SWEDEN

RESIDENCE AND BASIS FOR TAXATION

Domestic

Companies that are registered in Sweden or, if no registration is made, are domiciled in Sweden are regarded as unlimited tax liable in Sweden.

Foreign

Companies that are not considered unlimited tax liable in Sweden are treated as limited tax liable in Sweden.

TAXABLE INCOME

Domestic

An unlimited tax liable company is taxed on its worldwide income. The taxable income is generally calculated as the total income reduced by the costs generated by the business.

Foreign

A limited tax liable company is taxed on income deriving from a permanent establishment in Sweden and real estate located in Sweden.

TAX RATES

The corporate income tax rate is 22%.

Note: Currently the Corporate Income Tax is 22%. It will likely be reduced to 21.4% according to a recent proposal likely to enter into force in January 2019. It will then be reduced further to 20.6% from 2021 according to the proposal.
TAX COMPLIANCE

Both unlimited and limited tax liable persons must submit an income tax return. The income tax return shall generally be submitted with the Swedish Tax Agency within six months after the end of the company’s financial year.

ALTERNATIVE MINIMUM TAX

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

TAX HOLIDAYS, RULINGS AND INCENTIVES

Tax holidays

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

Tax rulings

Companies may apply for a binding advance ruling concerning a specific tax question with the Swedish National Board of Advance Rulings. The Swedish Tax Agency also offers written tax guidance to a specific question.

Tax incentives

Key foreign employees may, during a three-year period, qualify for a 25% reduction of the taxable portion of their income when working in Sweden.

CONSOLIDATION

There is no possibility in Sweden for companies to file corporate income tax returns on a consolidated basis. However, companies belonging to the same group (which applies to share ownership of more than 90% of the shares) may exchange group contributions. A group contribution is deductible for the paying company and is taxable for the recipient company.

PARTICIPATION EXEMPTION

Dividends and capital gain on business-related shares are tax exempt in Sweden.

Dividends and capital gain on unlisted shares in a Swedish company are normally considered business-related unless the shares are classified as current assets or inventory. Generally, the shares should be classified as capital assets. If the shares are listed, the shares must represent 10% or more of the voting rights in the company and the shares must have been business-related for a period of at least one year.

If the shares are held in a foreign company, the same requirements apply. However, the foreign company must also be regarded as the foreign equivalent of a Swedish limited liability company.
CAPITAL GAIN

Please see Participation exemption. If the participation exemption regime does not apply, the gain will be taxed at the ordinary corporate tax rate of 22%.

Note: Currently the Corporate Income Tax is 22%. It will likely be reduced to 21.4% according to a recent proposal likely to enter into force in January 2019. It will then be reduced further to 20.6% from 2021 according to the proposal.

DISTRIBUTIONS

Distributions paid by a corporation to a shareholder are normally treated as dividends for tax purposes. A transfer of funds from a shareholder to a company will normally be treated as a conditional or unconditional shareholder's contribution.

LOSS UTILIZATION

Tax losses can be carried forward indefinitely. Changes in the ownership of a company with tax losses carried forward may result in the tax losses being permanently or temporarily restricted.

TAX-FREE REORGANIZATIONS

It is possible to transfer assets or a business at tax book value without triggering exit taxation.

Mergers and demergers may also be carried out without triggering any adverse tax consequences.

ANTI-DEFERRAL RULES

The controlled foreign corporation (CFC) rules state that a Swedish shareholder with a direct or indirect interest equal to at least 25% of the equity or voting rights in certain low taxed foreign legal entities is subject to immediate taxation on its proportionate share of the foreign legal entity's profits. A foreign company is considered low taxed if its income is taxed at a rate below 12.10%, calculated under Swedish rules.

Shareholders in companies resident in "approved" countries are, however, not subject to CFC taxation. Approved countries are included in a "white list," which is part of the Swedish income Tax Act.

FOREIGN TAX CREDITS

Foreign taxes paid on income subject to Swedish taxation can be credited under the Swedish tax credit system.
SPECIAL RULES APPLICABLE TO REAL PROPERTY

Stamp duty may be triggered on the sale of real estate. If the buyer is a legal person, the tax rate is 4.25% of the basis. The basis for the tax is the higher of the purchase price and the tax assessment value of the real estate. The buyer and the seller are equally liable to pay the tax, but contractually that liability is normally the buyer’s.

TRANSFER PRICING

The Swedish transfer pricing rules are based on the “arm’s-length” principle and the OECD guidelines. Documentation requirements apply to cross-border transactions with affiliated companies.

WITHHOLDING TAX

Dividends, royalties, interest, rents, etc

Under the general rule, a dividend payment to a foreign shareholder will be subject to 30% withholding tax. However, domestic law contains exemptions from withholding tax under certain conditions:

Exemption 1

Withholding tax should not be levied on a dividend payment to a legal person within the European Union if such person holds more than 10% of the shares in the paying company and fulfills the requirements in Article 2 of the Parent Subsidiary Directive.

Exemption 2

Withholding tax should not be levied on a dividend payment if the shares are unlisted or, if listed, the recipient holds at least 10% of the voting rights in the paying company. The recipient must also fulfill the definition of being a "foreign company" and be the foreign equivalent of a Swedish limited liability company. Further, in order for the exemption to apply, there is a requirement that the dividend payment should have been tax exempt under the participation exemption regime should the shareholder have been a Swedish limited liability company.

There is a new rule from January 1, 2016 in the Swedish Withholding Tax Act stating that dividends from a Swedish subsidiary to a foreign company should not be tax-exempt if certain conditions are met.

Sweden does not levy withholding tax on interest or royalty payments. However, royalty payments made to non-residents are deemed to derive from a Swedish business and are taxed as income from a permanent establishment in Sweden. Thus, the recipient is taxed in Sweden on the net royalty income at the ordinary corporate income tax rate of 22%. Sweden’s right to tax royalties may be reduced under an applicable tax treaty.

Service fees

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.

CAPITAL DUTY, STAMP DUTY AND TRANSFER TAX
 Stamp duty may be triggered on the sale of real estate. There is no stamp duty or similar on the sale of assets. Sweden does not have transfer tax.

EMPLOYMENT TAXES

Employers are obliged to pay employer’s contributions at a rate of 31.42% of the total salary. Employers are also obliged to make tax deductions from the salary payments made to the employees.

OTHER TAX CONSIDERATIONS

Not applicable for this jurisdiction.
