the sale of the same type of securities. Losses from the disposal of fixed assets are recognised evenly over the remaining useful life of the assets.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Reorganizations are subject to general profits tax rules. Generally, it is possible to carry out a reorganization in a tax neutral way. However, Russian anti-abuse tax rules must be observed to secure a tax-free reorganization for both the participants and the companies going into the reorganization.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

CFC

A CFC shall be a foreign organization, in which so-called "controlling persons" are Russian entities or individuals recognised as tax residents of the Russian Federation.

A CFC for Russian tax purposes also includes an unincorporated foreign structure (such as a fund, partnership, trust and similar entities) whose controlling persons are organisations or individuals which are recognised as tax residents of the Russian Federation.

Such a Russian resident (both an organisation or individual) must include in its taxable income the profits of the foreign company treated as CFC (subject to certain exemptions) even if the foreign company has not actually distributed any profits.

The taxpayers which are recognised as tax residents of the Russian Federation must serve notifications of their participation interest in both:

- Foreign organisations and unincorporated structures and
- All CFCs in which they are recognised to be controlling persons

Notification on the CFC shall be served not later than on March 20 of the year following the tax period in which the relevant share of profit in the hands of the controlling person shall be declared.

Thin-capitalization rule

Interest charged under a controlled debt (generally, a loan granted to a Russian organisation by a related party) will be fully or partially re-classified as dividends for tax purposes if the amount of controlled debt exceeds the net assets by more than three times (12 times for banks and leasing companies). Under the new rules, a sister company debt is now clearly captured by the controlled debt notion. If the taxpayer has negative net assets, then the whole amount of interest will be treated as dividends for taxation purposes (ie, they will be non-deductible and subject to withholding tax).

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

A tax credit for the amount of foreign tax paid on foreign sources of income is generally available, but subject to a limit of the maximum amount of Russian tax due on the same income.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Income from the sale of real property located in Russia is considered to be income sourced in Russia.
TRANSFER PRICING

Related party and certain unrelated transactions must be conducted on an arm’s-length basis. Russian rules are similar in many respects to the OECD guidelines, with certain differences.

The tax authorities may request transfer pricing documentation within the framework of a transfer pricing audit, but not earlier than June 1 of the calendar year following the year in which the controlled transaction was performed.

There are also reporting requirements for taxpayers who will be required to submit a notification on controlled transactions. Notifications are to be submitted by May 20 of the year following the reporting calendar year.

CBC

In December 2017, Russia adopted the law on the tiered approach for transfer pricing documentation in accordance with OECD BEPS Action Plan 13.

This approach applies to multinational enterprises groups (MNE) with a consolidated income of or exceeding RUB 50 billion (US$808 million, €677) close to the €750 million threshold set out in BEPS Action 13.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Certain items of passive income (including dividends, royalties, interest) paid to a non-resident are generally subject to Russian withholding profits tax at a rate of 20% (15% for dividends).

Service fees

Generally, service fees are subject to profits tax in Russia if such fees are attributed to a permanent establishment of a foreign recipient in Russia.

Reduced tax rates or full protection from withholding tax can be available under an applicable double tax treaty.

Fees earned from rendering of services, which are physically provided from locations outside of Russia, are not deemed to be Russian-sourced. Accordingly, they are not subject to a 20% Russian profits tax at source, irrespective of availability of a relevant treaty.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

No capital duty or transfer tax is levied in Russia.

A legal entity that performs certain legal actions is required to pay a stamp duty. The list of such actions includes the following:

- State registration of a legal entity
• Registration of branches and representative offices of a foreign legal entity
• Registration of the title transfer in relation to real estate property
• The obtaining of a license to conduct certain activities
• Initiation of a court action and
• Notary services

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold personal income tax from income earned by their employees and make mandatory social insurance contributions which are tax deductible expenses at the level of the paying entity.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

E-commerce taxation

From January 1, 2019 foreign companies supplying e-commerce services to Russian customers, including private individuals and legal entities and individual entrepreneurs are obliged to:

• Register with the Russian tax authorities and
• Independently calculate and pay VAT on the value of so rendered services

The legislative changes extend to capturing not only B2C operations, as is the case under previously enacted rules, but also B2B e-commerce operations which are currently subjected to VAT taxation predominantly via a reverse-charge VAT mechanism.

SINGAPORE

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A company is resident in Singapore for income tax purposes if control and management of its business is exercised in Singapore.

In general terms, control and management of a company’s business is vested in its board of directors, and the place of control and management of the company is where the directors meet to make policy-level decisions for the company.

Singapore adopts a territorial basis of taxation, ie, only income accrued in or derived from Singapore, or received in Singapore from outside Singapore, is assessable to income tax in Singapore.

Income is assessed on a preceding year basis. For example, income derived in the financial year ended in 2017 will be assessable to income tax in the Year of Assessment (YA) 2018.

TAXABLE INCOME

Taxable income refers to:

- Gains or profits from any trade, business, profession or vocation
- Income from investment such as dividends, interest and rental
- Royalties, premiums and any other profits from property
- Other gains that are revenue in nature

Deductions such as business expenses, capital allowances (tax depreciation) and reliefs can be claimed to reduce taxable income, which leads to lower taxes.

TAX RATES
The current prevailing rate of corporate income tax is 17%. Partial exemptions are available in respect of the first S$300,000 of chargeable income, as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Chargeable income</th>
<th>Exemption available</th>
<th>Exempt amount ($)</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First S$10,000</td>
<td>75% exempt</td>
<td>7,500</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Next S$290,000</td>
<td>50% exempt</td>
<td>145,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Total exempt amount</td>
<td></td>
<td>152,500</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Full tax exemption on the first S$100,000 of normal chargeable income and a further 50% exemption on the next S$200,000 of normal chargeable income is available to new start-up companies, subject to certain conditions.

TAX COMPLIANCE

There are two major deadlines:

- Filing of the estimated chargeable income (ECI)

  A company carrying on business is required to file its ECI within 3 months after its financial year end. For example, the ECI in relation to the financial year ended on September 30, 2017 will be due for filing by December 31, 2017.

- Filing of the corporate income tax return (Form C)

  The Form C is due for filing by November 30 of the year following that in which the financial year ended. For example, the corporate income tax return in relation to the financial year ended on September 30, 2016 will be due for filing by November 30, 2017. The deadline will be extended to December 15 if the company files its Form C electronically.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.
Tax rulings

An advance ruling can be obtained from the Inland Revenue Authority of Singapore (IRAS) if a taxpayer wishes to seek clarity on certain issues that may arise from a proposed arrangement. The IRAS charges a fee for making such rulings.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for specific activities. These take the form of lower or zero tax rates being granted in respect of qualifying income for a specified number of years. Eligible companies (ie, those that meet the specified qualifying criteria) may apply for these incentives. Approval is granted at the discretion of the relevant authority. Further deductions are also available for certain R&D expenditure.

CONSOLIDATION

Singapore companies within the same group are required to file their corporate income tax returns separately.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL GAIN

There is no capital gains tax in Singapore.

DISTRIBUTIONS

A company may pay dividends to the extent it has distributable reserves. Such dividends are tax exempt to the shareholders.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Unabsorbed losses, capital allowances and donations may be:

- Carried forward indefinitely (except for donations which can only be carried forward for up to 5 years), provided that the shareholding composition of the shareholders and their respective shareholdings of the ultimate holding company remain substantially (ie, 50% or more) the same on the relevant dates. For utilization of unabsorbed capital allowances, there is an additional condition that the company must continue to carry on the same trade

- Carried back for set-off against income earned in the immediate preceding year, also subject to the substantial shareholders’ test being met

- Transferred to eligible related companies under the group relief system
TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Singapore resident companies may claim foreign tax credit for tax paid in a foreign jurisdiction against the Singapore tax payable on the same income.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TRANSFER PRICING

The arm’s length principle should be adopted for transfer pricing between related parties. Taxpayers should prepare and keep contemporaneous transfer pricing documentation to demonstrate that their related party transactions are conducted on an arm’s-length basis, if the value of transactions exceeds certain de minimis amounts.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc.

Withholding tax applies to royalties, interest and rents etc. paid to non-residents of Singapore, subject to reduction by an applicable income tax treaty.

Service fees

Withholding tax may apply to service fees if the services are performed in Singapore.

Dividends

No withholding tax.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Stamp duty is payable on dutiable documents relating to any immovable property in Singapore and any stocks or shares.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

An employer is required to file tax clearance for its foreign employees (ie, non-Singapore citizens including Singapore permanent residents) who:

- cease employment
- start an overseas posting or
- leave Singapore for more than 3 months

In particular, the employer must file the relevant form at least one month before the last date of employment, or the departure date, to report the employee's taxable remuneration. The employer must also withhold all monies due to the employee for 30 days unless otherwise notified by the IRAS.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

SOUTH AFRICA

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A company incorporated in South Africa (SA) will be treated as a tax resident, subject to an applicable treaty.

Resident corporates

A SA corporate resident is subject to SA tax on its worldwide income. A SA corporate resident is generally not subject to SA tax on the income of its foreign subsidiaries until it is repatriated, unless the Controlled Foreign Corporation (CFC) rules apply.

Foreign corporates

Foreign corporates generally are not subject to SA tax except on:

- income derived from a trade carried on through a permanent establishment in SA
- income derived from a source in SA and
- capital gains from the disposal of SA assets as contemplated in SA’s domestic legislation

Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Resident corporates

Taxable income of a resident corporate is equal to all gross income plus any deemed inclusions less applicable exemptions, deductions or allowances.

Foreign corporates

Foreign companies which operate through a branch or which have a permanent establishment within SA are subject to tax on all income from a source within SA. Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.
TAX RATES

The tax rate for resident and foreign corporate entities is 28%.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Resident and foreign companies are generally required to submit income tax returns within 12 months from the date on which the relevant financial year ends.

All companies (including foreign companies with a South African branch) are required to make provisional tax payments in respect to their SA tax liability. Provisional tax payments are advance tax payments in respect of income tax payable for the tax year and reflect as a credit against the income tax finally assessed.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Taxpayers can approach the South Africa Revenue Service (SARS) for a binding advance tax ruling. However, SARS will not give a binding ruling on certain issues (eg, transfer pricing, general anti-avoidance, matters of a factual nature, etc).

It is also possible to obtain non-binding opinions.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for specific activities, including R&D deductions, venture capital company contributions and special economic zones.

CONSOLIDATION

Companies may not elect to file corporate income tax returns on a consolidated basis and must file individually.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

In certain instances SA corporates can rely on participation exemptions for dividends received from or capital gains realised on the shares in foreign corporates.
CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gains tax (CGT) applies to a resident’s worldwide assets and in the case of a non-resident, to their immovable property or assets of a permanent establishment in SA.

CGT is triggered on the disposal or deemed disposal of an asset and is calculated as being the difference between the proceeds and the base cost of the asset. Assessed capital losses are carried-forward and may be set-off against capital gains in the following year of assessment.

Provision is made for exclusions and rebates, as well as rollover relief, where the gain made from a disposal is disregarded until ultimate disposal of the assets. The effective capital gains tax rate for corporates is 22.4%.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporate are generally treated as a dividend to shareholders, unless the board of a corporate entity determines that the distribution results in a reduction of contributed tax capital. A return in capital in excess of a shareholder’s tax base will normally be treated as a capital gain.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Net operating losses and assessed losses of a corporate can generally be carried forward indefinitely. However, a corporate will lose its right to carry forward an assessed loss to a subsequent year of assessment if it fails to carry on a trade during a specific year of assessment.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Qualifying corporate reorganisation, formations and dividends can be implemented on a tax-free basis, provided all of the requirements are satisfied. Limited rules apply for foreign corporate reorganisations.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

SA has complicated CFC Legislation. The aim of this legislation is now not only to prevent the avoidance of taxation on investment income, but also to prevent the avoidance of taxation on all foreign income and capital gains earned by a CFC. Where residents of SA holds more than 50% of the participation rights in a foreign company which is non-resident, the resident must include a proportional ownership percentage of the net income earned by the foreign company in their income (subject to various exclusions).

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Subject to certain limitations, foreign tax credits and deductions are available to SA residents on foreign taxes paid, either in terms of domestic legislation or applicable tax treaties.
SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

In 2013 South Africa introduced a special regime for real estate investment trusts (REIT). This new regime, currently only applicable to listed REITS, offers certain tax advantages to qualifying entities and provides certainty on the tax treatment of property loan stock companies, which previously did not exist in South Africa.

TRANSFER PRICING

Arm’s-length principles are generally applied under SA law for transactions between related parties. The SA rules follow the OECD guidelines.

SA is a signatory to the Multilateral Convention to Implement Tax Treaty Related Measures to Prevent Base Erosion and Profit Shifting.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividend, royalties, interest and foreign entertainment withholding taxes apply.

A 20% withholding tax applies to dividends whereas the other withholding taxes are imposed at a rate of 15%.

Withholding taxes may be reduced in terms of tax treaties.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

There is no capital or stamp duties. Transfer taxes are payable on the transfer of securities and properties.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers are required to deduct PAYE on all remuneration paid to employees, including directors, unless a tax deduction directive is issued by SARS. Fringe benefits are included in remuneration.

Employers may also be required to deduct and pay unemployment fund contributions and skills development levies.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Interest deduction limitations

In addition to any transfer pricing adjustments that may be applicable, SA has interest deduction limitation provisions, which can apply to loan funding obtained from a controlling foreign company not subject to tax in SA.

Interest deduction limitation rules also apply to certain reorganisation transactions.

Value-added tax
VAT is levied in SA at a standard rate of 14%. VAT is largely directed at the domestic consumption of goods and services and at goods and services imported into South Africa. The tax is designed to be paid mainly by the ultimate consumer or purchaser in South Africa.

Most business transactions carried out in South Africa are subject to VAT. The tax is collected by businesses, which are registered as vendors with SARS. A vendor is required to register for VAT if they made taxable supplies or have a written contractual obligation to make taxable supplies of more than R1 million during the relevant period. A vendor may register voluntarily in certain instances.

Foreign exchange controls

The Financial Surveillance Department (FSD) of the South African Reserve Bank imposes exchange controls on South African residents. Exchange control is not applicable to non-residents, but they need to comply with the notice requirements to the FSD in order to facilitate subsequent withdrawals of their capital from SA. Most commercial banks are authorised dealers of the FSD.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation formed in a ROK jurisdiction will be treated as a domestic corporation.

Domestic

Domestic corporations are obligated to pay corporate tax for all income generated domestically and in foreign countries.

Foreign

Foreign corporations are obligated to pay corporate tax for income from domestic sources.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Corporate tax for income from the business year is levied for taxable net income of businesses in each business year.

Foreign

Foreign corporations are subject to corporate tax at regular tax rates on a net income basis. A branch tax may be added on the corporate tax in accordance with the applicable tax treaty.

TAX RATES

The basic rate on corporate income tax starts at 10% with a top rate of 22%. Corporate local income tax equivalent to approximately 10% of the corporate tax is also imposed.

TAX COMPLIANCE
Corporate income tax returns must be filed for the taxable business activities of the corporations within 3 months from fiscal year end. An interim corporate income tax return should be filed within 2 months from the date of the entity’s mid-fiscal year.

Corporate local income tax return should be filed within a month from the due date of the corporate income tax return.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Every domestic corporation is subject to minimum tax. A corporation pays the greater of its regular tax liabilities or its minimum tax liability. Foreign corporations are subject to minimum tax on taxable income that is effectively connected with domestic source income.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays and incentives

For foreign investments that meet certain conditions (i.e., corporate tax, customs duties, etc.) are reduced or exempted in accordance with the Restriction of Special Taxation Act. Also, acquisition tax and property tax are reduced or exempted under local government ordinances mandated by the Restriction of Special Taxation Act. Such tax reduction continues up to the first 5 years and 50% for the following 2 years. The reduction rate is equal to the foreign investment ratio.

Tax rulings

No broad-based rulings are available. Taxpayers can request a clear ruling with regard to a specific transaction of a taxpayer’s business through the advance ruling system.

CONSOLIDATION

Eligible corporations that are affiliated (generally based on 100% stock ownership) may elect to file corporate income tax returns on a consolidated basis.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain or loss recognized by a corporation is included in corporate ordinary income or loss.
DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporation are treated as dividends to shareholders within the limit of the amount obtained by subtracting the amount of capital from the amount of net asset value on the balance sheet.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Net operating losses can be carried forward 10 years.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign tax credits are available for foreign taxes paid. A "deemed" foreign tax credit may be available for reduced taxes by tax treaties, and an "indirect" foreign tax credit also may be available for taxes paid by foreign subsidiaries on profits repatriated to domestic corporations.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

A land transaction is not subject to VAT (value added tax). Property tax varies on the type of real property.

TRANSFER PRICING

Where the price of an international transaction in which either party to the transaction is a foreign related party is lower or higher than the arm's length price, the tax authority may determine or rectify the tax base and tax amount of a resident (including a domestic corporation and a domestic place of business) based on the arm's length price.

WITHHOLDING TAX

The payer of interest, dividends, business income, other income, etc. should withhold taxes in accordance with their respective withholding tax rates. Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes when the income is paid to a foreign person.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX
Inheritance tax, gift tax, stamp tax, securities transaction tax and capital duty may be imposed at national tax level.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold wage income tax. Employers also must pay 4 compulsory social insurances which are pension, health, unemployment and industrial accident in respect of compensation paid to employees. These taxes are deductible by an employer for corporate income tax purposes.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Value added tax (VAT) is a tax levied on added value acquired in the process of the transaction of goods or the provision of services. VAT is imposed on value generated at each step of a transaction, and applies a VAT rate of 10%. Certain supplies are eligible for VAT zero-rating or VAT exemption. VAT zero-rating is the same as VAT exemption in that no VAT is charged. However, only VAT zero-rating allows input VAT deduction for VAT incurred in relation to the VAT zero-rating supplies. The VAT imposed on businesses is calculated by subtracting the input tax from the output tax.

Value added tax should be reported and paid every 6 months, and the taxable period of 6 months is divided into 3 months for a preliminary report.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation will be tax resident in Spain if:

- It has been registered under Spanish laws
- It is domiciled in Spain, or
- Its center of effective management is located in Spain

Domestic

A resident corporation is subject to Spanish tax on its worldwide income. A resident corporation generally is not subject to Spanish tax on the income of its foreign subsidiaries unless an anti-deferral provision applies (i.e., the CFC rules).

Foreign

Foreign corporations are not subject to Spanish tax except on:

- Income effectively connected with the conduct of Spanish trade or business
- Taxable income under the Spanish CFC rules, or
- “Look-through” entities

Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of a domestic corporation is equal to all net income less applicable deductions.
Foreign corporations operating in Spain through a permanent establishment (PE) are subject to Spanish tax at regular tax rates, as a general rule on a net income basis, with limitations on the deductibility of certain expenses (e.g., interest and royalties paid to the head office). Branch profits tax may also apply to income repatriated to a foreign entity.

TAX RATES

The general corporate income tax rate is 25%. Reduced tax rates of 20%, 15%, 10% and 1% are applied to certain corporations.

TAX COMPLIANCE

The return shall be submitted within 25 days following the next 6 months after the end of the fiscal year to which the return refers.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

No broad-based rulings are available. These rulings are binding for the Spanish Tax Authorities.

Tax incentives

There are several tax reliefs for the engagement in certain activities such as R&D credits, employment generation credits and incentives to the film industry.

CONSOLIDATION

Eligible corporations that are affiliated (generally based on at least 75% stock ownership or 70% stock ownership for listed companies and the majority of the voting rights) may elect to file corporate income tax returns on a consolidated basis. A Spanish tax resident corporation may also apply consolidation when the dominant company is tax resident in a foreign country, provided that it has legal personality, is taxed by a foreign tax identical or analogous to the Spanish Corporate Income Tax, and is not resident in a tax haven.
PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Spanish resident corporations are entitled to the application of the participation exemption on dividends and capital gain received from foreign or domestic subsidiaries provided the following conditions are met:

- Direct or indirect participation of at least 5% or €20 million acquisition value
- The participation shall be held during the previous fiscal year, and
- In the case of foreign subsidiaries, they shall be subject to corporate income tax in its country of residence similar to the Spanish Corporate Income Tax

This requirement will be satisfied when the foreign entity is subject to a Corporate Income Tax rate of at least 10% or the country of residence has signed a Double Tax Treaty with Spain which includes an information exchange clause.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain recognized by a corporation is taxed at the same rate as ordinary income (ie, 25%).

DISTRIBUTIONS

As a general rule distributions paid by a corporation are treated as dividends to shareholders to the extent of the current and accumulated earnings and profits. A distribution in excess is treated as a return on capital up to the limit of the shareholder's tax basis and thereafter is treated as taxable income.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Net operating losses (NOLs) can be carried forward with no time limit. However, the following limitations apply:

- Companies with net turnover in the previous fiscal year of less than €20 million can only offset NOLs up to the limit of 70% of the net taxable income
- Companies with net turnover in the previous fiscal year between €20 million and €60 million can only offset NOLs up to the limit of 50% of the net taxable income, and
- Companies with net turnover in the previous fiscal year of more than €60 million can only offset NOLs up to the limit of 25% of the net taxable income

Nevertheless, NOLs up to €1 million can be offset with no limit.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

A special Spanish tax regime is applied to corporate reorganizations such as mergers and spin-offs. This regime establishes a tax deferral scheme for these transactions.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Generally, CFC rules apply when a controlled entity resident outside of the EU is subject to a tax rate below 75% of the effective Spanish Corporate Income Tax rate and obtains certain passive income, which shall be allocated to the Spanish controlling entity.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

If the participation exemption does not apply, withholding taxes and underlying tax can be deducted, under certain rules.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TRANSFER PRICING

Arm’s-length principles generally are applied under Spanish law to transactions between related entities. The Spanish rules are in accordance with OECD guidelines.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

A 19% withholding tax applies to dividends and interest paid by a domestic corporation to a foreign person. Royalties are subject to a 24% withholding tax. These rates could be subject to reduction by an applicable Double Tax Treaty.

Under the EU Parent-Subsidiary Directive and the EU Interest and Royalties Directive, dividends and royalties paid to an associated company may qualify for an exemption. In addition, as a general rule, interest payments to EU residents are exempt from withholding tax in Spain.

Service fees

As a general rule, withholding tax only applies to service fees if the services are performed in Spain, provided that a double tax treaty does not apply.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

1% capital duty applies to share capital distributions and to dissolution of Spanish entities, to be paid by the shareholders.
Transfer tax is applicable on certain transactions, including the transfer of real estate and the lease of real estate exempt from VAT. Transfer tax is not recoverable and paid by the buyer or lessee.

Stamp duty is applicable to notarial deeds over a valuable right or asset which can be registered in a public registry, among other transactions, with rates generally ranging from 0.5% to 3% depending on the region and the transaction.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold income tax. Employers also must pay social security contributions. Social security contributions are deductible by the employer for Spanish income tax purposes.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

SWEDEN

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Domestic

Companies that are registered in Sweden or, if no registration is made, are domiciled in Sweden are regarded as unlimited tax liable in Sweden.

Foreign

Companies that are not considered unlimited tax liable in Sweden are treated as limited tax liable in Sweden.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

An unlimited tax liable company is taxed on its worldwide income. The taxable income is generally calculated as the total income reduced by the costs generated by the business.

Foreign

A limited tax liable company is taxed on income deriving from a permanent establishment in Sweden and real estate located in Sweden.

TAX RATES

The corporate income tax rate is 22%.

Note: Currently the Corporate Income Tax is 22%. It will likely be reduced to 21.4% according to a recent proposal likely to enter into force in January 2019. It will then be reduced further to 20.6% from 2021 according to the proposal.
TAX COMPLIANCE

Both unlimited and limited tax liable persons must submit an income tax return. The income tax return shall generally be submitted with the Swedish Tax Agency within six months after the end of the company’s financial year.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Companies may apply for a binding advance ruling concerning a specific tax question with the Swedish National Board of Advance Rulings. The Swedish Tax Agency also offers written tax guidance to a specific question.

Tax incentives

Key foreign employees may, during a three-year period, qualify for a 25% reduction of the taxable portion of their income when working in Sweden.

CONSOLIDATION

There is no possibility in Sweden for companies to file corporate income tax returns on a consolidated basis. However, companies belonging to the same group (which applies to share ownership of more than 90% of the shares) may exchange group contributions. A group contribution is deductible for the paying company and is taxable for the recipient company.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends and capital gain on business-related shares are tax exempt in Sweden.

Dividends and capital gain on unlisted shares in a Swedish company are normally considered business-related unless the shares are classified as current assets or inventory. Generally, the shares should be classified as capital assets. If the shares are listed, the shares must represent 10% or more of the voting rights in the company and the shares must have been business-related for a period of at least one year.

If the shares are held in a foreign company, the same requirements apply. However, the foreign company must also be regarded as the foreign equivalent of a Swedish limited liability company.
CAPITAL GAIN

Please see Participation exemption. If the participation exemption regime does not apply, the gain will be taxed at the ordinary corporate tax rate of 22%.

Note: Currently the Corporate Income Tax is 22%. It will likely be reduced to 21.4% according to a recent proposal likely to enter into force in January 2019. It will then be reduced further to 20.6% from 2021 according to the proposal.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporation to a shareholder are normally treated as dividends for tax purposes. A transfer of funds from a shareholder to a company will normally be treated as a conditional or unconditional shareholder's contribution.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Tax losses can be carried forward indefinitely. Changes in the ownership of a company with tax losses carried forward may result in the tax losses being permanently or temporarily restricted.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

It is possible to transfer assets or a business at tax book value without triggering exit taxation.

Mergers and demergers may also be carried out without triggering any adverse tax consequences.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

The controlled foreign corporation (CFC) rules state that a Swedish shareholder with a direct or indirect interest equal to at least 25% of the equity or voting rights in certain low taxed foreign legal entities is subject to immediate taxation on its proportionate share of the foreign legal entity's profits. A foreign company is considered low taxed if its income is taxed at a rate below 12.10%, calculated under Swedish rules.

Shareholders in companies resident in "approved" countries are, however, not subject to CFC taxation. Approved countries are included in a "white list," which is part of the Swedish income Tax Act.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign taxes paid on income subject to Swedish taxation can be credited under the Swedish tax credit system.
SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Stamp duty may be triggered on the sale of real estate. If the buyer is a legal person, the tax rate is 4.25% of the basis. The basis for the tax is the higher of the purchase price and the tax assessment value of the real estate. The buyer and the seller are equally liable to pay the tax, but contractually that liability is normally the buyer’s.

TRANSFER PRICING

The Swedish transfer pricing rules are based on the “arm’s-length” principle and the OECD guidelines. Documentation requirements apply to cross-border transactions with affiliated companies.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Under the general rule, a dividend payment to a foreign shareholder will be subject to 30% withholding tax. However, domestic law contains exemptions from withholding tax under certain conditions:

Exemption 1

Withholding tax should not be levied on a dividend payment to a legal person within the European Union if such person holds more than 10% of the shares in the paying company and fulfills the requirements in Article 2 of the Parent Subsidiary Directive.

Exemption 2

Withholding tax should not be levied on a dividend payment if the shares are unlisted or, if listed, the recipient holds at least 10% of the voting rights in the paying company. The recipient must also fulfill the definition of being a "foreign company" and be the foreign equivalent of a Swedish limited liability company. Further, in order for the exemption to apply, there is a requirement that the dividend payment should have been tax exempt under the participation exemption regime should the shareholder have been a Swedish limited liability company.

There is a new rule from January 1, 2016 in the Swedish Withholding Tax Act stating that dividends from a Swedish subsidiary to a foreign company should not be tax-exempt if certain conditions are met.

Sweden does not levy withholding tax on interest or royalty payments. However, royalty payments made to non-residents are deemed to derive from a Swedish business and are taxed as income from a permanent establishment in Sweden. Thus, the recipient is taxed in Sweden on the net royalty income at the ordinary corporate income tax rate of 22%. Sweden’s right to tax royalties may be reduced under an applicable tax treaty.

Service fees

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX
Stamp duty may be triggered on the sale of real estate. There is no stamp duty or similar on the sale of assets. Sweden does not have transfer tax.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers are obliged to pay employer's contributions at a rate of 31.42% of the total salary. Employers are also obliged to make tax deductions from the salary payments made to the employees.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Domestic

Corporate taxpayers are resident under Swiss domestic tax laws if either their statutory seat or effective management is in Switzerland.

Foreign

Non-resident companies may be subject to Swiss corporate taxation if they:

- Are partners of a business partnership in Switzerland
- Have a permanent establishment in Switzerland
- Own Swiss real estate
- Have claims secured by a mortgage on Swiss real estate, or
- Act as brokers for Swiss real estate

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Resident companies are subject to corporate income tax on their worldwide income with the exception of income attributable to foreign permanent establishments or foreign immovable property. Such income is excluded from the Swiss tax base and is only taken into account for rate progression purposes in cantons that still apply progressive tax rates.

Foreign

Non-resident companies are subject to tax only on Swiss source income (ie, income and capital gain derived from Swiss business partnerships, permanent establishments or immovable property), whereas income from immovable property includes income from trading in immovable property.

TAX RATES

Federal corporate income tax is levied at a flat rate of 8.50% on profits after tax (i.e., about 7.83% on profit before tax).

In addition, each canton has its own tax laws and levies cantonal and municipal corporate income taxes, generally imposed at flat rates.

As a general rule, the combined effective federal, cantonal and communal corporate income tax rate currently varies between 12% to 25% on profits before tax (depending on the canton and municipality).

For associations, foundations and other legal entities as well as collective investment vehicles lower rates might apply.

Equity tax is levied on a cantonal and communal level. The tax rates currently vary from 0.001% to 0.60%. On a federal level, no equity tax is levied.

TAX COMPLIANCE

All corporate taxpayers must file a tax return at the end of their fiscal year.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

In half of the cantons, instead of corporate income tax, a minimum tax is paid, provided such minimum tax exceeds the corporate income tax otherwise due. There are no minimum taxes on a federal level.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

On a federal level, the confederation may provide incentives by way of tax reductions to enterprises which establish themselves in certain areas of the country that are economically underdeveloped. In addition, federal aid may be granted as security on commercial loans or as a contribution to the payment of interest on such loans.

Tax incentives

On a cantonal level, business incentives may be granted for cantonal and communal income tax purposes in connection with new business activities in the canton. Business incentives may be obtained for creating a new presence which has particular economic interest for the canton. The new business activity also must not be in direct competition with existing local businesses. Lastly, and perhaps most importantly, business incentives are generally granted in connection with the creation of new local jobs. The number of jobs which need to be created to benefit from business incentives are generally quite low (e.g., beginning at 10 to 20 jobs in most cantons). Business incentives are obtained by negotiation with the competent cantonal authorities. Incentives may include up to a full or partial 10 year tax holiday on a cantonal/communal level as well as low interest loans on new buildings and easy access to work permits.

Tax rulings

Tax rulings are available for almost every aspect of taxation.

CONSOLIDATION

Switzerland does not have a tax consolidation system and hence separate entity taxation applies for income tax purposes. The Swiss VAT Act provides for group taxation for VAT purposes.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Participation exemption is a proportional reduction from corporate income tax equal to the net participation income divided by taxable income. Net participation income is defined as the gross participation income from qualifying dividends or qualifying capital gains less related administration and financing costs and any depreciation of the participation that is linked to the dividend distribution or capital gain. In general, participation exemption results in a full exemption of participation income.

Qualifying dividends are dividends from investments representing at least 10% of the share capital or 10% of profits and reserves of another company or having a market value of at least CHF 1 million. There is no requirement that the dividend-distributing subsidiary is liable to income tax in its jurisdiction.

Qualifying capital gains are generally entitled to participation exemption if the following conditions are cumulatively met:

- the investment sold was owned by the company for a period of at least 1 year and
- it constitutes at least 10% of the share capital or 10% of profits and reserves of the underlying subsidiary.

Note that capital gains are only entitled to participation exemption provided the sales price exceeds the original investment costs. Hence previous depreciations on investments might be taxable.

CAPITAL GAIN

There are no special rules applicable other than the above mentioned participation exemption rules and special rules in certain cantons for real estate capital gains.

DISTRIBUTIONS

A federal 35% dividend withholding tax is levied at the source on the gross amount of dividend distributions made by Swiss companies. These withholding taxes can be reclaimed or be exempted at source depending on the applicable treaty.
LOSS UTILIZATION

Unused losses can be carried forward seven years for corporate income tax purposes.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Provided certain prerequisites are met, reorganizations are possible on a tax-neutral basis, as long as the applicable tax accounting values of assets and liabilities remain the same and the assets remain taxable in Switzerland after reorganization.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Switzerland does not have anti-deferral rules such as controlled foreign corporation (CFC) rules. Note, however, that under recent Swiss court decisions, passive companies located in offshore jurisdictions have been treated as Swiss tax resident, resulting in taxation in Switzerland similar to CFC taxation.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Switzerland primarily applies the tax exemption method in its tax treaties. On certain income streams (dividend, interest and license fees), source tax may be credited against the tax levied in Switzerland.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Capital gain on Swiss immovable property is subject to a special cantonal real estate gains tax or to ordinary corporate income tax depending on the system that is applied in the canton where the immovable property is located.

Moreover, about half of the cantons levy a special wealth tax on real estate. This tax is due every year in addition to the general wealth tax. The tax is levied at the place where the property is situated and is assessed on the market or taxable value of the real estate without allowing for the deduction of debts. The applicable tax rates are between 0.02% and 0.30%.

TRANSFER PRICING

“Arm’s-length” principles generally apply. Switzerland uses the methods published in the OECD Transfer Pricing Guidelines and has no detailed transfer pricing legislation.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Swiss withholding tax is a federal tax levied on certain types of investment income from Swiss sources, including dividends and interest payments. Royalties, management fees and interest payments on certain loans are in general not subject to withholding tax. The withholding tax is levied at a flat 35% rate, subject to reduction under an income tax treaty.

Service fees

Service fees are not subject to withholding tax.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

The tax on issued securities (also called stamp issuance duty) is 1% of the amount received in consideration for the participation rights, but not less than the nominal share capital with exemption for the first CHF 1 million. This exemption is applicable for the establishment of corporations and for increases in capital up to CHF 1 million. The tax base is equal to the amount paid in exchange for the remittance of the shares (ie, the nominal value and capital surplus). Issuance stamp tax generally is not due on share issues related to mergers, demergers or similar transactions.

Transfer stamp tax is levied on the transfer of ownership of certain securities which involve Swiss securities dealers. Swiss securities dealers include banks, fund managers and similar entities, but also ordinary companies which own taxable securities (eg, shares or bonds) with a book value of more than CHF 10 million. The tax rate is 0.15% for Swiss securities and 0.30% for foreign securities. A variety of exemptions apply and these exemptions need to be checked on a case-by-case basis.

In most cantons, the transfer of real estate is subject to a conveyance tax, whereas on the federal level no taxes of such kind are levied. As a general rule, conveyance tax is assessed on the purchase price or the taxable value of the real estate and is typically paid by the purchaser of the real estate.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

All B-permit holders and foreign employees with no residence in Switzerland are taxed at source and the employers must withhold the income tax. All other individuals have to fill in a tax return and are subject to tax on their worldwide income if they have their permanent or temporary residence in Switzerland.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Special tax regimes

Due to pressure by the European Union and the OECD criticizing certain cantonal and federal tax regimes, Switzerland is currently reforming its corporate tax system (Corporate Tax Reform (CTR)). With the CTR the special tax regimes for holding, domiciliary, mixed and principal companies as well as the Swiss Finance Branch regime should be abolished in order to align the Swiss tax system with internationally accepted standards.

The outcome of the CTR is currently unclear but it is possible that the below tax regimes will be abolished in the coming years. Until implementation of such reform, currently, the following special tax regimes typically apply in Switzerland:
Holding companies

In general, holding companies whose main purpose is the administration of investments in other companies (subsidiaries in Switzerland or abroad) enjoy preferential tax treatment on both the cantonal and the federal tax levels. On a cantonal tax level, holding companies are generally exempt from any income tax on profits with the exception of income from Swiss real estate and they pay a reduced tax on equity. Even though the federal direct tax does not recognize the concept of a holding company, full or very substantial tax reductions are granted to qualifying dividend income and qualifying capital gain of holding companies under participation relief.

Mixed companies

Mixed companies usually provide services to other entities of the group abroad or to third party foreign companies. Currently, all cantons generally grant tax privileges to these companies.

A mixed company can only have a limited commercial activity in Switzerland. As a general rule, at least 80% of the income from its activities must be derived from non-Swiss sources and a maximum of 20% of income may be linked to Swiss sources (i.e., dealings with Swiss counterparties). Many cantons additionally require that at least 80% of a mixed company’s costs must be related to activities undertaken abroad.

Provided a company qualifies as a mixed company, it may apply for a tax ruling and is entitled to a treatment under which its foreign sourced income is only subject to a combined federal, cantonal and communal effective income tax rate of about 8% to 12%.

Income from Swiss sources is taxed at the normal rate. Certainly, a portion of foreign source income is subject to cantonal and municipal income taxes depending on the degree of business activity carried out in Switzerland.

Principal structures

Principal companies are companies which manage, by the means of subsidiaries and affiliates, trade transactions abroad on a commission basis and conclude production contracts with such companies.

The taxation of principal companies at the federal level takes place in accordance with Circular No. 8 of the Swiss Federal Tax Administration dated December, 18, 2001. A principal company based in Switzerland can allocate 50% of distribution profits to a deemed permanent establishment abroad. If the principal company also has production abroad, 30% of the company’s production profit would be attributed to the Swiss principal company and 50% of the remaining 70% of distribution profit would be attributed abroad.

At the cantonal level, principal companies are usually taxed as mixed companies.

These features can lead to an overall combined federal, cantonal and communal income tax below 10%.

Patent Box

The Canton Nidwalden, as the first canton in Switzerland, implemented a "patent box" regime on January 1, 2011, which provides that a company having a certain degree of local substance that manages its IP rights and grants licenses under certain conditions may be subject to income tax at an overall effective tax rate of 8.80% (including federal tax). The definition of "qualifying income" for the patent box regime of Canton Nidwalden is based on the OECD definition.

TAIWAN

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A company (including a subsidiary of a foreign company) formed in Taiwan will be treated as a Taiwan company.

Domestic

A Taiwan company is subject to Taiwan income tax on its worldwide income.

Foreign

A company with its head office outside Taiwan (including a foreign company with a branch office in Taiwan) is considered a foreign company for tax purposes, though the Taiwan branch itself is considered as a domestic profit-seeking enterprise.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

The taxable income of a domestic company is its worldwide net income, which is defined as gross annual income less costs and expenses, losses and taxes.

Foreign

A foreign company is subject to income tax only on its Taiwan-source income, which is either computed in the same manner as a Taiwan company or subject to withholding tax at a prescribed rate.

TAX RATES

Income tax is assessed at a rate of 20% and the threshold for subjecting a Taiwan company to corporate income tax is NT$120,000.00 per annum.

TAX COMPLIANCE
A domestic company must file tax returns and pay any tax liabilities during the fifth month after the close of its fiscal year.

A domestic company must pay provisional income tax in an amount equal to 50% of the preceding year’s tax liability during the ninth month after the close of its fiscal year. However, if the company meets certain conditions, the company can opt to pay the provisional tax at an amount calculated on the basis of its operating income for the first six months of the current fiscal year.

Although Taiwan does not have a codified general anti-tax avoidance rule, Taiwan does employ the concept of substance-over-form, whereby the economic substance of a transaction will be considered.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

According to the Taiwan Income Basic Tax Act, a domestic company or a foreign company with a fixed place of business/permanent establishment or business agent in Taiwan (PE) is subject to a separate alternative minimum tax (AMT) if it earns certain income that is tax exempt or enjoys certain tax incentives and the company’s basic income exceeds NT$500,000.00. The AMT rate is 12%. If the company’s regular income tax is greater than the AMT, no special action is required. If the AMT tax liability is greater than the regular income tax, the company is required to calculate and pay AMT.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

A taxpayer may apply to the tax authorities for advance tax rulings to clarify its tax issue or confirm its tax position.

Tax incentives

Taiwan offers certain tax incentives in order to promote economic development in certain industries, especially in R&D investments. Certain tax incentives are provided to investors if they are located in prescribed areas such as science parks, bonded zones and free trade zones.

CONSOLIDATION

Consolidated returns may be filed by (i) a qualified financial holding company or (ii) a company which consummates a qualified merger, acquisition or spin-off transaction, that holds at least 90% of the total issued shares of its Taiwan subsidiary for 12 consecutive months during a tax year.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION
Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL GAIN

Taiwan does not impose a separate capital gain tax (ie, gains from the sale of securities and futures transactions are exempt from income tax). However, a domestic company or a foreign company with a PE in Taiwan is required to include any gains arising from securities and futures transactions in its AMT calculation in accordance with the Income Basic Tax Act.

A 5% profit retention tax is imposed on undistributed profits.

DISTRIBUTIONS

For resident individuals, the gross dividend received may at the election of such individual either

- be included in such individual’s taxable income, whereby 8.5% of such dividend income will be treated as deductible amount (the maximum deductible amount is NT$80,000 for each household) or

- be taxed separately on a flat rate of 28%, and excluded from such individual’s taxable income

For non-resident shareholders, dividends received are subject to 21% withholding tax, absent an available tax treaty for a reduced rate.

The dividends received by a domestic company from its investment in another domestic company are not included in the first-mentioned domestic company’s taxable income.

If a Taiwan company invests in foreign companies, dividends declared by such foreign companies must be included in the domestic company’s taxable income, but any foreign tax credits may be used.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Tax losses (for Taiwan companies and Taiwan branch offices of foreign companies) may be carried forward for 10 years if such company meets certain conditions. Losses may not be carried back.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Qualified M&A transactions may be afforded tax-free treatment according to the Business Mergers and Acquisitions Act.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

On 12 July 2016, the Taiwan government amended the Income Tax Act and introduced the controlled foreign company (CFC) and the criteria for determining a foreign company’s place of effective management (PEM) rules. However, the effective date of these new rules has not been announced by the Taiwan government.
FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

A foreign tax credit is available for income tax paid in other countries on income derived outside of Taiwan and may be used to offset the foreign tax paid against a Taiwan company’s tax liability.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

According to the Business Mergers and Acquisitions Act, stamp duty, deed tax, VAT and the Land Value Increment Tax are exempt under certain M&A transactions if they involve the sale and purchase of real property.

TRANSFER PRICING

Certain transactions between related parties (e.g., where there is direct or indirect “substantive management control,” material influence or control over a board of directors) must be conducted on “arm's-length” terms.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

In general, Taiwan-source dividends are subject to withholding tax at 21%, while other profit distributions, interest income, rental income and royalties earned by foreign companies are subject to withholding tax at 20%. However, Taiwan has entered into tax treaties with 32 countries, resulting in reduced tax rates.

Service fees

Service fees are normally subject to a 20% withholding tax if considered Taiwan-source income, though apportionment of fees (i.e., where only part of the service fees are Taiwan-source income) is possible. A company having its head office outside Taiwan which is engaged in technical services in Taiwan for which the costs and expenses are difficult to calculate may apply for approval to treat 15% of its total service fees as income derived in Taiwan, which if taxed at the 20% rate, would effectively reduce the tax rate to 3%.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

Capital Duty: A registration fee is charged on a company’s capital at a rate of NT$1.00 for every NT$4,000.00 capital.

Stamp Duty: Stamp duty applies to various documents at different rates.

Securities Transaction Tax: 0.30% on gross proceeds from the sale of shares issued by Taiwan companies and 0.10% on gross proceeds from trading in corporate and financial bonds (though temporarily exempt) and other securities.

Luxury Tax: The luxury tax is imposed on the sale of real property held for less than two years or import of passenger vehicles (exclusive of electric-powered vehicles), yachts, aircrafts, helicopters and light vehicles that cost www.dlapiperintelligence.com/goingglobal/more than NT$3 million.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

An employer must withhold income tax from its payment of salaries to its employees. Also, an employer is required to make partial payments of premiums for national health insurance for its employees, which include regular premium plus supplementary premium based on salaries and other payments to the employees.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Effective starting from May 1, 2017, a foreign enterprise, institution, group, or organization having no PE within Taiwan, but supplying electronic services to domestic individuals, with annual income derived from Taiwan that exceeds NT$480,000 shall be the taxpayer (the E-Services Provider) under the Taiwan Value-added and Non-value-added Business Tax Act, and shall apply by itself or appoint a Taiwan resident or an entity with a PE in Taiwan as its tax agent (the Tax Agent) for taxation registration and filing bi-monthly VAT returns and paying VAT.

On January 2, 2018, the Taiwan authority further introduced a ruling in regard to the income tax payable by the E-Services Provider, which applies retroactively from January 1, 2017. Under this ruling, the E-Services Provider will be required to report its Taiwan-source income and file annual income tax returns and pay income tax, either by itself or through the Tax Agent, in regard to revenues derived from domestic individuals, while income tax for business-to-business transactions will be withheld at source by the domestic business entities.

TURKEY

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A company will be treated as a Turkey resident if its legal seat or place of management is in Turkey.

Domestic

A resident company is subject to corporate tax on its worldwide income and gains.

Foreign

A non-resident company is subject to tax on its Turkish-sourced income.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income includes all profits arising from relevant income with the exception of applicable exemptions.

Foreign

Taxable income of a non-resident company includes

- fees professionally obtained in Turkey
- profits derived by enterprises conducting commercial, agricultural and/or industrial activities which have an establishment or a permanent representative in Turkey
- income derived from lease of real properties, movable properties and rights in Turkey
- securities income and
- other turnover (income) obtained from Turkey
TAX RATES

Standard corporate tax rate is 20%. It is calculated based on the fiscal profits on an annual basis.

TAX COMPLIANCE

A tax year in Turkey can be a calendar year or a fiscal year. Corporate tax returns are due and must be filed in 4th month (between the 1st and the 25th day) following the end of a company’s accounting period. The tax should be paid by the end of a month in which the tax return is due. Subject to approval by the Ministry of Finance, companies may choose to use a special accounting period.

Corporations are subject to pay an advance corporate tax to be offset against their ultimate tax liability. Advance tax is paid at 20% based on a corporation's quarterly profits and the ultimate liability of a corporation is determined by the annual corporate income tax return. Corporations are required to submit their advance corporate tax returns by the 2nd month (14th day of the month) after a relevant quarter which may be extended by the Ministry of Finance. Tax will become payable in the same month (17th day of the month).

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

It is possible for taxpayers to request an advance ruling on the tax treatment of specific transactions.

Tax incentives

There is a wide range of tax incentives for certain investments with incentive certificates. Reductions on corporate tax rates, governmental support for income tax for wages, exemptions on the value-added tax and customs duty as well as refund support on value-added tax are among those incentives. The said incentives may differ based on the relevant investments’ sector, scope and size.

CONSOLIDATION

Tax consolidation is not allowed under Turkish tax regime. Each company of a group must file a separate corporate tax return for itself.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION
A participation exemption is provided to dividends derived by resident companies from other Turkish companies. Dividends derived from non-residents may also benefit from participation exemption. Such dividends are exempt from tax provided that:

- at least 10% of the non-resident company’s paid-in capital is owned by the resident company for a period of at least 1 year from the receiving date of the dividend without any interruptions
- the non-resident company is incorporated as a joint stock company or a limited liability company
- the non-resident company is subject to a corporate tax with at least a 15% rate (20% in cases principal activity of the taxpayer is providing financing, including financial leasing, insurance or investment in marketable securities)
- the dividends are remitted to Turkey by the date the filing of the annual corporate tax return is due

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gains derived by all companies are generally taxable as ordinary income. However, if gains arising from the sale of a depreciable fixed asset is reinvested in a new fixed asset, such capital gain will not be subject to tax.

In case of a sale of the shares of a resident company by a non-resident company, capital gains arising from such transaction will be subject to corporate tax.

Capital gains derived from the disposal of shares will be exempted from corporate tax at a rate of 75% if the term of ownership is at least 2 years and the capital gain is in a special fund under shareholder’s equity for 5 years following the sale.

DISTRIBUTIONS

The rate of the withholding tax applicable for international holding companies' dividend distributions (based on the profits derived from their foreign participations) to non-resident companies are subject to a withholding tax rate is 7.5%.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Net operating losses can be carried forward for 5 years but cannot be carried back with the exception of the company’s liquidation.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES
Under the Turkish Controlled Foreign Company (CFC) rules, taxes paid by a foreign affiliate (such as income tax and corporate tax) can be set off against the taxation of the non-resident company's earnings.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign tax credits are available for foreign taxes paid, up to the amount of the corporate tax in Turkey attributable to the foreign income. The credits which are not used can be carried forward for 3 years. The limit for a foreign tax credit is a corporate tax attributable to foreign income in Turkey.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

The real property tax is calculated based on the relevant real property's value at different rates (e.g., 0.1% for lands and 0.2% for buildings). Square meter rates are determined based on location and are increased in large cities.

TRANSFER PRICING

Turkish tax regime generally adopts the "arm's-length" principles for transactions realized between related entities.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

A 15% withholding tax applies to dividends paid to the non-resident companies.

The rate applicable to the interest on loans paid to an international institution or a foreign bank with the status of a financial entity is 0%. However, interests on loans from other non-resident entities are subject to an applicable rate of 10%.

A 20% withholding tax applies to royalties, paid to a non-resident.

The rates mentioned above may be subject to reduction under an applicable tax treaty.

Service fees

Payments for professional services (e.g., technical assistance, consulting, design, supervision) are subject to a 20% withholding tax. This rate may be subject to reduction under an applicable tax treaty.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

No capital duty. Stamp duty is payable at rates ranging from 0.189% to 0.948% based on the relevant document's type.

Transfers of real estate are subject to a real estate transfer tax calculated at a rate of 4% of the transfer value. Such amount is split equally between the buyer and the seller.
EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers are obliged to withhold income tax at progressive income tax rates on salaries. The applicable rate is applied between 15% to 35%.

The general rate for the employers’ social security contribution is 20.5% while the social security contribution rate applicable for the employees is 14%. Employers and employees are also subject to unemployment benefit plan contributions based on the gross salary. Applicable rates for such contribution are 2% for employers and 1% for employees.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

An environmental tax is applied on places of business at fixed rates that change every year based on the determined categories.

Bank and insurance charges are subject to transaction tax at a general applicable rate of 5%.

UKRAINE

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

All companies incorporated in Ukraine are considered residents for corporate income tax purposes (incorporation principle).

Foreign companies as well as their representative offices registered in Ukraine are treated as non-residents for corporate income tax purposes.

Domestic

Residents are taxed on their worldwide income. Residents may also use some simplified tax regimes envisaging lower tax rates.

Foreign

Non-residents are taxed on Ukraine-sourced income. Permanent establishments of non-residents are taxed in part on profits attributable to their activities in Ukraine under local rules.

Double tax treaties can reduce or eliminate taxation provided relevant conditions envisaged therein are met.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of a resident is defined as profit calculated under local GAAP or IFRS (whichever is applicable) subject to adjustments envisaged in the Tax Code.

Generally, all expenses supported by primary source documents may be deducted upon computing of taxable income.

Foreign

Ukraine-sourced income of a non-resident generally consists of passive income paid by Ukrainian residents.
Where a non-resident has permanent establishment in Ukraine, profit attributable to such permanent establishment is calculated under one of the following methods:

- Under same rules applicable to Ukrainian residents (direct method)
- As total revenues of permanent establishment multiplied by 30% (so called indirect or deemed profitability method)
- Under separate balance sheet of non-resident approved with local Ukrainian tax authority (so called separate balance sheet method)

TAX RATES

Corporate income tax rate is 18%. Lower tax rates are applicable to income from insurance and gambling activities.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Quarterly tax returns must be submitted not later than the 40th calendar day following the end of reporting quarter. Yearly tax returns must be submitted not later than the 60th day following the end of reporting year.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

A 0% tax rate is applicable to small companies declaring gross annual income below UAH 3 million and that pay wages to each employee which exceeds two minimal statutory wages, under the following conditions:

- A company is newly established
- Such company declares gross annual income below UAH 3 million and has 5 – 20 employees on average for three consecutive years

Tax rulings

Tax rulings (tax consultations) are generally of two types:

- Generalized
- Individual
Generalized tax consultations are issued by the Ministry of Finance and provide guidance on most problematic issues.

Taxpayers can also request individual tax ruling that will be applicable to their individual case.

Taxpayers which act in accordance with generalized and/or individual tax ruling may not be imposed with sanctions. Tax consultations issued by tax authorities may be contested by a taxpayer in the court.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives envisaged for certain businesses (e.g., for companies established by organizations of disabled people and companies financed via international technical aid).

CONSOLIDATION

No consolidated tax returns are envisaged. Consolidated financial reporting is obligatory for certain groups.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Domestic dividends received from payers of Ukrainian corporate profit tax are exempt from taxation. Dividends received from non-residents are included in taxable income of Ukrainian companies.

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain is treated as a part of taxable income and is subject to standard 18% corporate income tax rate. The Tax Code provides for special adjustment of taxable profit in respect of capital gain.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Upon distribution of a dividend, a company may be required to pay advance corporate income tax on the dividend (ACIT) at 18% tax rate. ACIT is paid only if certain conditions are met and may further be credited against corporate income tax due for future periods.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Declared losses may be carried forward without limitations.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

A reorganization of a Ukrainian resident company is generally tax neutral. Tax attributes should also be generally transferable to successor entities within reorganizations.
ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

CFC

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

PFIC

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Upon availability of a valid and legalized certificate confirming payment of taxes abroad, such taxes can be credited against taxes due in Ukraine; however, the credit may not exceed the amount of domestic tax due.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Residents and non-residents pay property tax on real property that they own and on leased land. Reporting and payment of property tax is separate for land and real estate.

Property tax on land is set by local authorities depending on the type of land and its monetary evaluation. Tax on leased land is paid in the form of rent.

Property tax on real estate is established by local authorities as a fixed rate per one square metre of real estate.

TRANSFER PRICING

Ukrainian rules are based on OECD guidelines. Arm’s length principles are generally applied under Ukrainian tax law to qualifying controlled transactions.

The following transactions may be qualified as controlled:

- With related non-residents
- With non-resident commission agents
- With non-residents registered in "low-tax" jurisdictions (the list of such jurisdictions is approved by the government)
- With non-residents of certain legal organizational forms (e.g., pass-through entities such as UK LLP, Danish KS, etc.) which do not pay corporate income tax or are not tax residents in the country of incorporation (the list of legal forms is approved by the government)

WITHHOLDING TAX
Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Dividends, royalties, interest and rents paid to a non-resident are subject to standard 15% withholding tax unless relief is granted by relevant double tax treaty. Other rates are envisaged for certain types of income such as insurance payments, freight, etc.

Service fees

Generally service fees payable to non-residents are exempt from withholding tax. Exceptions are:

- Engineering fees, which are subject to 15% withholding tax (avoided under most double tax treaties in force for Ukraine)
- Advertising fees, which are subject to 20% withholding tax which is paid on top of income and at the expense of Ukrainian company (and is not relieved under double tax treaties)

 CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

State duty and pension duty are applicable to certain transactions such as the sale of real estate, vehicles and some other transactions.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers act as tax agents in relation to their employees and pay the following taxes:

- 18% of personal income tax is withheld from paid income
- 1.5% of military duty is withheld from paid income
- 22% of unified social contribution is paid on top of income at the cost of employer (subject to minimum and maximum caps)

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

A simplified taxation system is available for Ukrainian companies upon certain conditions and allows for payment of a single tax at the rate of 5% applied on turnover or 3% (if the company is a VAT payer).

UNITED ARAB EMIRATES

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Companies incorporated in the UAE are considered to be tax residents. For the application of any of the UAE’s Double Tax Treaties, a company can obtain a Tax Residency Certificate, provided it meets the relevant conditions.

TAXABLE INCOME

There is currently no federal UAE corporate income taxation. The existing income tax decrees at Emirate level (the UAE consists of seven Emirates, among which Abu Dhabi and Dubai) are not applied in practice.

Currently, income taxes are only imposed at Emirate level on the following:

- Oil and gas producing companies and
- Branches of foreign banks

Over the past years, there have been discussions to introduce corporate income tax at the UAE federal level although this has not yet materialized in any proposed legislation.

TAX RATES

Oil and gas producing companies pay tax in the form of royalties as per specific government concession agreements, which are confidential.

Branches of foreign banks are subject to income tax at a rate of 20%.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Only oil and gas producing companies and branches of foreign banks are required to register with the tax authorities and file tax returns.
ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

The UAE has a large number of Emirate instated Free Zones where the usual mainland foreign ownership restrictions do not apply. Entities registered in the Free Zones are not liable to pay tax at the Emirate level for a specific period. Free Zone entities may either be exempt from tax or subject to a 0% tax rate, depending on the regulations in the specific free zone.

CONSOLIDATION

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL GAIN

At present, there is no capital gains taxation in the UAE. For taxpaying entities (such as oil and gas producing companies), capital gains are taxed as part of business profits.

DISTRIBUTIONS

No specific tax rules apply in relation to distributions by UAE companies.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Branches of foreign banks are able to carry forward losses for a limited number of years, depending on the Emirate of establishment. For other companies, loss utilization is not applicable in the UAE.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.
FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TRANSFER PRICING

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

A Real Estate Transfer Fee (RETF) is applicable to transfer of real property at rates which differ per Emirate. In Dubai, the total RETF is 4% and is equally shared between seller and buyer. The rates in most other Emirates are lower than in Dubai.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Social security

Social security is only applicable to UAE and other GCC nationals (UAE and GCC passport holders).

End of service benefits

According to the UAE labor law, all employees who complete a period of continuous service that is longer than one year are entitled to a gratuity computed and accrued by employers according to either Emirate or Free Zone specific regulations.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Value Added Tax

The UAE introduced Value Added Tax (VAT) on January 1, 2018. The VAT regime is loosely based on the EU VAT system with a number of notable differences. The UAE VAT applies to most supplies of goods and services (including the import of goods and services). The standard VAT rate is 5%. For specific activities, a zero rate applies (such as on exports), whereas other activities may be exempt (such as financial services).
Customs Duty

The UAE is a member of the Gulf Cooperation Council’s (GCC) Customs Union, which is governed by the GCC Customs Law. The GCC Customs Union is based on the principle of a single entry point upon which all customs duty on foreign imported goods is collected. Under the GCC Customs Law, customs duties (if any) are levied over the customs value of the foreign imports (e.g., the Cost, Insurance and Freight (CIF) value).

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A company will be treated as a UK resident if it is formed in a UK jurisdiction or managed and controlled (at the board level) in the UK.

Domestic

A resident company is subject to UK corporate tax on its worldwide income and gains (subject to relief for any tax paid on the same income or gains in other jurisdictions). The company may elect to leave out of account all profits and losses arising from branches outside the UK.

Foreign

A non-resident company is not subject to UK tax except on:

- Income from a business carried on through a UK permanent establishment
- Other UK source income, but only to the extent of any withholding tax borne by that income (see Taxable income), and
- Capital gain on arising on disposals of certain UK assets only (see Capital gain)

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of a resident company is equal to all gross income and gains less applicable deductions.

Foreign

Taxable income of a non-resident company is equal to the gross income of the business carried on through the UK permanent establishment less any deductions applicable to that UK business.
TAX RATES

The standard corporate tax rate is 19%. It is proposed that this will be reduced to 18% with effect from April 1, 2020.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Corporate tax returns are due within 12 months of the end of a company’s accounting period, and the tax should be paid within 9 months of the end of that accounting period. UK companies can choose the date which marks the end of their accounting period, December 31 and March 31 are common, but any date can be chosen.

Larger companies are required to make quarterly payments in respect of corporate tax: the first payment is due 6 months and 13 days after the start of the company’s accounting period (based on an estimate of the year’s profits), and the final payment is due 3 months and 14 days after the end of the company’s accounting period.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

No broad-based rulings are available. On certain issues, taxpayers can request a private letter ruling that applies only to the specific issue.

Tax incentives

There are tax incentives for specific activities and behaviors, including R&D credits and enhanced deductions for expenditure on certain types of environmentally-friendly installations or for investment in economically deprived parts of the UK. The patent box regime will offer a reduced effective 10% rate of corporate tax for income from certain IP which is developed or managed in the UK.

CONSOLIDATION

Eligible corporations may enter into a "group payment arrangement," whereby one company makes itself responsible for administering the corporate tax affairs of all members of the group. However, all UK companies are required to file separate corporate tax returns and calculate their respective liabilities separately.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION
Almost all dividends received from foreign subsidiaries are exempt from corporate tax except where anti-avoidance legislation applies. Capital gain recognized on the sale of shares in foreign or UK subsidiaries are exempt from tax provided that:

- The subsidiary is a trading company (ie, one whose income is substantially derived from activities other than passive investment) or the holding company of a trading sub-group, and
- The selling company has held the shares in the subsidiary for at least 12 months in the last 2 years

CAPITAL GAIN

Capital gain recognized by a company is taxed at the same rate as ordinary income. Capital loss may reduce capital gain but not ordinary income. Certain types of profits and losses – those from debt and intellectual property – are always treated as income under special regimes which reflect the accounting treatment of those types of assets.

Capital gain realized by non-residents are not taxed in the UK, even if they arise on the disposal of UK assets, unless:

- The asset is used for the purpose of a trade carried on by the realizer through a UK permanent establishment, or
- The asset comprises an interest in UK residential property which is subject to non-resident capital gains tax (NRCGT)

The Government has announced that it intends to tax gains recognized by non-residents on the disposal of all types of UK real estate from April 2019.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a UK company are generally treated as dividends to shareholders. UK company law forbids distributions which exceed accumulated realized profits and restricts a company’s ability to repay capital, which generally requires a court order. A return of capital to shareholders is therefore unusual in the UK.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Net operating losses can be carried forward indefinitely and can be carried back 1 year (or in certain limited circumstances up to 3 years). Losses can also be surrendered between group companies (provided, in the case of losses arising prior to April 2017, that they are utilized in the year in which they arose). However the use of carried forward losses is limited to the first £5 million of taxable profit (per group) plus 50% of profits in excess of £5 million.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Many forms of group reorganization can be achieved on a tax-free basis, due to a combination of reliefs, principally an automatic deferral of corporate tax on transfers of capital assets (including shares) between two UK resident group companies, and relief where shares are transferred in consideration of an issue to the transferor of shares or loan notes in the transferee.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

Under the UK controlled foreign company (CFC) rules, a UK resident company may be taxed on the income of its foreign subsidiary. The scope of these rules is intended to be limited to situations where UK-source income has been artificially diverted into an overseas, low tax jurisdiction, particularly tax havens.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Subject to limitations, foreign tax credits are available for foreign taxes paid. In the relatively rare situations where dividends received from overseas subsidiaries are not completely exempt from UK corporate tax, the amount of tax payable on the dividend will be subject to a credit for foreign tax paid or withheld by the subsidiaries (subject to a cap to combat certain avoidance structures).

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

An additional annual tax charge (the annual tax on enveloped dwellings or ATED) is made on companies which own or control residential property of more than £500,000 in value. Various exemptions apply to companies which develop, lease or trade property or use the property for other business purposes which should have the effect of restricting the charge to companies which are used to avoid tax on the private homes of high net worth individuals. The amount of the charge varies from £3,500 to £220,350 according to the value band into which the house falls. Certain capital gain incurred by such companies on the sale of high value residential property is also subject to ATED-related capital gains tax at 28%. NRCGT may also be chargeable on any gains on residential property held by a non-UK tax resident (at rates of either 18% or 28% for individuals or 20% for companies). Where the property is subject to both ATED-related CGT and NRCGT, ATED-related CGT will take precedence, with any excess gains being charged to NRCGT.

TRANSFER PRICING

Arm’s-length principles generally are applied under UK law to transactions between related entities. The UK rules generally follow OECD principles.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

There are no withholding taxes on dividends paid by a UK company to any shareholder.

A 20% withholding tax applies to royalties, yearly interest and rents paid by a UK resident company to a non-resident person who is not a corporate taxpayer, subject to reduction under an applicable income tax treaty.
It is frequently possible to structure loan arrangements so that payments equivalent to interest fall outside the definition of yearly interest (such as the use of discounted bonds). Interest payable on a loan instrument listed on a recognized stock exchange is not subject to any withholding.

Service fees

Certain payments for construction services provided in the UK are subject to a form of withholding tax at either 30% or 20% unless the party providing the service is registered for gross payment.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

No capital duty. Stamp duty is payable at 0.50% on transfers of shares, but there is an exemption for most transactions within groups, and for transfers of shares in companies which are listed on the London Stock Exchange’s Alternative Investment Market (AIM).

Transfers of real estate within the UK are subject to a transfer tax, however, the specific tax and the applicable rate depends upon which part of the country the real estate is situated in.

England and Northern Ireland (SDLT) – if the property is situated in England or Northern Ireland, rates of up to 5% apply on the transfer of non-residential property. Higher graduated rates apply to the transfer of residential property of up to 12%, where the value of the property exceeds £1,500,000 and a punitive 15% rate can apply to certain acquisitions of residential property by corporate entities. Higher rates of SDLT also apply to purchases of additional residential properties (3% above the normal graduated rates of SDLT).

Scotland (LBTT) – if the property is situated in Scotland, rates of up to 4.5% apply for non-residential property and higher graduated rates apply to the transfer of residential property of up to 12%, where the value of the property exceeds £750,000. There is no punitive or additional rate of LBTT in Scotland.

Wales (LTT) – if the property is situated in Wales, rates of up to 6% apply for non-residential property and higher graduated rates apply to the transfer of residential property of up to 12%, where the value of the property exceeds £1,500,000. There is no punitive or additional rate of LTT in Wales.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold income tax (ie pay as you earn or PAYE) and a social security tax (ie, primary national insurance contributions). Employers must also pay secondary national insurance contributions. Secondary contributions are deductible by an employer for UK corporate tax purposes, but it is not permitted to recover them from the employee. There are no withholding obligations at a local level in the UK.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

A corporation formed in a US jurisdiction will be treated as a domestic corporation.

Domestic

A domestic corporation is subject to a modified territorial tax regime on US-source income and certain earnings related foreign entities. For tax years beginning in 2018, a domestic corporation is generally not subject to tax on income of its foreign subsidiaries unless the global intangible low-taxed income (GILTI), or another anti-deferral provision applies (ie, the CFC or PFIC rules).

Foreign

Foreign corporations generally are not subject to US tax except on

- income effectively connected with the conduct of a US trade or business and

- certain FDAP (fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits and income, which is generally passive) income from US sources

Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

Taxable income of a domestic corporation is equal to all gross income less applicable deductions.

Foreign

Effectively connected income is subject to US tax at regular tax rates on a net income basis. In addition, a branch profits tax at a rate of 30% may apply to foreign corporations operating through a branch in the US. Gross FDAP income is taxed at a flat 30% rate and cannot be reduced by deductions. Tax treaties can reduce or eliminate these taxes.
TAX RATES

Flat federal corporate income tax rate of 21%. State and local taxes also may apply.

TAX COMPLIANCE

Domestic corporate income tax returns are due on the 15th day of the fourth month after the end of the tax year. A taxpayer may also file for a six-month extension of the due date.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

The corporate alternative minimum tax is repealed for tax years beginning after 2017.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Industry Issue Resolution may be requested to provide generally applicable guidance on frequently disputed or burdensome business tax issues affecting a significant number of taxpayers. Pre-Filing Agreements may be requested by a taxpayer for a transaction already executed, prior to filing the applicable year's tax return. Advance Pricing Agreements may be available to address transfer pricing on future transactions between related parties. A taxpayer may also request a Private Letter Ruling for guidance on specific issues as to that specific taxpayer.

Tax incentives

Tax incentives exist for specific activities, and include R&D credits and deductions for certain US production activities. US corporate taxpayers earning foreign-derived intangible income (FDII) may qualify for a reduced effective tax rate on such income. Property acquired and placed in service may qualify for 100% bonus depreciation deduction in the year of acquisition.

CONSOLIDATION

Eligible corporations that are affiliated (generally based on at least 80% stock ownership) may elect to file corporate income tax returns on a consolidated basis.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends received from foreign corporations may qualify for a 100% participation exemption, subject to ownership and holding period requirements. Dividends received from domestic corporations may qualify for a dividends received deduction, subject to ownership requirements.

CAPITAL GAIN

Long-term capital gain of non-corporate tax payers may be eligible for reduced tax rates. Capital gain recognized by a corporation is taxed at the same rate as ordinary income. Capital loss may reduce capital gain but not ordinary income.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporation are treated as dividends to shareholders to the extent of the current and accumulated earnings and profits (E&P) of the payor corporation. A distribution in excess of current and accumulated E&P is treated as a return of capital to the extent of a shareholder’s tax basis and thereafter is treated as capital gain.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Net operating losses arising in tax years beginning before 2018 may offset 100% of taxable income, and may be carried back two years or forward 20 years. Net operating losses arising in tax years beginning 2018 or later may offset up to 80% of taxable income in the year applied, with excess losses carried forward indefinitely.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

Qualifying corporate formations, combinations and divisions may be tax-free to a participating corporation and its shareholders, except to the extent of any non-qualifying property received (ie, "boot"). Special rules apply to cross-border reorganizations.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

CFC

Under the controlled foreign corporation (CFC) rules, a domestic corporation may be subject to tax on a current basis on Subpart F income of a foreign subsidiary. A domestic corporation may also be subject to tax on a current basis on the GILTI income of a foreign subsidiary.

PFIC

Under the passive foreign investment company (PFIC) rules, a foreign corporation may be treated as a PFIC if the percentage of its gross income or assets that are treated as passive exceeds certain thresholds. A shareholder of a PFIC may be subject to current US tax and other unfavorable tax consequences on gain from the sale of PFIC stock and on certain distributions from a PFIC.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS
Subject to limitations, foreign tax credits may be available for foreign taxes paid. An "indirect" foreign tax credit may be available to domestic corporations for taxes paid by on Subpart F income or GILTI income or distributions of previously taxed income.

SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Under the Foreign investment in Real Property Act (FIRPTA), any gain recognized by a foreign person on a disposition of stock of a domestic corporation that is treated as a United States Real Property Holding Corporation may be taxable as effectively connected income, taxable on a net income basis at regular US income tax rates.

TRANSFER PRICING

Arm's-length principles generally are applied under US law to transactions between related entities. The US rules are similar in many respects to the OECD guidelines, with certain material differences.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

A 30% withholding tax applies to dividends, royalties, interest, rents and other FDAP income paid by a domestic corporation to a foreign person, subject to reduction or elimination by an applicable income tax treaty.

Service fees

Withholding tax may apply to service fees paid to a foreign person if the services are performed in the United States.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX

There is no capital duty. Stamp duties and transfer taxes may be imposed at the state or local level.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers must withhold federal income tax. Employers also must pay social security tax, unemployment tax and Medicare tax in respect of compensation paid to employees. These taxes are deductible by an employer for US income tax purposes. Other withholding obligations and taxes may apply at the state or local level.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.
